screenwriter Sidney Howard to cast members Clark Gable Vivien Leigh Leslie Howard Olivia de Havilland and Hattie McDaniel Mitchell also wrote to thousands of others aspiring actresses eager to play Scarlett O'Hara fellow Southerners hopeful of seeing their homes or their grandmother's dress used in the film rabid movie fans determined that their favorite star be cast and creators of songs dolls and Scarlett panties who were convinced the author was their ticket to fame and fortune During the film's production she corrected erring journalists and the producer's over the top publicist who fed the gossip mills accuracy be damned Once the movie finished she struggled to deal with friends and strangers alike who fought and trampled little children and connived and broke the ties of lifelong friendship to get tickets to the premiere But through it all she retained her sense of humor Recounting an acquaintance's denial of the rumor that the author herself was going to play Scarlett Mitchell noted he ungallantly stated that I was something like fifty years too old for the part After receiving numerous letters and phone calls from the studio about Belle Watling's accent the author related her father was convulsed at the idea of someone telephoning from New York to discover how the madam of a Confederate bordello talked And in a chatty letter to Gable after the premiere Mitchell coyly admitted being feminine enough to be quite charmed by his statement to the press that she was fascinating but added Even my best friends look at me in a speculative way probably wondering what they overlooked that your sharp eyes saw As Gone With the Wind marks its seventy fifth anniversary on the silver screen these letters edited by Mitchell historian John Wiley Jr offer a fresh look at the most popular motion picture of all time through the eyes of the woman who gave birth to Scarlett

A Light in the Dark David Thomson, 2021-03-23 From the celebrated film critic and author of The Biographical Dictionary of Film an essential work on the preeminent indispensable movie directors and the ways in which their work has forged and continues to forge the landscape of modern film Directors operate behind the scenes managing actors establishing a cohesive creative vision at times literally guiding our eyes with the eye of the camera But we are often so dazzled by the visions on screen that it is easy to forget the individual who is off screen orchestrating the entire production to say nothing of their having marshaled a script a studio and other people's money David Thomson in his usual brilliantly insightful way shines a light on the visionary directors who have shaped modern cinema and through their work studies the very nature of film direction With his customary candor about his own delights and disappointments Thomson analyzes both landmark works and forgotten films from classic directors such as Orson Welles Alfred Hitchcock Jean Renoir and Jean Luc Godard as well as contemporary powerhouses such as Jane Campion Spike Lee and Quentin Tarantino He shrewdly interrogates their professional legacies and influence in the industry while simultaneously assessing the critical impact of an artist's personal life on his or her work He explores the male directors dominance of the past and describes how diversity can change the landscape Judicious vivid and witty A Light in the Dark is yet another required Thomson text for every movie lover's shelf

The Cinema of Steven Spielberg Nigel Morris, 2007-02-13 Cinema's most successful director is a commercial and cultural force demanding serious consideration Not just triumphant marketing this international popularity is partly a function of the movies themselves Polarised critical attitudes largely overlook this and evidence either unquestioning adulation or vilification often vitriolic for epitomising contemporary Hollywood Detailed textual analyses reveal that alongside conventional commercial appeal Spielberg's movies function consistently as a self reflexive commentary on cinema Rather than straightforwardly consumed realism or fantasy they invite divergent readings and self conscious spectatorship which contradict assumptions about their ideological tendencies Exercising powerful emotional appeal their ambiguities are profitably advantageous in maximising audiences and generating media attention Try to Tell the Story David

Thomson, 2009-02-03 David Thomson one of our most celebrated film writers gives us a haunting fascinating memoir about growing up as an only child in wartime England He was born in London in the aftermath of the war where he was raised by his mother grandmother and upstairs tenant Miss Davis He remembers how his grandmother brought him to a street corner to see Churchill and how the bombed out houses that still smelled of smoke became his playground We see Thomson attempt to overcome his profound sadness at being abandoned by his cold and distant father by finding solace in the cinema houses Movies became his great escape and the worlds revealed in Red River The Third Man and Citizen Kane helped to alleviate his loneliness and bolster his rich imaginative life
