The Making Of A European:

The Making of the European Age John M. Roberts, 1998 Making European Space Ole Brandt Jensen, Tim Richardson, 2004 Making European Space crystallises and critically examines the key policy ideas emerging in the new field of European spatial planning and explores the arguments surrounding policy themes such as polycentric development sustainability The Politicization of Europe Paul Statham, Hans-Jörg Trenz, 2012 This book examines how mass media debates have contributed to the politicization of the European Union The public controversies over the EU's attempted Constitution making and its failure sowed the seeds for a process of politicization that has advanced ever since an increasing visibility for the EU in mass mediated public debates that is combined with a growing public contestation over Europe within national politics The book presents an original systematic study of the emerging field of political discourse carried by the mass media in France Germany and Britain to examine the performance of Europe's public sphere Whilst the EU's increasing politicization can be seen as beneficial to European democracy potentially normalizing the EU level within national politics the same developments can also be a threat to democracy leading to populist and xenophobic responses and a decline in political trust Such discussions are key to understanding the EU's legitimacy and how its democratic politics can work in an era of mediated politics The Politicization of Europe will be of interest to students and scholars of comparative politics media studies communication sociology and European studies Making European Masculinities J. A. Mangan, 2013-10-08 As sport has grown progressively replacing religion in its power to excite passion provide emotional escape offer fraternal and increasingly sororital bonding it has come to loom larger and larger in the lives of Europeans and others It has become an inescapable reality linking public environment with intimate experience and thus offers the historian an opportunity to inspect and attempt to grasp all the dimensions of the recent past and their relative share in individual and collective experience This collection considers the evolution of modern sport in Europe and examines its role in shaping masculine identity Cambridge Yearbook of European Legal Studies, Vol 14 2011-2012 Catherine Barnard, Markus Gehring, Iyiola Solanke, 2012-12-20 The Cambridge Yearbook of European Legal Studies provides a forum for the scrutiny of significant issues in EU Law the law of the European Convention on Human Rights and Comparative Law with a European dimension and particularly those issues which have come to the fore during the year preceding publication The contributions appearing in the collection are commissioned by the Centre for European Legal Studies CELS Cambridge a research centre in the Law Faculty of the University of Cambridge specialising in European legal issues The papers presented are at the cutting edge of the fields which they address and reflect the views of recognised experts drawn from the University world legal practice and the institutions of both the EU and its Member States Inclusion of the comparative dimension brings a fresh perspective to the study of European law and highlights the effects of globalisation of the law more generally and the resulting cross fertilisation of norms and ideas that has occurred among previously sovereign and separate legal orders The Cambridge

Yearbook of European Legal Studies is an invaluable resource for those wishing to keep pace with legal developments in the fast moving world of European integration

Democratising the EU from Below? Dr Alexander Gattig, Dr Tatjana Evas, Dr Ulrike Liebert, 2013-08-28 For the European Union of the 21st century the search for sustainable prosperity and stability includes the challenge of reconciling democratic ideals and practices with the construction of a European constitutional order From the 2001 Laeken Summit to the 2009 Lisbon Treaty and beyond EU leaders have repeatedly set out to bring citizens closer to EU governance by making it more democratic and effective yet several national ratification referendums have shown that publics are divided about whether and why to endorse or veto complex EU reform packages imposed from the top down Despite these limitations people do effectively engage in the making of a European polity By initiating national court proceedings active citizens are promoting fundamental European rights in Member States practices As party members they contribute to shaping mass media communication about and national publics understanding of European political alternatives As civil society activists citizens help build social networks for contesting certain EU reforms or advocating others Last but not least as voters in national and European elections they choose between competing party visions and national parliamentary stances regarding the role of democratic citizenship This original contribution to the debate about democratic citizenship vis vis the challenges of economic globalization and European political integration presents critical explorations of different fields of direct representative participatory and deliberative democratic citizenship practices that affect the transformation of Europe

Parker, 2008-02-04 This book pursues an original perspective on Europe's shifting extent and geopolitical standing how countries and spaces marginal to it impact on Europe as a center A theoretical discussion of borders and margins is developed and set against nine studies of countries regions and identities seen as marginal to Europe The Making of a European Constitution Michelle Everson, Julia Eisner, 2007-09-21 Introduction Constitutional morning Retelling the legal integration story Forgetting law Adjudicating non authoritative law Constitutionalising the institutional balance of powers The principled judicial mechanics of constitutional morphogenesis Constitutionalism beyond constitutions The Unnoticed Effects of EU Accession Vesela Kovacheva, 2021-03-08 This study provides empirical evidence on the considerable but often unnoticed impact of EU accession on the mobility and integration of migrants from Bulgaria in Germany Original data from a time location sampling survey in Hamburg reveal that free movement not only induced a high level of mobility among EU citizens from Bulgaria after 2007 but also enabled their more permanent settlement in Germany The study also provides statistical evidence that EU citizenship contributed to better legal integration of Bulgarian migrants in Germany but national policies shaped to a greater extent their integration in terms of participation in the core areas of life Restrictive policies such as transitional periods in the freedom of work hampered labour market integration and created more disadvantaged positions for workers Inclusive policies such as the dual citizenship policy facilitated the naturalisation of settled migrants and led to exceptionally high naturalisation rates for Bulgarians that point to their successful integration in society However integration successes remain almost unnoticed in public discourse which is dominated by the image of Bulgarian migration as a challenge

Building Europe in New York Enrico Ciappi, 2025-01-31 This book reappraises the origins of the European Union through the lens of the private experts who advised Western governments on war and peace throughout the 1940s particularly the partnership between the so called Father of Europe Jean Monnet and the US think tank Council on Foreign Relations American support for European integration has never been a philanthropic enterprise but part of a long term strategic design with roots in World War II informal planning and diplomacy While advising the Roosevelt and Truman administrations the Council on Foreign Relations formed a policy network with European policymakers sharing similar values and goals The new archival findings of this volume reveal that the CFR Monnet partnership proved instrumental in stimulating debate on post war order improving inter Allied cooperation and then creating the first supranational institution in history the European Coal and Steel Community The first milestone of the European Union resulted from a joint private public effort which originated outside the channels of official diplomacy Scholars and graduate students interested in diplomacy geopolitics and political thought will discover unexplored but substantial links between American strategic thinking transatlantic public diplomacy and European politics
