The Makers Of The Blueback Charts A History Of Imray Laurie Norie Wilsonltd:

The Makers of the Blueback Charts Susanna Fisher,2001 Susanna Fisher s researched history tells the story of the families and companies that dominated this trade from the 1750 s until the present day The makers of the blueback charts were amongst the great cartographers of their day and names like Sayer Laurie and Findlay are well known to anyone who has an interest in old sea charts The high and low fortunes of their businesses and the London world in which they lived and work is colourfully portrayed Jacket The History of Cartography, Volume 6 Mark Monmonier,2015-05-18 For more than thirty years the History of Cartography Project has charted the course for scholarship on cartography bringing together research from a variety of disciplines on the creation dissemination and use of maps Volume 6 Cartography in the Twentieth Century continues this tradition with a groundbreaking survey of the century just ended and a new full color encyclopedic format The twentieth century is a pivotal period in map history The transition from paper to digital formats led to previously unimaginable dynamic and interactive maps Geographic information systems radically altered cartographic institutions and reduced the skill required to create maps Satellite positioning and mobile communications revolutionized wayfinding Mapping evolved as an important tool for coping with complexity organizing knowledge and influencing public opinion in all parts of the globe and at all levels of society Volume 6 covers these changes comprehensively while thoroughly demonstrating the far reaching effects of maps on science technology and society and vice versa The lavishly produced volume includes more than five hundred articles accompanied by more than a thousand images Hundreds of expert contributors provide both original research often based on their own participation in the developments they describe and interpretations of larger trends in cartography Designed for use by both scholars and the general public this definitive volume is a reference work of first resort for all who study and love maps The History of Cartography, Volume 4 Matthew H. Edney,Mary Sponberg Pedley,2020-05-15 Since its launch in 1987 the History of Cartography series has garnered critical acclaim and sparked a new generation of interdisciplinary scholarship Cartography in the European Enlightenment the highly anticipated fourth volume offers a comprehensive overview of the cartographic practices of Europeans Russians and the Ottomans both at home and in overseas territories from 1650 to 1800 The social and intellectual changes that swept Enlightenment Europe also transformed many of its mapmaking practices A new emphasis on geometric principles gave rise to improved tools for measuring and mapping the world even as large scale cartographic projects became possible under the aegis of powerful states Yet older mapping practices persisted Enlightenment cartography encompassed a wide variety of processes for making circulating and using maps of different types The volume s more than four hundred encyclopedic articles explore the era s mapping covering topics both detailed such as geodetic surveying thematic mapping and map collecting and broad such as women and cartography cartography and the economy and the art and design of maps Copious bibliographical references and nearly one thousand full color illustrations complement the detailed entries Mapping and

Charting in Early Modern England and France Christine Petto, 2015-03-26 Mapping and Charting for the Lion and the Lily Map and Atlas Production in Early Modern England and France is a comparative study of the production and role of maps charts and atlases in early modern England and France with a particular focus on Paris the cartographic center of production from the late seventeenth century to the late eighteenth century and London which began to emerge in the late eighteenth century to eclipse the once favored Bourbon center The themes that carry through the work address the role of government in map and chart making In France in particular it is the importance of the centralized government and its support for geographic works and their makers through a broad and deep institutional infrastructure Prior to the late eighteenth century in England there was no central controlling agency or institution for map chart or atlas production and any official power was imposed through the market rather than through the establishment of institutions There was no centralized support for the cartographic enterprise and any effort by the crown was often challenged by the power of Parliament which saw little value in fostering or supporting scholar geographers or a national survey This book begins with an investigation of the imagery of power on map and atlas frontispieces from the late sixteenth century to the seventeenth century In the succeeding chapters the focus moves from county and regional mapping efforts in England and France to the paper wars over encroachment in their respective colonial interests The final study looks at charting efforts and highlights the role of government support and the commercial trade in the development of maritime charts not only for the home waters of the English Channel but the distant and dangerous seas of the East Indies

Landmark Cases in Intellectual Property Law Jose Bellido, 2017-09-07 This volume explores the nature of intellectual property law by looking at particular disputes All the cases gathered here aim to show the versatile and unstable character of a discipline still searching for landmarks Each contribution offers an opportunity to raise questions about the narratives that have shaped the discipline throughout its short but profound history The volume begins by revisiting patent litigation to consider the impact of the Statute of Monopolies 1624 It continues looking at different controversies to describe how the existence of an author's right in literary property was a plausible basis for legal argument even though no statute expressly mentioned authors rights before the Statute of Anne 1710 The collection also explores different moments of historical significance for intellectual property law the first trade mark injunctions the difficulties the law faced when protecting maps and the origins of originality in copyright law Similarly it considers the different ways of interpreting patent claims in the late nineteenth and twentieth century the impact of seminal cases on passing off and the law of confidentiality and more generally the construction of intellectual property law and its branches in their interaction with new technologies and marketing developments It is essential reading for anyone interested in the development of intellectual property law

Navigational Enterprises in Europe and its Empires, 1730-1850 Rebekah Higgitt, Richard Dunn, 2016-02-19 This book explores the development of navigation in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries It examines the role of men of science seamen and practitioners across Europe and the realities of navigational practice showing that old and new methods were complementary not exclusive their use dependent on many competing factors

Frames that Speak: Cartouches on Early Modern Maps Chet Van Duzer, 2023-05-25 Listen to the New Books Network Podcast This lavishly illustrated book is the first systematic exploration of cartographic cartouches the decorated frames that surround the title or other text or imagery on historic maps It addresses the history of their development the sources cartographers used in creating them and the political economic historical and philosophical messages their symbols convey Cartouches are the most visually appealing parts of maps and also spaces where the cartographer uses decoration to express his or her interests so they are key to interpreting maps The book discusses thirty three cartouches in detail which range from 1569 to 1821 and were chosen for the richness of their imagery The book will open your eyes to a new way of looking at maps

Surveyors of Empire Stephen J. Hornsby, 2011-04-05 Using research from both sides of the Atlantic Stephen Hornsby examines the development of British military cartography in North America during and after the Seven Years War as well as advancements in military and scientific equipment used in surveying At the same time he follows the land speculation of two leading surveyors Samuel Holland and J F W Des Barres and the publication history of The Atlantic Neptune Richly illustrated with images from The Atlantic Neptune and earlier maps Surveyors of Empire is an insightful account of the relationship between science and imperialism and the British shaping of the Atlantic world

Making Scientific Instruments in the Industrial Revolution A.D. Morrison-Low, 2017-03-02 At the start of the Industrial Revolution it appeared that most scientific instruments were made and sold in London but by the time of the Great Exhibition in 1851 a number of provincial firms had the self confidence to exhibit their products in London to an international audience How had this change come about and why This book looks at the four main and two lesser English centres known for instrument production outside the capital Birmingham Liverpool Manchester and Sheffield along with the older population centres in Bristol and York Making wide use of new sources Dr Morrison Low curator of history of science at the National Museums of Scotland charts the growth of these centres and provides a characterisation of their products New information is provided on aspects of the trade especially marketing techniques sources of materials tools and customer relationships From contemporary evidence she argues that the principal output of the provincial trade with some notable exceptions must have been into the London marketplace anonymously and at the cheaper end of the market She also discusses the structure and organization of the provincial trade and looks at the impact of new technology imported from other closely allied trades By virtue of its approach and subject matter the book considers aspects of economic and business history gender and the family the history of science and technology material culture and patterns of migration It contains a myriad of stories of families and firms of entrepreneurs and customers and of organizations and arms of government In bringing together this wide range of interests Dr Morrison Low enables us to appreciate how central the making selling and distribution of scientific instruments was for the Industrial Revolution

Forms, Formats and the Circulation of Knowledge Louisiane Ferlier, Benedicte Miyamoto, 2020-07-27 Forms Formats and the Circulation of Knowledge explores the printscape the mental mapping of knowledge in all its printed shapes to chart the British networks of publishers printers copyright holders readers and authors This transdisciplinary volume skilfully recovers innovations and practices in the book trade between 1688 and 1832 It investigates how print circulated information in a multitude of sizes and media through an evolving framework of transactions The authority of print is demonstrated by studies of prospectuses blank forms periodicals pamphlets globes games and ephemera uniquely gathered in eleven essays engaging in legal economic literary and historical methodologies The tight focus on material format reappraises a disorderly market accommodating a widening audience consumption

MapForum, 2005 Richard Halliburton and the Voyage of the Sea Dragon Gerald Max, 2023-08-18 Richard Halliburton 1900-1939 considered the world's first celebrity travel writer swam the length of the Panama Canal recreated Ulysses' voyages in the Mediterranean crossed the Alps on an elephant flew around the world in a biplane and descended into the Mayan Well of Death all the while chronicling his own adventures Several books treat his life and travels yet no book has addressed in detail Halliburton's most ambitious expedition an attempt to sail across the Pacific Ocean in a Chinese junk Set against the backdrop of a China devastated by invading Japanese armies and the storm clouds of world war gathering in Europe Halliburton and a crew of fourteen set out to build and sail the Sea Dragon a junk or ancient sailing ship from Hong Kong to San Francisco for the Golden Gate International Exposition After battling through crew conflicts and frequent delays the Sea Dragon set sail on March 4 1939 Three weeks after embarking the ship encountered a typhoon and disappeared without a trace Richly enhanced with historic photographs Richard Halliburton and the Voyage of the Sea Dragon follows the dramatic arc of this ill-fated expedition in fine detail Gerry Max artfully unpacks the tensions between Halliburton and his captain John Wenlock Welch owing much to Welch's homophobia and Halliburton's unconcealed homosexuality And while Max naturally explores the trials and tribulations of preparing constructing and finally launching the Sea Dragon he also punctuates the story with the invasion of China by the Japanese as Halliburton and his letters home reveal an excellent wartime reporter Max mines these documents many of which have only recently come to light as well as additional letters from Halliburton and his crew to family and friends photographs films and tape recordings to paint an intricate portrait of Halliburton's final expedition from inception to tragic end Monsoon Voyagers Prof. Fahad Ahmad Bishara, 2025-10-14

Monsoon Voyagers follows the voyage of a single dhow the Crooked along with its captain and crew from Kuwait to port cities around the Persian Gulf and Western Indian Ocean from 1924 to 1925 Through his account of the voyage Fahad Ahmad Bishara unpacks a much broader history of circulation and exchange across the Arabian Sea in the time of empire From their offices in India Arabia and East Africa Gulf merchants used the technologies of colonial capitalism banks steamships railroads telegraphs and more to remake their own regional bazaar economy In the process they remade the Gulf itself Drawing on the Crooked's first person logbooks along with letters notes and business accounts from a range of port cities Monsoon Voyagers narrates the still untold connected histories of the Gulf and Indian Ocean The Gulf's past it suggests played out across the sea as much as it did the land International Journal of Maritime History, 2005 The Oxford Encyclopedia of Maritime History: Actium, Battle of John B. Hattendorf, 2007 Here is an encyclopedia of maritime history that in scope and depth rivals the expansiveness of the sea itself The Encyclopedia covers the entire history of seafaring from ancient Egyptian shipbuilders to Viking sea raiders from Nelson and the Napoleonic Wars to the voyages of Cheng Ho from the European conquerors of the New World to the nuclear submarines and supertankers of today Placing maritime affairs in their larger historical context the Encyclopedia shows how seafaring has both reflected and influenced the major economic cultural military and political developments in world history In four volumes and nearly 1 000 signed articles by an international group of historians and naval officers the Encyclopedia offers a uniquely integrated approach emphasizing the connections between maritime history and many related fields including naval history shipbuilding navigation and scientific instrumentation maritime art and literature commerce and economics exploration and maritime geography oceanography and hydrology and international maritime law In so doing the Encyclopedia provides in a single reference work a wealth of information that can otherwise be found only with the help of an extensive library Alphabetical organization intelligible writing plentiful illustrations cross references bibliographies a synoptic outline and topical index all make The Oxford Encyclopedia of Maritime History an inviting easy to use reference for researchers and enthusiasts alike The Hydrographic Journal, 2002 Subject Index of the Modern Works Added to the British Museum Library, 1936-1940 British Museum.
