Managerial Accounting and Cost Concepts

Questions

1-1 The three major types of product costs in a manufacturing company are direct materials, direct labor, and manufacturing overhead.

1-2

- a. Direct materials are an integral part of a finished product and their costs can be conveniently traced to it.
- b. Indirect materials are generally small items of material such as glue and nails. They may be an integral part of a finished product but their costs can be traced to the product only at great cost or inconvenience.
- c. Direct labor consists of labor costs that can be easily traced to particular products. Direct labor is also called "touch labor."
- d. Indirect labor consists of the labor costs of janitors, supervisors, materials handlers, and other factory workers that cannot be conveniently traced to particular products. These labor costs are incurred to support production, but the workers involved do not directly work on the product.
- e. Manufacturing overhead includes all manufacturing costs except direct materials and direct labor. Consequently, manufacturing overhead includes indirect materials and indirect labor as well as other manufacturing costs.

1-3 A product cost is any cost involved in purchasing or manufacturing goods. In the case of manufactured goods, these costs consist of direct materials, direct labor, and manufacturing overhead. A period cost is a cost that is taken directly to the income statement as an expense in the period in which it is incurred.

1-4

- a. Variable cost: The variable cost per unit is constant, but total variable cost changes in direct proportion to changes in volume.
- b. Fixed cost: The total fixed cost is constant within the relevant range. The average fixed cost per unit varies inversely with changes in volume.
- c. Mixed cost: A mixed cost contains both variable and fixed cost elements.

1-5

- a. Unit fixed costs decrease as the activity level increases.
- b. Unit variable costs remain constant as the activity level increases.
- c. Total fixed costs remain constant as the activity level increases.
- d. Total variable costs increase as the activity level increases.

1-6

- a. Cost behavior: Cost behavior refers to the way in which costs change in response to changes in a measure of activity such as sales volume, production volume, or orders processed.

Management and Cost Accounting Andreas Taschner, Michel Charifzadeh, 2020-09-01 Management and cost accounting has been the basic toolbox in business administration for decades Today it is an integral part of all curricula in business education and no student can afford not to be familiar with its basic concepts and instruments At the same time business in general and management accounting in particular is becoming more and more international English clearly has evolved as the lingua franca of international business Academics students as well as practitioners exchange their views and ideas discuss concepts and communicate with each other in English This is certainly also true for cost accounting and management accounting Management Accounting is becoming increasingly international Management and Cost Accounting is a new English language textbook covering concepts and instruments of cost and management accounting at an introductory level Bachelor but also suited for MBA courses due to strong focus on practical applications and cases This textbook covers all topics that are relevant in management accounting in business organizations and that are typically covered in German and Central European Bachelor classes on cost accounting and management accounting After an introduction to the topic including major differences between the German approach and the purely Anglo Saxon approach of management accounting the book describes different cost terms and concepts applied in German cost accounting The book is much more specific here compared to US American standard textbooks Based on different cost concepts the topic of cost behavior is discussed including the determination of cost functions The heart of the book guides the reader through the general structure of a fully developed cost accounting system following the German and Central European standard It starts with cost type accounting moves on to cost center accounting and finally deals with cost unit accounting assigning cost to goods and services offered in the market The remaining parts of the book deal with decision making and how management and cost accounting data can support managers in this task A comparison of absorption costing and variable costing introduces the reader to management decisions such as product portfolio and outsourcing decisions Additionally cost volume profit analysis break even analysis is covered The book closes with a comprehensive treatment of cost planning and variance analysis

The Marketing / Accounting Interface Robin Roslender, Richard M.S. Wilson, 2013-09-13 When marketing managers and financial managers join forces within any business the result can often be poor communication on financial criteria and goals The risk of this situation occurring is inevitably present when those with different professional backgrounds and roles are working in accordance with their own norms In his seminal 1956 paper on general systems theory the economist Kenneth Boulding referred to the phenomenon of specialised ears and generalised deafness which can be seen to exist when marketing managers are financially illiterate or when financial managers lack the necessary insights to design implement and operate accounting systems which are useful to marketing managers in carrying out their roles It is increasingly difficult to attach credence to the idea of marketing managers who lack financial skills or financial managers who fail to relate to the context in which marketing managers operate Understanding the marketing accounting interface is therefore important in generating emergent properties from the interaction of marketers and accountants whereby the whole is greater than the sum of the parts The chapters in this volume seek to address this challenge This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Marketing Management
