Mellick, Jeremy Robert Johnson, John Edward Lawson, 2006 Features short novels and story collections by ten of the leading authors in the bizarro genre The Vagina: A Literary and Cultural History Emma L. E. Rees, 2013-08-01 From South Park to Kathy Acker and from Lars Von Trier to Sex and the City women's sexual organs are demonized Rees traces the fascinating evolution of this demonization considering how calling the c word obscene both legitimates and perpetuates the fractured identities of women globally Rees demonstrates how writers artists and filmmakers contend with the dilemma of the vagina's puzzlingly covert visibility In our postmodern porn obsessed culture vaginas appear to be everywhere literally or symbolically but crucially they are as silenced as they are objectified The Vagina A Literary and Cultural History examines the paradox of female genitalia through five fields of artistic expression literature film TV visual and performance art There is a peculiar paradox unlike any other regarding female genitalia Rees focuses on this paradox of what is termed the covert visibility of the vagina and on its monstrous manifestations That is what happens when the female body refuses to be pathologized eroticized or rendered subordinate to the will or intention of another Common and often offensive slang terms for the vagina can be seen as an attempt to divert attention away from the reality of women's lived sexual experiences such that we don't look at the vagina itself slang offers a convenient distraction to something so taboo The Vagina A Literary and Cultural History is an important contribution to the ongoing debate in understanding the feminine identity Monsters and the Monstrous, 2007-01-01 Emerging from depths comes a series of papers dealing with one of the most significant creations that reflects on and critiques human existence Both a warning and a demonstration the monster as myth and metaphor provides an articulation of human imagination that toys with the permissible and impermissible Monsters from zombies to cuddly cartoon characters emerging from sewers from pages of literature propaganda posters movies and heavy metal all are covered in this challenging scholarly collection This volume the third in the series presents a marvellous collection of studies on the metaphor of the monster in literature cinema music culture philosophy history and politics Both historical reflection and concerns of our time are addressed with clarity and written in an accessible manner providing appeal for the scholar and lay reader alike This eclectic collection will be of interest to academics and students working in a range of disciplines such as cultural studies film studies political theory philosophy and literature studies

The Ultra Fuckers Carlton Mellick III, Carlton Mellick (III.), 2008 Tony dreads the idea of going to his wife's company dinner party in Eagle Hills the new upper middleclass gated community that just popped up outside of Scottsdale AZ He hates these Southwestern style planned suburban neighborhoods All of the streets look the same All of the houses look the same All of the people look the same Because everything in Eagle Hills looks exactly the same Tony has trouble finding the dinner party He quickly becomes lost in the sea of red tile roofs The streets seem to go on forever The addresses don't seem to make any sense After hours of navigating the suburban labyrinth Tony discovers that there is something terribly wrong with the Eagle Hills gated community There is something unnatural about the houses around him There is something inhuman about the people staring at him through the windows And no matter how far he drives he can't seem to find his way out Ultra Fuckers is a work of absurd suburban horror in the tradition of Mellick's previous short novel The Menstruating Mall
