The Marriage Witold Gombrowicz,1969 A play by the Polish writer Witold Gombrowicz written in Argentina after World War II The narrative takes place in a dream where the dreamer transforms into a king and plans to marry his fiancée in a royal wedding only as a means to save their integrity Diary Volume 1 Witold Gombrowicz,1988-03 Just before the outbreak of World War II young Witold Gombrowicz left his home in Poland and set sail for South America In 1953 still living as an expatriate in Argentina he began his Diary with one of literature's most memorable openings Gombrowicz's Diary grew to become a vast collection of essays short notes polemics and confessions on myriad subjects ranging from political events to literature to the certainty of death Not a traditional journal Diary is instead the commentary of a brilliant and restless mind Widely regarded as a masterpiece this brilliant work compelled Gombrowicz's attention for a decade and a half until he penned his final entry in France shortly before his death in 1969

Transformative Fictions Daniel Just,2022-07-27 Transformative Fictions World Literature and Personal Change engages with current debates in world literature over the past twenty years addressing the nature of literary influence in centers and peripheries the formation of transnational literary and pedagogical canons and the role of translation and regionalism in how we relate to texts from around the globe The author Daniel Just argues for a supranational but sub-global perspective of regions that emphasizes practical reasons for reading and focuses on the potential of literary texts to stimulate personal transformation in readers One of the recurring dilemmas in these debates is the issue of delimitation of world literature The trouble with the world as a frame of reference is that no single researcher is bound to have the in depth knowledge and linguistic skills to discuss works from all countries In response this book revives literary theory and recasts it for the purposes of world literature by making a case for the continuing relevance of literature in the age of new media With the examples of fictional and nonfictional writings by Milan Kundera Witold Gombrowicz and Bohumil Hrabal Just shows that regional literatures offer differing methods of activating readers and thereby prompting personal change This book would be of general interest to anyone who wants to explore personal change through literature but is particularly indispensable for literary professionals researchers and postgraduate and graduate students

History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope, John Neubauer, 2004-01-01 Continuing the work undertaken in Vol 1 of the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe Vol 2 considers various topographic sites multicultural cities border areas cross cultural corridors multiethnic regions that cut across national boundaries rendering them permeable to the flow of hybrid cultural messages By focusing on the literary cultures of specific geographical locations this volume intends to put into practice a new type of comparative study Traditional comparative literary studies establish transnational comparisons and contrasts but thereby reconfirm however

Framing the Polish Home Bożena Shallcross, 2002-12-31 As the subject of ideological aesthetic and existential manipulations the Polish home and its representation is an ever changing phenomenon that absorbs new tendencies and at the same time retains its centrality to Polish literature whether written in Poland or abroad Framing the Polish Home is a pioneering work that explores the idea of home as fundamental to the question of cultural and national identity within Poland s recent history and its tradition In this inaugural volume of the Polish and Polish American Studies Series the Polish home emerges in its rich verbal and visual representations and multiple material embodiments as the discussion moves from the loss of the home during wartime to the Sovietized politics of housing and from the exilic strategies of having a home to the the idyllic evocation of the abodes of the past Although as Bo ena Shallcross notes in her introduction few concepts seem to have such universal appeal as the notion of the home this area of study is still seriously underdeveloped In essays from sixteen scholars Framing the Polish Home takes a significant step to correct that oversight covering a broad range of issues pertinent to the discourse on the home and demonstrating the complexity of the home in Polish literature and culture

After '89 Bryce Lease, 2016-09-01 After 89 takes as its subject the dynamic new range of performance practices that have been developed since the demise of communism in the flourishing theatrical landscape of Poland After 1989 the theatre has retained its historical role as the crucial space for debating and interrogating cultural and political identities Providing access to scholarship and criticism not readily accessible to an English speaking readership this study surveys the rebirth of the theatre as a site of public intervention and social criticism since the establishment of democracy and the proliferation of theatre makers that have flaunted cultural commonplaces and begged new questions of Polish culture Lease argues that the most significant change in performance practice after 1989 has been from opposition to the state to a more pluralistic practice that engages with marginalized identities purposefully left out of the rhetoric of freedom and independence Jerzy Skolimowski Ewa Mazierska,2010 Introduction outsider nonconformist a man in between From participant to observer autobiographical discourse in the films of Jerzy Skolimowski About a boy characters narratives and ideologies in Skolimowski s films Between realism and non realism the artistic context of Skolimowski s films and their main visual motifs In the land of Hamlets and Don Quixotes Skolimowski s encounters with literature I don t like obvious film scores music and other sounds in Skolimowski s films Conclusions The Poles Lynda Slominski,Stanislaus A.
