The Making Of The Backward Pupil In Education In England 1870 1914:

The Making of the Backward Pupil in Education in England, 1870-1914 Ian C. Copeland, 1999 Starting from the point of the co existence of two Royal Commissions on different aspects of elementary education in the period 1886 89 this study shows how educational provision for the pupil judged backward began to be divorced from that for the mainstream

A Companion to Nineteenth-Century Britain Chris Williams, 2008-04-15 A Companion to Nineteenth Century Britain presents 33 essays by expert scholars on all the major aspects of the political social economic and cultural history of Britain during the late Georgian and Victorian eras Truly British rather than English in scope Pays attention to the experiences of women as well as of men Illustrated with maps and charts Includes guides to further reading Women, Educational

Policy-Making and Administration in England Joyce Goodman, Sylvia Harrop, 2002-11-01 The role of women in policy making has been largely neglected in conventional social and political histories This book opens up this field of study taking the example of women in education as its focus It examines the work attitudes actions and philosophies of women who played a part in policy making and administration in education in England over two centuries looking at women engaged at every level from the local school to the state Women Educational Policy Making and Administration in England traces women s involvement in the establishment and management of schools and teacher training the foundation of the school boards women s representation on educational commissions and their rising professional profile in such roles as school inspector or minister of education These activities highlight vital questions of gender class power and authority and illuminate the increasingly diverse and prominent spectrum of political activity in which women have participated Offering a new perspective on the professional and political role of women this book represents essential reading for anybody with an interest in gender studies or the social and political history of England in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries to Education Studies has proven itself to be the key text for students of the subject for over a decade leading readers through the field's key strands, concepts and applications without assuming any prior knowledge. Bartlett and Burton provide first-time students and those engaged in more advanced aspects of the subject with all the tools that they need to approach Education Studies and also encourage a critical questioning approach which will put them in good stead for further study and professional practice. The new edition includes a new chapter on globalisation and international comparative education. A new companion website featuring online journal articles relating to each chapter. More guidance on how to critique research. More Reader Reflection boxes encouraging students to reflect on their own practice throughout. A new framework for analysing policy. New sections within the curriculum and the history of schooling chapters reflecting the latest UK developments. Complete update of education policy issues. Additional online resources at www.uk.sagepub.com/bartlett3e. Also available are free journal articles accompanying each chapter of the book enabling discussion and further reading to deepen students' knowledge of each chapter subject. Steve Bartlett is Professor of Education Studies at the University of Wolverhampton. Diana Burton is Professor of Education and Pro Vice Chancellor at Liverpool John Moores University. A History of Western Educational Ideas Professor Peter Gordon, Professor Denis Lawton, 2019-11-26. It is important that all those concerned with education—parents, teachers, administrators and policymakers—should have a reasonable understanding of the present system and how it has developed, sometimes over a period of many years. This work traces the development of Western educational ideas from the Greek society of Socrates, Plato and Aristotle to the ideas and ideologies behind some of the controversial issues in education today. This book discusses the continuous development of educational thought over three millennia. The focus upon the history of ideas in this volume is partly an attempt to move history of education away from an approach based on great men to technological, economic and political influences on ideas and beliefs. It reviews many issues ranging from the purposes of education from the earliest times to the challenge of postmodernism in the present century. The authors provide an accessible and thought-provoking guide to the educational ideas that underlie practice.

The Anatomy of the Case Study Gary Thomas, Kevin Myers, 2015-05-20. This sharp stimulating title provides a structure for thinking about analysing and designing case study. It explores the historical, theoretical and practical bones of modern case study research, offering to social scientists a framework for understanding and working with this form of inquiry. Using detailed analysis of examples taken from across the social sciences, Thomas and Myers set out and then work through an intricate typology of case study design to answer questions such as: How is a case study constructed? What are the required inherent components of case study? Can a coherent structure be applied to this form of inquiry? The book grounds complex theoretical insights in real-world research and includes an extended example that has been annotated line by line to take the reader through each step of understanding and conducting research using case study. The English Higher Grade Schools Meriel Vlaeminck, 2013-09-05. The English higher grade schools formed a key part of an expanding 19th-century education.

system but they threatened the vested interests of a powerful Establishment bent on reaffirming the status quo The author analyzes the 1902 Education Act as a retrogressive move by which much was lost Experiences of Special Education Derrick Armstrong, 2003 This is a refreshing book which examines the stories of those people who have received SEN provision Funded by the ESRC it explores the wider issues of Special Education and defines its future role Caring for the Socially Marginalised in Interwar Europe, 1919-1939 Michele Mioni, Stefano Petrungaro, 2024-11-07 This book investigates the mixed economy of welfare that assisted socially marginalised people in interwar Europe namely the state local authorities and a combination of voluntary and informal actors While literature has traditionally emphasised the key role of the state the cooperation between public authorities and private actors has always been a staple of social policy in Europe throughout history The interwar years prominently featured these entanglements between the increased public sphere of action and the voluntary sector Focusing on three thematic areas warfare and its effects boundaries of aid and institutional segregation and gender and religion the authors present case studies from various European countries between 1919 and 1939 All contributions explore the variegated world that composed the so called mixed economy of welfare By shifting the emphasis to the collaborations and frictions between social marginals non state actors and public authorities on a local national and transnational level the book challenges too simplistic distinctions between public and private initiatives and reveals the cultural political and practical common traits that featured in European care for marginals across a variety of geographical variations and socio political contexts EBOOK: Inclusion: The Dynamic of School Development David Skidmore, 2004-05-16 Inclusion has been adopted as a policy goal in many countries It is one of the buzzwords in education and a topic of much theoretical debate often without allowing for real life in today s schools Bridging the gap between theoretical discussions and the real attitudes and experiences of teachers this book Features case studies of inclusion initiatives in English secondary schools Illustrates the complex nature of the school development process Describes teachers attitudes towards inclusion Challenges the idea that there needs to be consensus among school staff for inclusion to work Inclusion The Dynamic of School Development also examines the dominant influence of the discourse of deviance on the history of education policy in the West during the twentieth century The book concludes by articulating an alternative vision of the relationship between education and society for education policy pedagogy and the curriculum Education and the Labour Government Geoffrey Walford, 2013-09-13 This book presents a valuable and authoritative evaluation of the real impact Labour s two terms have had on the British education system On the 1st May 1997 the British electorate witnessed a watershed moment After an eighteen year Conservative rule a New Labour government took office When asked what his top three priorities were for the first term Tony Blair stated that they would be education education education This book questions the extent to which the policy has met the rhetoric examining Labour s education policy practice and achievements during Blair s two terms in office This selection of writings by highly respected academics in this field charts and evaluates the effects of policy changes on the various sectors of the educational system and on the major indicators of inequality This book was previously published as a special issue of the Oxford Review of Education Rethinking the Education
