Seamus Heaney Harold Bloom, 2009 Provides insight into seven of Heaney's works along with a short biography of the poet

The Art of Translation in Seamus Heaney's Poetry Edward T. Duffy, 2024-03-13 The Art of Translation in Seamus Heaney's Poetry is a critical study of the poet's later work While exploring his practice as a translator it also traces his increasing preoccupation with the possibilities and conditions of translation in the theological sense of being lifted up in spirit To the work of this philosophical poet who would be both earthed and heady this book brings the insights of ordinary language philosophy as practiced by Stanley Cavell It devotes separate chapters to Station Island and three later collections Seeing Things Electric Light and Human Chain The first of these addresses the most fundamental change in Heaney's life when he acknowledges the need and chance to re envisage his Irish Catholic upbringing it is also replete with both the activity and the trope of translation Published seven years later Seeing Things begins with a translation of Virgil's golden bough episode and ends with a similar crossing over into the underworld by Dante Heaney transforms both into poems about poetry In Electric Light Heaney returns to Virgil but now he concentrates not on the hero of the Aeneid but on Virgil's earlier efforts in pastoral a mode of writing that Heaney takes as a model for his own time and place of devastated order Heaney returns to the Aeneid in Human Chain but this time around he gives all his attention to the scene of the human souls in Elysium seeking rebirth and turns it into an image for the need and chance of pronouncing a final Yes to our world and our place in it

Sympathetic Ink Shane Alcobia-Murphy, 2006-01-01 Northern Irish poets have been notably reticent when addressing political issues in their work In Sympathetic Ink Shane Alcobia Murphy traces that tendency through the works of Seamus Heaney Paul Muldoon and Medbh McGuckian Using collections of the poets papers made only recently available Alcobia Murphy focuses on the oblique subtle strategies they apply to critique contemporary political issues He employs the concept of sympathetic ink or invisible ink arguing that rather than avoiding politics these poets have via complex intertextual references and resonances woven them deeply into the formal construction of their works Acute and learned Sympathetic Ink will serve as a perfect introduction to these crucial figures of Irish poetry

Modernism and the Celtic Revival Gregory Castle, 2001-05-21 In Modernism and the Celtic Revival Gregory Castle examines the impact of anthropology on the work of Irish Revivalists such as W B Yeats John M Synge and James Joyce Castle argues that anthropology enabled Irish Revivalists to confront and combat British imperialism even as these Irish writers remained ambivalently dependent on the cultural and political discourses they sought to undermine Castle shows how Irish Modernists employed textual and rhetorical strategies first developed in anthropology to translate reassemble and edit oral and folk cultural material In doing so he claims they confronted and undermined inherited notions of identity which Ireland often a site of ethnographic curiosity throughout the nineteenth century had been subject to Drawing on a wide range of post colonial theory this book should be of interest to scholars in Irish studies post colonial studies and Modernism

The Oxford Handbook of Contemporary British and Irish Poetry Peter Robinson, 2013-09-26 This Handbook offers an authoritative and up to date collection of original essays bringing together ground breaking research into the development of contemporary poetry in Britain and Ireland

Narrative and Voice in Postwar Poetry Neil Roberts, 2014-05-12 Poetry in English since the Second World War has produced a number of highly original narrative works as diverse as Derek Walcott s Omeros Ted Hughes Gaudete and Anne Stevenson s Correspondences At the same time poetry in general has been permeated by narrative features particularly those linguistic characteristics that Mikhail Bakhtin considered peculiar to the novel and which he termed dialogic This book examines the narrative and dialogic elements in the work of a range of poets from Britain America Ireland Australia and the Caribbean including poetry from the immediate postwar years to the contemporary and novel like narratives to personal lyrics Its unifying theme is the way in which these poets with such contrasting styles and from such varied backgrounds respond to and creatively adapt the language worlds and hence the social worlds in which they live The volume includes a detailed bibliography to assist students in further study and will be a valuable resource to undergraduate and postgraduate students of contemporary poetry
