Ziefle, 2012-09-28 In David du Plessis and the Assemblies of God Joshua R Ziefle details the complicated tensions that arose during the Charismatic Movement of the 1960s and 1970s He highlights the story of Pentecostal missionary David du Plessis whose deep involvement in every area of the revival illustrates the tenor of the movement and the controversies it engendered Du Plessis's ejection from the ministerial ranks of the Assemblies of God over his continued involvement with non Pentecostals and the denomination's slow but steady rapprochement with the ecumenism of the Charismatic Movement are important themes in this monograph Ultimately Ziefle argues that both du Plessis's enthusiastic embrace of charismatics and the Assemblies own hesitant approach to Spirit filled Roman Catholics and mainline Protestants represent persistent hallmarks of Pentecostalism The Christian Advocate ,1929 Moody Bible Institute Monthly ,1920 The Congregationalist and Christian World ,1915 Christian Weekly ,1906 Evangelicals and the End of Christendom Hugh Chilton, 2019-12-09 Exploring the response of evangelicals to the collapse of Greater Christian Britain in Australia in the long 1960s this book provides a new religious perspective to the end of empire and a fresh national perspective to the end of Christendom In the turbulent 1960s two foundations of the Western world rapidly and unexpectedly collapsed Christendom marked by the dominance of discursive Christianity in public culture and Greater Britain the powerful sentimental and strategic union of Britain and its settler societies disappeared from the collective mental map with startling speed To illuminate these contemporaneous global shifts this book takes as a case study the response of Australian evangelical Christian leaders to the cultural and religious crises encountered between 1959 and 1979 Far from being a narrow national study this book places its case studies in the context of the latest North American and European scholarship on secularisation imperialism and evangelicalism Drawing on a wide range of archival sources it examines critical figures such as Billy Graham Fred Nile and Hans Mol as well as issues of empire counter cultural movements and racial and national identity This study will be of particular interest to any scholar of Evangelicalism in the twentieth century It will also be a useful resource for academics looking into the wider impacts of the decline of Christianity and the British Empire in Western civilisation Christian Thought ,1919 Christian Science Sentinel ,1908
