The Attic Pyxis:

The Attic Pyxis Sally Rutherford Roberts, 1978      Kylichnis, the Attic Pyxis Sally Rutherford Roberts, 1970      The Shape of the Attic Red-figured Pyxis, Type A. Sally Rutherford Roberts, 1959      Sally Rutherford Roberts: The attic pyxis Wolf Rudolph, 1980      1996, □□□ □□□□□      The Attic Geometric Pyxis Barbara Bohen, 1979      The Attic Geometric Pyxis Barbara Elizabeth Bohen, 1983      Morgantina Studies, Volume VI Shelley C. Stone, 2015-01-25

Excavation of the ancient city of Morgantina in southeastern Sicily since 1955 has recovered an extraordinary quantity and variety of pottery both locally made and imported. This volume presents the fine ware pottery dating between the second half of the fourth century BCE when Morgantina was a thriving inland center closely tied to the Hellenistic east through Syracuse and the first half of the first century CE when Morgantina had been reduced to a dwindling Roman provincial town that would soon be abandoned. Bearing gloss and often paint or relief, these fine ceramics were mostly tableware and together they provide a well defined picture of the evolving material culture of an important urban site over several centuries. And since virtually all these vessels come from dated deposits, this volume provides wide ranging contributions to the chronology of Hellenistic and early Roman pottery. An introductory chapter sketches out a comprehensive history of the city, discusses the many well dated archaeological deposits that contained the excavated pottery and defines the major fabrics of the ceramics found at the site. The bulk of the volume consists of a scholarly presentation of more than 1 500 pottery vessels analyzing their shapes, fabrics, chronology, decoration and techniques of fabrication. This rich ceramic material includes significant bodies of Republican black gloss and red gloss vases, Sicilian polychrome ware and Eastern Sigillata A as well as early Italian terra sigillata with numerous examples imported from Arezzo and other Italian centers along with regional versions from Campania and elsewhere on Sicily. The relief ware includes important groups of third century BCE medallion cups and hemispherical moldmade cups of the second and first centuries BCE. Morgantina was also an active center of pottery production and the debris from several workshops has been recovered, enabling Shelley Stone to reconstruct the working techniques and materials of the local craftsmen, the range of ceramics they produced and how their products were influenced by pottery imported to the site from elsewhere on Sicily, the Italian mainland and even more distant centers. The volume also presents new information about the sources of the clay used by the Morgantina potters as revealed by X ray fluorescence analysis of selected vases.

The Late Geometric and Early Archaic North-Eastern Aegean Petya Velichkova Ilieva, 2023-12-31

The book focuses on the archaeology of the Late Geometric and Early Archaic North Eastern Aegean through the emergence, manufacture, distribution and consumption of a regional pottery group known as G 2 3 Ware. It offers the first comprehensive in depth study through combination of scientific fabric analysis and traditional morphological, stylistic, comparative and distribution analysis methods. The large body of studied material allows for drawing conclusions on a broader geographical and historical scale in contrast to earlier studies focused on individual sites. The manufacture, distribution and consumption patterns are characterised by diversity which reflects a dynamic multiethnic communication network developed in the Northern Aegean basin in the late 8th and the 7th c BC The adoption of G 2 3 Ware by local Thracian coastal communities is discussed in the light of transfer of knowledge and social practices It is argued that the G 2 3 Ware potters were aware of earlier and contemporaneous ceramic developments in southern Greece and Anatolia and created a blend of pottery features specific for each one of these areas The study deconstructs the forged link between G 2 3 Ware and the Greek colonisation in the area by linking it to a local pre colonial development

The Protoegeometric Aegean Irene S. Lemos, 2002 This is the first full and up to date survey of Aegean archaeology at the beginning of the Iron Age late eleventh and tenth centuries BC since Snodgrass's classic The Dark Age of Greece 1971 These crucial 150 years in the development of ancient Greek society are known as the Protoegeometric period after the characteristic pottery which was commonly in use in the Aegean The book offers a detailed account of old and new discoveries with chapters on pottery metal finds burial customs and architectural remains and how to use them to understand the social and political structure of the society This analysis of the material culture of the period covers not only well known sites such as Athens and Lefkandi but also other less familiar regions many of which are discussed in English for the first time In addition Dr Lemos examines a number of specific issues such as relative and absolute chronology the introduction of iron technology in the Aegean and the use of handmade pottery and jewellery The archaeological record is also used to suggest interpretations of the social and political structure of the society cult practices and the use of Homer in understanding the period The book challenges the description of the period from the collapse of the Mycenaean palace system to the formation of early Greek city states as the Dark Age of Greece Dr Lemos argues that some of the advances on socio economic structures towards the formation of states which were thought to belong to the eighth century BC might have started to develop much earlier in the course of the tenth century
