The Babylonian Talmud and Late Antique Book Culture Monika Amsler, 2023-04-06 A new theory of the Talmud's formation based on comparison with late antique intellectual and material standards of book production Rhetoric and Philosophy from Greek into Syriac John W. Watt, 2024-12-11 Shortly after 500 CE the Syriac speaking priest and physician Sergius of Reshaina who had studied in Alexandria wrote the first known exposition of Aristotle in a Semitic language About four centuries later Abu Bishr Matta an alumnus of the monastic school of Dayr Qunna in Iraq completed in Baghdad the Arabic version of the Aristotelian Organon with translations from the Syriac and in a famous disputation argued the case for Greek logic as a theory of knowledge against rival claims of Arabic grammarians The articles collected in this volume are concerned with the transmission and development of the Greek achievement among Syriac scholars of the Fertile Crescent during these four centuries particularly in the fields of rhetoric and philosophy Some range broadly over general areas such as the Syriac appropriation of Greek liberal education or the educational curriculum in Syriac monastic schools while others focus on themes of particular interest including the influence of Aristotle's Rhetoric or the concept of the philosopher king Cumulatively they show how many aspects of Greek culture were received and elaborated in Syriac and contribute to understanding the ways in which that culture exercised a powerful influence on the medieval Near East and the burgeoning Islamic civilisation
