The Mcdonaldization Of Society An Investigation Into The Changing Character Of Contemporary Social Life:

The McDonaldization of Society George Ritzer, 1996 One of the most noteworthy and popular sociology books of all time The McDonaldization of Society demonstrates the power of the sociological imagination to today's readers in a way that few books have been able to do It is ideal for use in a wide range of undergraduate courses and will be of equal interest to anyone interested in social criticism This book links a large number of social phenomena to McDonaldization some which are directly affected by the principles of the fast food restaurant and others where the effect is more indirect The McDonaldization of Society George Ritzer, 2018-01-12 The author is a proud sponsor of the 2020 SAGE Keith Roberts Teaching Innovations Award enabling graduate students and early career faculty to attend the annual ASA pre conference teaching and learning workshop The book that made McDonaldization part of the lexicon of contemporary sociological theory read by hundreds of thousands of students is now in its Ninth Edition George Ritzer's seminal work of critical sociology The McDonaldization of Society continues to stand as one of the pillars of modern day sociological thought Building on the argument that the fast food restaurant has become the model for the rationalization process today this book links theory to contemporary life in a globalized world and resonates with students in a way that few other books do Ritzer opens students eyes to many current issues and shows how McDonaldization's principles apply to other settings especially in the areas of consumption and globalization This new edition has been significantly reoriented to reflect our experience of McDonaldization in the world of online consumption New to this Edition Examines how retailers like Amazon represent a new era of datafication the transformation of vast amounts of information into quantifiable data Discusses how the digital world has almost unlimited potential to turn consumers into prosumers doing volunteer work formerly done by paid employees This edition is more streamlined than previous editions to sharpen its argument and message and make it more useable as a secondary reading in a wide range of courses The McDonaldization of Social Work Donna Dustin, 2016-02-17 Based upon George Ritzer's McDonaldization of Society thesis and incorporating aspects of social theory this book examines the introduction of care management to social work practice Donna Dustin analyzes care management as an example of the managerial application of efficiency calculability predictability and control to social work practice These principles put to good use in organizations that produce tangible outputs at a profit are being increasingly applied in non profit public sector organizations where the outcomes require intangibles such as professional relationships The author examines whether the McDonaldization process heightens dilemmas such as cost versus rights for professionals working in the social services Using social theory to frame her research with care managers and their managers in the UK the author examines the day to day implications of care management for social work practice and questions whether the construction of service users as customers contributes to empowering practice The book's in depth analysis of the policy background implementation and practice of care management will resonate with social workers in other national contexts such as the US where the care management model has been introduced

The Empire of Mind Michael Strangelove, 2005-12-15 Where many critics see the Internet as an instrument of corporate hegemony Michael Strangelove sees something else an alternative space inhabited by communities dedicated to anarchic freedom culture jamming alternative journalism and resistance to authoritarian forms of consumer capitalism and globalization In The Empire of Mind Dr Strangelove the scholar Canadian Business referred to as the acknowledged dean of Internet entrepreneurs and Wired called the Canadian guru of Internet advertising presents the compelling argument that the Internet and new digital communication technology actually undermine the power of capital producing an alternative symbolic economy Strangelove contends that the Internet breaks with the capitalist logic of commodification and that while television produces a passive consumer audience Internet audiences are more active creative and subversive Writers activists and artists on the Internet undermine commercial media and its management of consumer behaviour a behaviour that is challenged by the Web s tendency toward the disintegration of intellectual property rights Case studies describe the invention of new meaning given to cultural and consumer icons like Barbie and McDonald s and explore how novel modes of online news production alter the representation of the world as it is produced by the mainstream corporate press In the course of exploring new media The Empire of Mind also makes apparent that digital piracy will not be eliminated The Internet community effectively converts private property into public thereby presenting serious obstacles for the management of consumer behaviour and significantly eroding brand value Much to the dismay of the corporate sector online communities are disinterested in the ethics of private property In fact the entire philosophical framework on which capitalism is based is threatened by these alternative means of cultural production

Body Modification Mike Featherstone,2000-06-06 This fascinating collection explores the growing range of body modification practices such as piercing tattooing branding cutting and inserting implants which have sprung up recently in the West It asks whether this implies that we are returning to traditional tribal practices of inscribing identities onto bodies on the part of modern primitives or is body modification better understood as purely cosmetic and decorative with body markings merely temporary signs of transferable loyalties Contributors address the question of the permanence of body transformation through fitness regimes and body building look at the French performance artist Orlan and the Australian performance artist Stelarc who explored Western standard o

Nature Conservation in Southern Africa, 2018-11-26 Nature conservation in southern Africa has always been characterised by an interplay between Capital specific understandings of Morality and forms of Militarism that are all dependent upon the shared subservience and marginalization of animals and certain groups of people in society Although the subjectivity of people has been rendered visible in earlier publications on histories of conservation in southern Africa the subjectivity of animals is hardly ever seriously considered or explicitly dealt with In this edited volume the subjectivity and sentience of animals is explicitly included The contributors argue that the shared human and animal marginalisation and agency in nature conservation in southern Africa and beyond could and should be further explored under the label of sentient conservation Contributors are Malcolm Draper Vupenyu Dzingirai Jan Bart Gewald Michael Glover Paul Hebinck Tariro Kamuti Lindiwe Mangwanya Albert Manhamo Dhoya Snijders Marja Spierenburg Sandra Swart Harry Wels

The Synchronization of National Policies Pertti Alasuutari, 2015-09-25 The Synchronization of National Policies shows how it is possible that there is remarkable uniformity in the policies that the nation states adopt although there is no world government Mainstream research attributes such global governance to the influence of leading countries to functional requirements created by capitalism and technological development or to international organizations This book argues that to understand how national policies are synchronized we need to realize that the global population forms a single global tribe of moderns divided into some 200 clans called nations While previous research on the world culture of moderns has focused on the diffusion of ideas this book concentrates on the active role of local actors who introduce global models and domesticate them to nation states In national policymaking actors justify new policies by international comparisons by the successes and failures of models adopted in other countries and by building and appealing to the authority of international organizations Consequently national policies are synchronized with each other Yet because of the way such domestication of global trends takes place citizens retain and reproduce the understanding that they follow a sovereign national trajectory This book will be of interest to students and scholars of sociology world culture theory globalization international relations and political science Event Volunteering. Karen A. Smith, Leonie Lockstone-Binney, Kirsten Holmes, Tom Baum, 2014-05-09 Volunteers make important contributions across the spectrum of event settings most visibly at high profile mega events such as the Olympic Games they are volunteers are lauded as Games makers unsung heroes and the like Less visibly volunteers are the heart and soul of community events and festivals often undertaking multi faceted roles from event leadership through to operations and ensuring that these celebrations are made possible in the absence of big budgets and professional event staff This book is the first to showcase and advance international research into the volunteering experience at events drawing on the work of key scholars in this field Events of all sizes benefit from volunteer support but event volunteering research is frequently case study based and individually these cases make a limited impact This text brings together cases from around the world specifically including those that expand theoretical and methodological boundaries It features mega events like the 2012 Olympics and the 2011 Rugby World Cup alongside music festivals and sports events New areas that are examined include the benefits of event volunteering for students the role of volunteers in social enterprise events and new methodological approaches to researching this phenomenon specifically ethnographic and cross national studies This innovative book acts as a global source of key information for practitioners and researchers an important text for students of event management and will provide stimulus for further work in this emerging area Re-Thinking the Future of Work Colin C. Williams, 2007-02-28 How will work be organised in the future With its global perspective and critical approach Re Thinking the Future of Work provides not only an overview and examination of the array of competing visions but also a radical rethink about the direction of change The Handbook of Food Research Anne Murcott, Warren Belasco, Peter Jackson, 2013-10-10 This handbook is essential reference for scholars needing a comprehensive overview into research on the social political economic psychological geographical and historical aspects of food Understanding Law and Society Max Travers, 2009-09-10 This textbook on the sociology of law is organised according to the theoretical traditions of sociology and oriented towards providing an accessible but sophisticated introduction to and overview of the central themes problems and debates in this field The book employs an international range of examples including the state minority rights terrorism family violence the legal profession pornography mediation religious tolerance and euthanasia in order to distinguish a sociological approach to law from black letter jurisprudential and empirical policy oriented traditions Beginning with classical consensus and critical sociological approaches the book covers the full range of contemporary perspectives including the new institutionalism feminism the interpretive tradition postmodernism legal pluralism and globalisation It then concludes with a consideration of current theoretical issues as well as a reflection upon the importance of a sociological approach to law Understanding Law and Society provides a clear but critical discussion of the relevant literature along with study questions and guides to further reading It is designed to support courses in law and society and in the sociology of law but will also be of value to others with interests in these areas

Shechter, 2003-11-28 The volume focuses on three countries Egypt Israel and Turkey earlier the Ottoman Empire in the period between the mid nineteenth and the early Twenty first centuries It studies the consumption of homes and domesticity as changing processes in space and time It further foregrounds research into the impact of economic political and socio cultural transformations on the private life of individuals Even more so the volume advances the discussion on the processes of restructuring of self identity and lifestyles via acts of consumption The volume focuses on the market where producers and consumers meet the state and the national movements with their respective ideologies and practices the role of advertisers but also the agency of individual and group choice In addition it discusses in different ways the close interrelations between the representation of home and domestic life for example in journals books and photography and the political economy of house consumption Thus this volume avoids the notion of linearity and progress in the transition to modern lifestyles in favour of more subtle accounts of the different venues in which people in the Middle East restructure their most immediate and intimate surroundings
