Understanding Blindness Mark Hollins,2022-02-16 Originally published in 1989 much was known about blindness but the field was divided into specialties Experts in the different areas were widely dispersed among university departments rehabilitation agencies and school systems with the result that people in one specialty area often knew little about developments in other areas It was hoped that this work would be useful in reducing that isolation by presenting within a single volume basic information derived from different approaches to the subject of blindness Individuals already familiar with material in some of the chapters could gain added perspective on the field as a whole by reading about other aspects of blindness outside their specialty area

The Blind in History and Society: Wisdom vs. Despair Mehmet Emin Demirci, This book will examine all aspects of the relationship between the blind and the rest of society within the framework of the attitudes that represent a most productive area of social psychology The reader will learn that historic figures did not consider their blindness a hindrance to their achievements be they famous literary personalities or Nobel Prize Laureate The lives of outstanding blind persons such as Democritus al Maarri D hring Rodrigo Dal n Borges Ostrovsky and even Ray Charles will be examined while placing blindness and the blind at the center of social relationships utilizing rich historical presentations and comprehensive analysis This book will be of interest to many professionals educators historians social scientists and general readers

Information about Visual Impairment for Architects and Transit Planners ,1981 Woeful Afflictions Mary Klages,2016-11-11 From Tiny Tim to Helen Keller disabled people in the nineteenth century were portrayed in sentimental terms as afflicted beings whose sufferings afforded ablebodied people opportunities to practice empathy and compassion In all kinds of representations of disability from popular fiction to the reports of institutions established for the education and rehabilitation of disabled people the equation of disability and sentimentality served a variety of social functions from ensuring the continued existence of a sympathetic sensibility in a hard hearted market driven world to asserting the selfhood and equality of disabled adults Unique in its focus on blindness and its examination of the interplay between institutional discourse and popular literature Woeful Afflictions offers a detailed historical analysis of the types of cultural work performed by sentimental representations of disability in public reports and lectures exhibitions novels stories poems autobiographical writings and popular media portrayals from the 1830s through the 1890s in the United States Woeful Afflictions combines contemporary scholarship on sentimentalism with the most recent works on the cultural meanings of disability to argue that sentimentalism with its emphasis on creating emotional identifications between texts and readers both reinforces existing associations between disability and otherness and works to rewrite those associations in portraying disabled people in their emotional capacities as no different from the ablebodied This book will interest anyone concerned with disability studies and the social construction of the body with the history of education and of public institutional care in the United States and with autobiographical writings Self-esteem and Adjusting with Blindness Dean W. Tuttle, Naomi R. Tuttle, 2004 This new and expanded Third Edition analyzes blindness within the context of two overlapping theoretical constructs the development of self esteem and the process of adjusting to social and or physical trauma The book is divided into four sections The first section provides an overview of blindness and the essential background for subsequent discussions Section II explores the general theoretical model for the development of self esteem common to all persons and analyzes the impact that blindness imposes upon this model Section III explores the process of coping with social and physical traumas or crises Section IV is addressed primarily to members of the blind person s support team and provides suggestions for creating a climate for optimum development Factors that may influence the adjustment process descriptions of external and internal sources of self esteem activities for stimulating affective growth and guidelines for professionals who work with the blind are included Personal impacts and psychosocial implications of blindness are discussed in depth and illustrated with biographical and autobiographical statements by more than 50 blind men and women This book will serve as an excellent review and refresher for experienced practitioners and administrators working in the field of blindness Professionals in education social work vocational counseling rehabilitation recreation therapy ophthalmology and optometry will find this comprehensive resource to be an invaluable addition to their libraries
