

A blurry, artistic photograph of rain falling on a dark surface. The rain is captured as numerous white streaks and droplets against a dark, textured background. In the upper right, there is a bright, out-of-focus light source, possibly a window or a lamp, which creates a soft glow and highlights the falling rain. The overall mood is serene and atmospheric.

Smell Of The Rain

Smell Of The Rain:

Your Nose Knows James Knox Millen, 2000-10 WE HOLD That the real division and conflict in man's mind is between his primitive still paramount animal brain now as ab initio under smell dominance and his lately acquired super imposed consciousness under eye and ear control That there are no physical signs of degeneracy in the nose nosebrain apparatus It can and unceasingly does receive incredibly faint intero and exteroceptive smell messages for the most part subconsciously That the mystery of why a specific odor affects different persons differently and the same person differently at different times can be explained by the realization that man's animal brain is concerned solely with the organism's own condition welfare needs that it is continually advised thereof by exhaled air and blood borne messages and that no external odor stimulus is ever received except in fusion with and hence altered by these varying inward messages AND OUR HYPOTHESIS IS 1 Sleeping or awake man has a functioning sense of smell acted upon by combinations always of objective and subjective odors 2 Smell messages consciously tabooed are subconsciously accepted 3 The total of these acceptances past and present is the Subconscious And principally 4 The automatic actions of the body are smell responses Oneota Flow David S.

Faldet, 2009-04 Whether profiling the chief of the last hunter gatherers on the river an early settler witnessing her first prairie fire and a modern wildlife biologist using fire to manage prairies the manager of the Granger Farmer's Co op Creamery or a landowner whose bottomlands are continually eaten away by floods Faldet steadily develops the central idea that people are walking tributaries of the river basin in which they make their homes Faldet moves through the history of life along the now polluted Upper Iowa always focusing on the ways people depend on the river the environment and the resources of the region He blends contemporary conversations readings from the historical record environmental research and personal experience to show us that the health of the river is best guaranteed by maintaining the biological communities that nurture it In return taking care of the Upper Iowa is the best way to take care of our future The Butcher's Wife precocious reflections as a young girl to her final emails Corrie's words whether writing about the looming issues of our time or the ordinary angst of an American teen bring to life all that it means to come of age a dawning sense of self a thirst for one's own ideals and an evolving connection to others near and far Illinois Magazine, 1921 Sunset Fire Renee Vincent, 2017-05-01 Mara the daughter of an Irish king was raised to believe the Northmen are murderous pagans without a moral bone in their bodies Despite warnings of their violent raids and the growing threat of another incursion Mara is continually drawn to her favorite place the River Shannon D gan R liksen a wealthy chieftain from Norway's frozen fjords secretly discovers Mara at the water's edge Charmed by her beauty and sensuous grace he decides his search for a wife has ended Mara and D gan come face to face in a time when every Irishman is being called up to fight against the Viking foreigners To acquire the woman he treasures D gan must make peace with Mara's father but can Mara move past her fears and find the noble man within the savage Previously published as Raeliksen This new edition has been partially rewritten and professionally edited along with a new title and new cover Souls Reborn Renee Vincent, 2017-05-16 As if called by the object Leif D ganssen an archeologist from Norway uncovers an ancient chest buried beside his coastal cottage in western Ireland The intricately decorated artifact might confirm the existence of a Viking settlement on Inishmore Leif is driven to establish a link between himself and the Scandinavians who once inhabited the rugged isle For as long as she can remember Lorraine O Connor has had dreams of a Norse warrior And even though she's never fully understood the reason she welcomes the meaningless pleasure of being in a Viking's protective embrace until the day she meets that very Northman on an impulsive vacation to Ireland Though blindsided by the relevance of her dreams and the eerily familiar man within them Lorraine can't help but feel drawn to Leif The more she gets to know him the more she's convinced they've shared a life together in a time long forgotten As their pasts and present lives begin to intertwine old conflicts and angers rise to the surface Leif and Raine must win the right to be together in this life if Raine can even convince Leif he was once her ancient Viking lover Previously published as The Fall of Rain This new edition has been partially rewritten and professionally edited along with a new title and new cover The Thinker's Thesaurus Peter E. Meltzer, 2012-04-16 With over twenty percent more material a must for any lover of distinctive words This entertaining and informative reference features sophisticated and surprising alternatives to common words together with no fail guides to usage Avoiding traditional thesauruses' mundane synonym choices Peter E Meltzer puts each word whether it's protreptic apostrophize iracund or emulous in context by using examples from a broad range of contemporary books periodicals and newspapers His new introduction makes the case for why we should widen our vocabulary and use the one right word This groundbreaking thesaurus remains a unique venture one that enriches your writing while helping you find the perfect word Shaped by Snow Ayja Bounous, 2019-11-19 Those who love winter will love this book But as we steadily erase the season that sets us free from friction Shaped by Snow will appeal to anyone who has ever looked up and thrilled at the first flakes fat in the autumn sky BILL MCKIBBEN Skier and debut author Ayja Bounous explores threats to the winters and watershed in the face of climate change and the far reaching impacts of a diminishing snowpack on the American West not only from ecological and economic perspectives but also in regard to emotional and psychological health as she realizes how deeply her personal relationships are tied to the snow covered mountains of Utah's Wasatch range AYJA BOUNOUS is a Utah native and avid skier She holds an MA in Environmental Humanities from the University of Utah and bachelor's degrees in Music and Environmental Studies from Santa Clara University She lives in Salt Lake City Utah

American Indian Literature, Environmental Justice, and Ecocriticism Joni Adamson, 2001-01-01 Although much contemporary American Indian literature examines the relationship between humans and the land most Native authors do not set their work in the pristine wilderness celebrated by mainstream nature writers Instead they focus on settings such as reservations open pit mines and contested borderlands Drawing on her own teaching experience among Native Americans and on lessons learned from such recent scenes of confrontation as Chiapas and Black Mesa Joni Adamson explores why what counts as nature is often very different for multicultural writers and activist groups than it is for mainstream environmentalists This powerful book is one of the first to examine the intersections between literature and the environment from the perspective of the oppressions of race class gender and nature and the first to review American Indian literature from the standpoint of environmental justice and ecocriticism By examining such texts as Sherman Alexie's short stories and Leslie Marmon Silko's novel Almanac of the Dead Adamson contends that these works in addition to being literary are examples of ecological criticism that expand Euro American concepts of nature and place Adamson shows that when we begin exploring the differences that shape diverse cultural and literary representations of nature we discover the challenge they present to mainstream American culture environmentalism and literature By comparing the work of Native authors such as Simon Ortiz with that of environmental writers such as Edward Abbey she reveals opportunities for more multicultural conceptions of nature and the environment More than a work of literary criticism this is a book about the search to find ways to understand our cultural and historical differences and similarities in order to arrive at a better agreement of what the human role in nature is and should be It exposes the blind spots in early ecocriticism and shows the possibilities for building common ground a middle place where writers scholars teachers and environmentalists might come together to work for social and environmental change
