Made in Newark Ezra Shales, 2010-06-30 What does it mean to turn the public library or museum into a civic forum Made in Newark describes a turbulent industrial city at the dawn of the twentieth century and the ways it inspired the library's outspoken director John Cotton Dana to collaborate with industrialists social workers educators and New Women This is the story of experimental exhibitions in the library and the founding of the Newark Museum Association a project in which cultural literacy was intertwined with civics and consumption Local artisans demonstrated crafts connecting the cultural institution to the department store school and factory all of which invoked the ideal of municipal patriotism Today as cultural institutions reappraise their relevance Made in Newark explores precedents for contemporary debates over the ways the library and museum engage communities define heritage in a multicultural era and add value to the economy Carry A. Nation Fran Grace, 2001-07-20 Carry A Nation Retelling the Life Fran Grace The story of one of America's most notorious and misunderstood women Carry Nation was 54 when she smashed her first saloon but her life before she started her infamous hatchet crusade has been little known until now In this first scholarly biography of Nation Fran Grace unfolds a story that often contrasts with the image of Nation as Crazy Carry a bellicose blue nosed man hating killjoy Using newly available archival materials and placing Nation in her various historical and cultural contexts Grace retells the crusader's tumultuous life Brought up in antebellum Kentucky Nation lived through the devastation of the Civil War and endured a failed marriage to an alcoholic physician In her early 20s a single mother and a destitute widow she experienced a spiritual crisis Her second marriage to a much older David Nation grew strained under the failure of their Texas farm her exploration into Holiness religion and her attempts to work outside the home When the couple moved to Kansas Nation's disappointments translated into an agenda for social reform Frustrated by the rampant violations of the state's prohibition law and empowered by a sense of divine mission Nation responded with rocks crowbars and hatchets Though much of her last two decades was spent on stage or in jail and in battles with other family members over the future of her unstable adult daughter she edited two newspapers and founded several homes for abused and needy women This complexly woven and delightfully written biography adds depth to the popular image of Carry Nation situating her at the center of major cultural currents in her time Fran Grace is Assistant Professor of Religious Studies at the University of Redlands Religion in North America Catherine L
