The Making Of A Fringe Candidate 199:

The Making of the Presidential Candidates 2008 William G. Mayer, 2008 Discusses the presidential election process with eight chapters that cover such topics as how television covers the nomination process the origins of the presidential selection process and nomination finance in the post Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act era The African American Experience Arvarh E. Strickland, Robert E. Weems Jr., 2000-11-30 Compared to the early decades of the 20th century when scholarly writing on African Americans was limited to a few titles on slavery Reconstruction and African American migration the last thirty years have witnessed an explosion of works on the African American experience With the Civil Rights and Black Power movements of the 1960s came an increasing demand for the study and teaching of African American history followed by the publication of increasing numbers of titles on African American life and history This volume provides a comprehensive bibliographical and analytical guide to this growing body of literature as well as an analysis of how the study of African Americans has changed Televised Presidential Debates and Public Policy Sidney Kraus, 2013-10-11 With this second edition Kraus continues his examination of formal presidential debates considering the experience of television in presidential elections reviewing what has been learned about televised debates and evaluating that knowledge in the context of the election process specifically and the political process generally He also examines the media and the role they occupy in presidential elections Because critics often refer to the Lincoln Douglas debates when reproaching presidential debates comparisons of the two are discussed throughout the book Much of the data and information for this accounting of televised presidential debates comes from the author's first hand experience as one who was involved with these debates as a participant observer on site at nearly all of the debates discussed Throughout these discussions emphasis is placed on the implications for public policy To suggest policy that will be accepted and adopted by politicians and the public is at best difficult Proposals for changes in public policy based on experience even when scientific data support those changes must be subjected to an assessment of the values and predispositions of the proponent These values and predispositions however may not necessarily inhibit the proponent's objectivity As such this review of television use in the presidential election process provides the context for examining televised debates Digital Kenya Bitange Ndemo, Tim Weiss, 2016-11-18 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license Presenting rigorous and original research this volume offers key insights into the historical cultural social economic and political forces at play in the creation of world class ICT innovations in Kenya Following the arrival of fiber optic cables in 2009 Digital Kenya examines why the initial entrepreneurial spirit and digital revolution has begun to falter despite support from motivated entrepreneurs international investors policy experts and others Written by engaged scholars and professionals in the field the book offers 15 eye opening chapters and 14 one on one conversations with entrepreneurs and investors to ask why establishing ICT start ups on a continental and global scale remains a challenge on the Silicon Savannah The authors present evidence based recommendations to help Kenya to continue producing globally impactful ICT innovations that improve the lives of those still waiting on the side lines and to inspire other nations to do the same

The Presidential Fringe Mark Stein, 2020-02-01 This offbeat slice of American history places the story of our great republic beneath an unexpected lens that of fringe candidates for president of the United States Mark Stein explores how their quest for our nation's highest office helped to amplify voices otherwise quashed during their day His careening tour through elections past includes the efforts of true pioneers in the quest for social equality in our country the first woman to run for president Victoria Woodhull in 1872 the first African American to run for president George E Taylor in 1904 and the first openly gay cross dressing candidate for president Joan Jett Blakk in 1992 But The Presidential Fringe also takes a look at those who would jest their way into the Oval Office from comedians such as Will Rogers and Gracie Allen to Pat Paulsen and Stephen Colbert Along the way Stein shows how even seemingly zany candidates such as Live Forever Jones Vegetarian Party candidate John Maxwell Flying Saucer Party candidate Gabriel Green or most recently Vermin Supreme provide extraordinary insights of clarity into who we were when they ran for president and how we became who we are today Ultimately Stein's examination reveals that it was often precisely these fringe candidates who planted the seeds from which mainstream candidates later harvested genuine positive change Written in Stein's direct and witty style The Presidential Fringe surveys and portrays an American landscape rife with the unlikely unassuming unexpected and in a few cases unbalanced presidential hopefuls who in their own way have contributed to this nation's founding quest to form a more perfect Union
