Photographs, Museums, Collections Elizabeth Edwards, Christopher Morton, 2015-05-19 The status of photographs in the history of museum collections is a complex one From its very beginnings the double capacity of photography as a tool for making a visual record on the one hand and an aesthetic form in its own right on the other has created tensions about its place in the hierarchy of museum objects While major collections of art photography have grown in status and visibility photographs not designated art are often invisible in museums Yet almost every museum has photographs as part of its ecosystem gathered as information corroboration or documentation shaping the understanding of other classes of objects and many of these collections remain uncatalogued and their significance unrecognised This volume presents a series of case studies on the historical collecting and usage of photographs in museums Using critically informed empirical investigation it explores substantive and historiographical questions such as what is the historical patterning in the way photographs have been produced collected and retained by museums How do categories of the aesthetic and evidential shape the history of collecting photographs What has been the work of photographs in museums What does an understanding of photograph collections add to our understanding of collections history more broadly What are the methodological demands of research on photograph collections The case studies cover a wide range of museums and collection types from art galleries to maritime museums national collections to local history museums and international perspectives including Cuba France Germany New Zealand South Africa and the UK Together they offer a fascinating insight into both the history of collections and collecting and into the practices and poetics of archives across a range of disciplines including the history of science museum studies archaeology and anthropology      A new naval history Quintin Colville, James Davey, 2018-12-17 This volume brings together a diverse selection of the latest academic research in the field of naval history No longer confined to analyses of ships and battles it is the first publication to capture a new form naval history that engages with race sexuality gender material culture popular culture and fine art Edited by two leading historians of the Royal Navy it will become a defining book in the field      Shanghaiing Sailors Mark Strecker, 2014-05-19 Shanghaiing or forcing a man to join the crew of a merchant ship against his will plagued seafarers the world over between 1849 and 1915 Perpetrators were known as crimps and they had no respect for a man's education social status race religion or seafaring experience The merchant ships were involved in the opium tea and gold trades and the practice was spurred by the opening of the Suez Canal A major reason for it was a shortage of sailors and the unwillingness of seamen to sail on certain types of ships They suffered from great deprivations all for a paltry sum usually squandered during shore leave Navies and pirates had their own form of shanghaiing called impressment This work explores the rich history of shanghaiing and impressment with a focus on victims and also considers the 19th century seafarer and the circumstances that made shanghaiing so lucrative Anglo-Norman Studies XXXV David Bates, 2013 A rich collection of articles on multiple aspects of Anglo Norman and Norman studies forming an indispensable addition to an understanding of this important period of history This volume of Anglo Norman Studies demonstrates yet again the multi disciplinarity and European range of the series As befits the proceedings of a conference held in Normandy at Bayeux it contains two articles on the renowned Tapestry and a consideration of the campaign of 1066 there are also several papers on the medieval duchy their topics including its early tenth century origins the abbesses of Norman nunneries abbatial investitures in the context of religious reform the reign of Robert Curthose the charters of a major aristocratic family and historical writing in and around late twelfth and early thirteenth century Normandy Alongside these are articles on landscape and belief villein manumissions and the theology of the incarnation the evolution of criminal law in Scotland Bohemond of Antioch the architectural historian John Bilson and important aspects of twelfth century poetry David Bates is a Professorial Fellow at the University of East Anglia and was until recently a Visiting Professor at the University of Caen Basse Normandie Contributors Lesley Abrams Bernard S Bachrach Steven Biddlecombe Alexandrina Buchanan Howard B Clarke Edoardo D Angelo Gregory Fedorenko Jean Herv Foulon George Garnett Vronique Gazeau Paul R Hyams Sylvette Lemagnen Monika Otter Daniel Power Alice Taylor C S Watkins The Last Lincoln Conspirator Andrew Jampoler, 2011-03-15 Despite all that has been written about the April 1865 assassination of President Abraham Lincoln the story of John Surratt the only conspirator who got away remains untold and largely unknown The capture and shooting of John Wilkes Booth twelve days after he shot Lincoln is a well known and well covered story The fate of the eight other accomplices of Booth has also been widely written about Four including Surratt's mother Mary were convicted and hanged and four were jailed John Surratt alone managed to evade capture for twenty months and escape punishment once he was put on trial In this tale of adventure and mystery Andrew Jampoler tells what happened to that last conspirator who after Booth's death became the most wanted man in America Ships Monthly, 1995 Photography Ltd. Staff Clio Press, 1982 Encyclopedia of Nineteenth-Century Photography John Hannavy, 2013-12-16 The Encyclopedia of Nineteenth Century Photography is the first comprehensive encyclopedia of world photography up to the beginning of the twentieth century It sets out to be the standard definitive reference work on the subject for years to come Its coverage is global an important first in that authorities from all over the world have contributed their expertise and scholarship towards making this a truly comprehensive publication The Encyclopedia presents new and ground breaking research alongside accounts of the major established figures in the nineteenth century arena Coverage includes all the key people processes equipment movements styles debates and groupings which helped photography develop from being a

Taylor,2012-11-15 The mystery surrounding the Dead Sea Scrolls remains over 60 years after their rediscovery Who hid them and why This groundbreaking book reinvigorates the contested hypothesis that the Essenes were responsible Rather than being a marginal esoteric sect Taylor shows that this group acted as one of the leading legal schools of Judaism The Bookseller ,1974 The Stereoscopic Picturesque Bruce Graver,2025-09-01 The Stereoscopic Picturesque is an interdisciplinary study of nineteenth century 3D photography and its relation to the picturesque tradition in art literature and tourism The study focuses on the invention of the stereoscope originally a laboratory device for demonstrating the nature of three dimensional vision and the simultaneous invention of photography in order to show how early stereo photographers used the optics of the stereoscope to extend the possibilities of picturesque representation Their images also made virtual travel possible for an international mass audience allowing millions of people to explore places and natural wonders that they would otherwise never have seen Many of these places had deep literary associations Wordsworth s Lake District for instance or Scott s Trossachs and the stereography of these regions constitutes an important yet largely unexplored chapter in the reception history of these authors Many of the photographs were deliberate attempts to encourage the preservation of environmentally sensitive sites something the realism of photography and the 3D presentation of the stereoscope made especially effective The Stereoscopic Picturesque combines fields of study that have rarely been brought into such close contiguity the history of science art history the history of photography literature and environmentalism The
