Casey, 2002-01-01 You are here a map declares but of course you are not any more than you truly occupy the vantage point into which a landscape painting puts you How maps and paintings figure and reconfigure space as well as our place in it is the subject of Edward S Casey's study an exploration of how we portray the world and its many places Casey's discussion ranges widely from Northern Song landscape painting to nineteenth century American and British landscape painting and photography from prehistoric petroglyphs and medieval portolan charts to seventeenth century Dutch cartography and land survey maps of the American frontier From these culturally and historically diverse forays a theory of representation emerges Casey proposes that the representation of place in visual works be judged in terms not of resemblance but of reconnecting with an earth and world that are not the mere content of mind or language a reconnection that calls for the embodiment and implacement of the human subject Book jacket The Map Paintings : [exhibition April 1991, Robert Berman Gallery, Santa Monica, B-I Gallery, Santa Monica] Robert Berman Gallery, B-I Gallery, 1991 The Map Reader Martin Dodge, Rob Kitchin, Chris Perkins, 2011-05-09 WINNER OF THE CANTEMIR PRIZE 2012 awarded by the Berendel Foundation The Map Reader brings together for the first time classic and hard to find articles on mapping This book provides a wide ranging and coherent edited compendium of key scholarly writing about the changing nature of cartography over the last half century The editorial selection of fifty four theoretical and thought provoking texts demonstrates how cartography works as a powerful representational form and explores how different mapping practices have been conceptualised in particular scholarly contexts Themes covered include paradigms politics people aesthetics and technology Original interpretative essays set the literature into intellectual context within these themes Excerpts are drawn from leading scholars and researchers in a range of cognate fields including Cartography Geography Anthropology Architecture Engineering Computer Science and Graphic Design The Map Reader provides a new unique single source reference to the essential literature in the cartographic field more than fifty specially edited excerpts from key classic articles and monographs critical introductions by experienced experts in the field focused coverage of key mapping practices techniques and ideas a valuable resource suited to a broad spectrum of researchers and students working in cartography and GIScience geography the social sciences media studies and visual arts full page colour illustrations of significant maps as provocative visual think pieces fully indexed clearly structured and accessible ways into a fast changing field of cartographic research Clayton Campbell Clayton Campbell, 1991 Deleuze and the Map-Image Jakub Zdebik, 2019-05-30 The map as it appears in Gilles Deleuze's writings is a concept guiding the exploration of new territories

no matter how abstract With the advent of new media and digital technologies contemporary artists have imagined a panoply of new spaces that put Deleuze's concept to the test Deleuze's concept of the map bridges the gap between the analog and the digital information and representation virtual and actual canvas and screen and is therefore best suited for the contemporary artistic landscape Deleuze and the Map Image explores cartography from philosophical and aesthetic perspectives and argues that the concept of the map is a critical touchstone for contemporary multidisciplinary art This book is an overview of Deleuze's cartographic thought read through the theories of Sloterdijk Heidegger and Virilio and the art criticism of Laura U Marks Carolyn L Kane and Alexander Galloway shaping it into a critical tool through which to view the works of cutting edge artists such as Janice Kerbel and Hajra Waheed who work with digital and analog art After all Deleuze did write that a map can be conceived as a work of art and so herein art is critiqued through cartographic strategies The
