The Compulsion To Confess:

The Compulsion to Confess Theodor Reik, 1972 The Compulsion to Confess Theodor Reik, 1966 The ^Aerotics of Talk Carla Kaplan, 1996-12-12 Is feminism in crisis With many feminists now questioning identification and focusing on differences between women what is the fate of feminist criticism s traditional imperative to rescue women s stories and make their voices heard In this provocative rereading of the classic texts of the feminist literary canon Carla Kaplan takes a hard look at the legacy of feminist criticism and argues that important features of feminism s own canon have been overlooked in the rush to rescue and identify texts African American women s texts she demonstrates often dramatize their distrust of their readers their lack of faith in the cultural conversation through strategies of self silencing and self talk At the same time she argues the homoerotics of women s writing has too often gone unremarked Not only does longing for an ideal listener draw women s texts into a romance with the reader but there is an erotic excess which is part of feminist critical recuperation itself Drawing on a wide range of resources from sociolinguistics and anthropology to literary theory Kaplan s highly readable study proposes a new model for understanding and representing talk She supplies fresh readings of such feminist classics as Jane Eyre The Yellow Wallpaper Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl Their Eyes Were Watching God and The Color Purple revealing how their erotics of talk works as a rich political allegory and form of social critique The Art of Confession Christopher Grobe, 2017-11-07 The Art of Confession tells the history of this cultural shift and of the movement it created in American art confessionalism Like realism or romanticism confessionalism began in one art form but soon pervaded them all poetry and comedy in the 1950s and 60s performance art in the 70s theater in the 80s television in the 90s and online video and social media in the 2000s Everywhere confessionalism went it stood against autobiography the art of the closed book Instead of just publishing these artists performed with around and against the text of their lives

Compulsion to Confess Theodor Reik, 1945 Confession Jeremy Tambling, 1990 Enchantments of the Clinic Carl P. Ellerman, 2010-06-02 Reflecting on his experience in the clinical trenches a pragmatic existential therapist offers a provocative study of power erotic influence and illusion in the clinical relationship Written in a conversational style that makes a challenging subject accessible to specialists in the clinical professions teachers and students of the psychological disciplines and scholars in the humanities and social sciences Enchantments of the Clinic introduces readers to interesting ways in which language ideas and speech as well as illusions of the clinical station enable therapists to cast an unintentional spell that captivates and charms unsuspecting patients Exposing this suggestive underworld of clinical experience where the high stakes game of persuasive dialogical therapy is often won or lost critical attention is focused on the erotization of the clinic the erotization of the clinician and the erotization of clinical confession Using dramatic examples from clinical practice Carl P. Ellerman challenges prevailing dogmas of the therapeutic to demonstrate his thesis that enchantments of the clinic facilitate psychological healing if managed well but if mismanaged these volatile erotic enchantments may undermine the struggle against emotional illness in the clinical trenches This ambitious study of the clinical relationship also addresses the disturbing fact that we are dwelling in a postmodern era in which clinical nihilism is flourishing Ellerman conceives the dialogical therapist as a potentially dangerous ethically vulnerable therapeutic artiste whose strategic encounters in the postmodern clinic may be likened to aesthetic experiences in which an education to reality and a love of truth are obsolete or irrelevant notwithstanding a clinical masquerade that reinforces in spellbound patients a blind trust in the phantastic therapist's honesty truthfulness and intellectual integrity Embracing the Socratic mystique Ellerman offers a vigorous philosophic critique of clinical nihilism

Modern Literature and the Death Penalty, 1890-1950 Katherine Ebury, 2021-02-10 This book examines how the cultural and ethical power of literature allowed writers and readers to reflect on the practice of capital punishment in the UK Ireland and the US between 1890 and 1950 It explores how connections between high and popular culture seem particularly inextricable where the death penalty is at stake analysing a range of forms including major works of canonical literature detective fiction plays polemics criminological and psychoanalytic tracts and letters and memoirs The book addresses conceptual understandings of the modern death penalty including themes such as confession the gothic life writing and the human animal binary It also discusses the role of conflict in shaping the representation of capital punishment including chapters on the Easter Rising on World War I on colonial and quasi colonial conflict and on World War II Ebury's overall approach aims to improve our understanding of the centrality of the death penalty and the role it played in major twentieth century literary movements and historical events

The Culture of Confession from Augustine to Foucault Chloe Taylor, 2010-05-26 Drawing on the work of Foucault and Western confessional writings this book challenges the transhistorical and commonsense views of confession as an innate impulse resulting in the psychological liberation of the confessing subject Instead confessional desire is argued to be contingent and constraining and alternatives to confessional subjectivity are explored

Troubling Confessions Peter Brooks, 2000-05-22 Literature has often understood the problematic nature of confession better than the law as Brooks demonstrates in perceptive readings of legal cases set against works by Rousseau Dostoevsky Joyce and Camus among others BOOK JACKET Thought Reform and the Psychology of Totalism Robert Jay Lifton, 2012-01-01 Informed by Erik Erikson's concept of the formation of ego identity this book which first appeared in 1961 is an analysis of the experiences of fifteen Chinese citizens and twenty five Westerners who underwent brainwashing by the Communist Chinese government Robert Lifton constructs these case histories through personal interviews and outlines a thematic pattern of death and rebirth accompanied by feelings of guilt that characterizes the process of thought reform In a new preface Lifton addresses the implications of his model for the study of American religious cults

Investigative Ethics Seumas Miller, Ian A. Gordon, 2014-06-03 Investigative Ethics Ethics for Police Detectives and Criminal Investigators presents applied philosophical analyses of the ethical issues that arise for police detectives and other investigators in contemporary society Explores ethical issues relating to investigative independence rights of victims and suspects use of informants entrapment privacy and surveillance undercover operations deception and suspect interviewing Represents the first monograph providing a detailed consideration of ethical issues in police investigations Features authorship by an applied philosopher specializing in police ethics and a former UK senior police officer Combined authorship ensures the text is anchored in actual police practice as well as providing high quality ethical analysis

Joyce/Foucault Wolfgang Streit,2009-12-21 Sheds new light on James Joyce s use of sexual motifs as cultural raw material for Ulysses and other works Joyce Foucault Sexual Confessions examines instances of sexual confession in works of James Joyce with a special emphasis on Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man and Ulysses Using Michel Foucault s historical analysis of Western sexuality as its theoretical underpinning the book foregrounds the role of the Jesuit order in the spread of a confessional force and finds this influence inscribed into Joyce s major texts Wolfgang Streit goes on to argue that the tension between the texts erotic passages and Joyce s criticism of even his own sexual writing energizes Joyce s narratives and enables Joyce to develop the radical skepticism of power revealed in his work Wolfgang Streit is Lecturer Ludwig Maximilians University Munich

Records and Briefs of the United States Supreme Court ,1957 California. Court of Appeal (1st Appellate District). Records and Briefs California (State)., Right to Counsel and Privilege against Self-Incrimination John B. Taylor,2004-10-26 An extensive analysis of two complementary rights of the accused their interpretation by the U S Supreme Court and the ongoing debate over their role in the criminal justice system Right to Counsel and Privilege against Self Incrimination Rights and Liberties under the Law explores the origins historical development current status and future of two rights intended to protect persons accused of crimes Two shocking case studies Powell v Alabama and Brown v Mississippi reveal the brutal injustices suffered by Southern blacks in the 1930s and explain how the Supreme Court made landmark decisions to expand the coverage of the right to counsel and the privilege against self incrimination After a brief review of the English and colonial origins of these rights a careful analysis of each focuses primarily on the revolutionary cases of the 20th century that produced a convergence of these rights in the famous case of Miranda v Arizona 1966 The work examines subsequent cases and discusses issues that lie ahead including those related to the war on terror

James Joyce and the Burden of Disease Kathleen Ferris,2021-10-21 James Joyce s near blindness his peculiar gait and his death from perforated ulcers are commonplace knowledge to most of his readers But until now most Joyce scholars have not recognized that these symptoms point to a diagnosis of syphilis Kathleen Ferris traces Joyce s medical history as described in his correspondence in the diaries of his brother Stanislaus and in the memoirs of his acquaintances to show that many of his symptoms match those of tabes dorsalis a form of neurosyphilis which untreated eventually leads to paralysis Combining literary analysis and medical detection Ferris builds a convincing case that this dread disease is the subject of much of Joyce s autobiographical writing Many of this characters most notably Stephen Dedalus and Leopold Bloom exhibit the same symptoms as their creator stiffness of gait digestive problems hallucinations and impaired vision Ferris also demonstrates that the themes of sin guilt and retribution so prevalent in Joyce s works are almost certainly a consequence of his having contracted venereal disease as a young man while frequenting the brothels of Dublin and Paris By tracing the images puns and metaphors in Ulysses and Finnegans Wake and by demonstrating their relationship to Joyce s experiences Ferris shows the extent to which for Joyce art did indeed mirror life California. Supreme Court. Records and Briefs California (State)., Court of Appeal Case s A041831 Rediscovering Confession David A. Steere,2009-05-26 Rediscovering Confession is about recovering the experience of confession in danger now of becoming a lost art It identifies four elements present in psychotherapy and confession a state of heightened self awareness a growing realization that our predicament points in some meaningful direction beyond itself the necessity to make a relevant response to our situation and a potential for spiritual encounter that accompanies the process Each chapter contains a section devoted to practice with exercises for individual contemplation and experimentation guidelines for forming a confessional partnership directions for conducting discussions in a study group and ways to organize a small confessional group
