Digital Humanities and Film Studies Adelheid Heftberger, 2019-01-02 This book highlights the quantitative methods of data mining and information visualization and explores their use in relation to the films and writings of the Russian director Dziga Vertov The theoretical basis of the work harkens back to the time when a group of Russian artists and scholars known as the formalists developed new concepts of how art could be studied and measured This book brings those ideas to the digital age One of the central questions the book intends to address is How can hypothetical notions in film studies be supported or falsified using empirical data and statistical tools The first stage involves manual and computer assisted annotation of the films leading to the production of empirical data which is then used for statistical analysis but more importantly for the development of visualizations Studies of this type furthermore shed light on the field of visual presentation of time based processes an area which has its origin in the Russian formalist sphere of the 1920s and which has recently gained new relevance due to technological advances and new possibilities for computer assisted analysis of large and complex data sets In order to reach a profound understanding of Vertov and his films the manual or computer assisted data analysis must be combined with film historical knowledge and a study of primary sources In addition the status of the surviving film materials and the precise analysis of these materials combined with knowledge of historical film technology provide insight into archival policy and political culture in the Soviet Union in the 1920s and 30s

The Critical Practice of Film Elspeth Kydd, 2017-09-16

The Critical Practice of Film introduces film studies and production through the integration of criticism theory and practice. Its approach is that of critical practice, a process that explores the integration and intersection between the critical analysis of films and the practical aspects of filmmaking. In other words, this book is both an introduction to the ways in which we watch films as well as an introduction to how films are created. The more you know about how films are made, the more you can appreciate the artistry involved in a film.

Author Elspeth Kydd combines explorations of basic technical and aesthetic principles with extended analyses drawn from both classic and contemporary Hollywood and other world cinemas, including:

- Battleship Potemkin (1927)
- Un Chien Andalou (1929)
- Stagecoach (1939)
- Mildred Pierce (1945)
- Notorious (1946)
- Letter from an Unknown Woman (1948)
- Gentlemen Prefer Blondes (1953)
- Breathless (1959)
- Memories of Underdevelopment (1968)
- Star Wars (1977)
- Raiders of the Lost Ark (1981)
- Distant Voices (Still Lives) (1988)
- The Matrix (1999)
- Amores Perros (2000)
- Gosford Park (2001)
- The Lord of the Rings trilogy (2001-3)

Also included is a range of exercises designed to stimulate critical and analytical thought and help to demystify the process of creative media-making. Assignments range in scale from simple storyboarding and narrative development exercises that may be explored with minimal technology to more complex video projects that can be adapted to suit varying levels of technical skill.

The Critical Practice of Film provides an accessible introduction to the theory and practice of film studies, integrating creative practice with critical and theoretical engagement to guide students towards an engaged form of creative expression and an active role as reviewer and critic.

Beautifully presented, this ground-breaking text offers all students an integrated understanding of film criticism and production.

Elspeth Kydd is a Senior Lecturer in Film Studies and Video Production at the University of the West of England. She has taught, researched, and published in film and television studies for nearly twenty years, as well as being an active documentary videomaker.

This book developed from teaching integrated theory-practice film courses at universities in the US and UK.
