

THE MEDITERRANEAN

The Mediterranean Sea is a large body of water located between Europe, Africa, and Asia. It is the second largest body of water in the world, after the Atlantic Ocean. The sea is surrounded by 22 countries and is a major center of trade and transportation. The word 'Mediterranean' comes from the Latin word 'mediterraneus', which means 'in the middle of the land'.

The Mediterranean Sea has a long history of being a center of trade and transportation. It was one of the first bodies of water to be used for trade, and it has remained an important center of trade and transportation ever since. The sea is a major source of food and resources for the people who live around it, and it is a vital part of the global economy.
