The Making of the New Testament Documents E. Earle Ellis, 2021-10-25 The Making of the New Testament Documents investigates literary tradition and their implications for the authorship origin and dating of the New Testament Gospels and letters Building upon earlier research it identifies and compares preformed pieces that in the letters call into question the traditional view that the letters were the sole product of an individual whose authorship could be vetted by internal criteria of vocabulary style and theological expression The numerous and diverse epistolary traditions many non authorial argue for a kind of corporate authorship that until now has been unappreciated and apparently unknown to critical scholarship A comparison of the traditions and of the common opposition they sometimes have in view supports a synchronic relationship of the various New Testament documents all of which with the exception of John s Gospel and letters reflect the pre AD 70 period It thus challenges the tradition of F C Baur still widely followed that apart from a few Pauline letters dates New Testament writings from the last decades of the first century to the first half of the second The author contends that the New Testament is the product of four contemporaneous and cooperating apostolic missions each of which produced a Gospel and a number of letters and each of which faced the same judaizing gnosticizing countermission These four allied missions shared both Gospel and epistolary traditions even as they pursued their discrete tasks in the service of the church The arguments of this book if persuasive will require a reassessment of the history of early Christianity This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details

The Making of the New Testament Documents Edward Earle Ellis, 2002 This volume identifies and investigates literary traditions and their implications for the authorship and dating of the Gospels and the letters of the New Testament Ellis argues that the Gospels and the letters are products of the corporate authorship of four allied apostolic missions and not the creation of individual authors

Interpreting the New Testament Text Darrell L. Bock, Buist M. Fanning, 2006-10-20 With the explosive increase in availability of English Bible translations the question can easily be asked Why bother with the hard work of biblical exegesis Computers can translate foreign languages and our English texts can take us very close to the original meanings so why exegete Answer because the deepest truths of the Bible are found through the deepest study This book teaches the principles methods and fundamentals of exegeting the New Testament It also has examples of textual exegesis that clearly and helpfully show the value of exegeting a text well Any serious student of Scripture would benefit from utilizing this book in the study of the Bible      The Blackwell Companion to The New Testament David E.

Scrolls Joel Baden,Hindy Najman,Eibert J.C. Tigchelaar,2016-10-11 This volume a tribute to John J Collins by his friends colleagues and students includes essays on the wide range of interests that have occupied John Collins s distinguished career Topics range from the ancient Near East and the Hebrew Bible to the Dead Sea Scrolls and Second Temple Judaism and beyond into early Christianity and rabbinic Judaism The contributions deal with issues of text and interpretation history and historiography philology and archaeology and more The breadth of the volume is matched only by the breadth of John Collins s own work      Joel's Use of Scripture and the Scripture's Use of Joel John Strazicich,2007-04-30 The methodological approach employed in this research utilizes the hermeneutics of comparative midrash combined with aspects of Bakhtinian dialogism and intertextuality The purpose of this enterprise is to discern the function of scripture in Joel and its New Testament Nachleben The terms appropriation and resignification are descriptive of the process through which an antecedent text is transformed by its displacement condensation and recontextualization These methodologies assist in giving an account of the intertextual dialogism involved in a text's unrecorded hermeneutics The scope of the work looks at the use of scriptural traditions within the book of Joel during the Second Temple period There is an introduction to the hermeneutical methods employed followed by a general introduction to the book of Joel in chapter one Chapters two and three concern the function of scripture in Joel Finally the last chapter deals with Joel's New Testament Nachleben Each chapter has an introduction and conclusion This work does not eschew the importance of diachronic issues The diachronic method pays attention to the context of an antecedent's voice while the synchronic methodological approach pays attention to the function and purpose in which the receptor text resignifies the appropriated motifs and allusions The diachronic becomes fused with the synchronic in the process of an allusion's recontextualization This study in a heuristic manner focuses on the way that each allusion is appropriated and resignified for the needs of both Joel's community and those of the later NT in order to understand the function of canonical hermeneutics

Colossians and Philemon Michael F Bird, 2011-05-26 Michael Bird's commentary on Colossians and Philemon in the New Covenant Commentary Series pays close attention to the socio-historical context the flow and dynamics of the text their argumentative strategy theological message and the meaning of Colossians and Philemon for the contemporary church today Bird situates Colossians in the context of Paul's Ephesian ministry and describes how Paul attempts to persuade a congregation in the Lycus Valley to remain firm in the gospel and to grasp the cosmic majesty of Jesus Christ over and against the views of certain Jewish mystics who have thrown the Colossians into confusion He shows how in the letter to Philemon Paul intercedes for a slave estranged from his master through a carefully crafted feat of pastoral persuasion from a missionary friend of Philemon The commentary combines exegetical insight rhetorical analysis theological exposition and practical application all in one short volume Bird shows Paul at work as a theologian pastor and missionary in his letters to the Colossians and Philemon departure the present study explores the significance of Enochic tradition within the context of Christian tradition in the Horn of Africa where it continues to play a vital role in shaping the diverse yet interrelated self understanding of Orthodox Catholic and Protestant churches As discussions on the importance of 1 Enoch from antiquity to the present take on new dimensions among increasingly global and diverse voices 1 Enoch as Christian Scripture offers a rare orientation into a rich culture in which the reception of the book is at home as a living tradition more than anywhere else in the world today The present work argues that serious attention to 1 Enoch holds forth an opportunity for church traditions in Ethiopia and indeed around the world to embrace some of their indigenous roots and has the capacity to breathe life into time worn expressions of faith

Jesus and Gospel Traditions in Bilingual Context

Sang-Il Lee,2012-04-26 Most historical Jesus and Gospel scholars have supposed three hypotheses of unidirectionality geographically the more Judaeo Palestinian the earlier modally the more oral the earlier and linguistically the more Aramaized the earlier These are based on the chronological assumption of the earlier the more original These four long held hypotheses have been applied as authenticity criteria However this book proposes that linguistic milieu of 1st century Palestine and the Roman Near East were bilingual in Greek and vernacular languages and that the earliest church in Jerusalem was a bilingual Christian community The study of bilingualism blurs the lines between each of the temporal dichotomies The bilingual approach undermines unidirectional assumptions prevalent among Gospels and Acts scholarship with regard to the major issues of source criticism textual criticism form criticism redaction criticism literary criticism the Synoptic Problem the Historical Jesus provenances of the Gospels and Acts the development of Christological titles and the development of early Christianity There is a need for New Testament studies to rethink the major issues from the perspective of the interdirectionality theory based on bilingualism
