Divinanimality Stephen D. Moore, 2014-09-15 A turn to the animal is underway in the humanities most obviously in such fields as philosophy literary studies cultural studies and religious studies One important catalyst for this development has been the remarkable body of animal theory issuing from such thinkers as Jacques Derrida and Donna Haraway What might the resulting interdisciplinary field commonly termed animality studies mean for theology biblical studies and other cognate disciplines Is it possible to move from animal theory to creaturely theology This volume is the first full length attempt to grapple centrally with these questions It attempts to triangulate philosophical and theoretical reflections on animality and humanity with theological reflections on divinity If the animal human distinction is being rethought and retheorized as never before then the animal human divine distinctions need to be rethought retheorized and retheologized along with it This is the task that the multidisciplinary team of theologians biblical scholars philosophers and historians assembled in this volume collectively undertakes They do so frequently with recourse to Derrida s animal philosophy and also with recourse to an eclectic range of other relevant thinkers such as Haraway Giorgio Agamben Emmanuel Levinas Gloria Anzaldua Helene Cixous A N Whitehead and Lynn White Jr The result is a volume that will be essential reading for religious studies audiences interested in ecological issues animality studies and posthumanism as well as for animality studies audiences interested in how constructions of the divine have informed constructions of the nonhuman animal through history
