The Pragmatics Of Propositional Attitude Reports:

The Pragmatics of Propositional Attitude Reports Katarzyna Jaszczyk, 2021-10-01 This volume the fourth in the Current Research in Semantics Pragmatics Interface series is a collection of nine papers dealing with the topic of reporting on beliefs and other attitudes and in particular with the issue of the semantics pragmatics boundary dispute which is the core topic of the current research in the field Written by highly regarded philosophers of language and linguists working on theoretical semantics and pragmatics it brings together works in the mainstream tradition of logical form and the contextualism anticontextualism debate and the research on the role of intentions conventions goals plans and cultural stereotypes in attitude ascriptions The editor's introductory chapter gives a valuable overview of the work discussing the importance of all these aspects of propositional attitude research and stressing their compatibility and interdependence

Telling What She Thinks Tomoo Ueda, 2015-09-25 Frege's puzzle concerning belief reports has been in the middle of the discussion on semantics and pragmatics of attitude reports The intuition behind the opacity does not seem to be consistent with the thesis of semantic innocence according to which the semantic value of proper names is nothing but their referent Main tasks of this book include providing truth conditional content of belief reports Especially the focus is on semantic values of proper names The key aim is to extend Crimmins's basic idea of semantic pretense and the introduction of pleonastic entities proposed by Schiffer They enable us to capture Frege's puzzle in the analysis without giving up semantic innocence To reach this conclusion two issues are established First based on linguistic evidence the frame of belief reports functions adverbially rather than relationally Second the belief ascriptions on which each belief report is made must be analyzed in terms of the measurement theoretic analogy

Attitude Reports Thomas Grano, 2021-06-03 A critical survey of key issues in the analysis of propositional attitude reports a central topic in natural language semantics

The Pragmatics of Indirect Reports Alessandro Capone, 2016-11-03 This monograph on indirect reports offers insights on the semantics pragmatics interface and a refinement of the notion of explicature The volume is written in an engaging style and guides the reader through the theoretical problems and their ramifications The thorniest problem in the study of indirect reports is their polyphonic nature and how the listener distinguishes between the reporter's voice and the original speaker's voice either by contextual clues or in the absence of such clues by resorting to pragmatic principles The introductory chapter discusses the main issues that will be addressed in the volume The next chapters focus on the various aspects of indirect reports covering both theory and practical applications

Pragmatic Markers and Propositional Attitude Gisle Andersen, Thorstein Fretheim, 2000-07-15 In interactive discourse we not only express propositions but we also express different attitudes to them That is we communicate how our mind entertains those propositions that we express A speaker is able to express an attitude of belief desire hope doubt fear regret or pretence that a given proposition represents a true state of affairs This collection of papers explores the contribution of particles and other uninflected mood indicating function words to the expression of propositional attitude in the broad sense Some languages employ this type of attitude marking device extensively even for the expression of basic moods and basic speech act categories other languages use such markers sparsely and always in interaction with syntactic form Both types of language are examined in this volume which includes studies of attitudinal markers in Amharic English Gascon Occitan German Greek Hausa Hungarian Japanese Norwegian and Swahili The theoretical emphasis is on issues such as interpretive vs descriptive use of utterances or utterance parts procedural semantics linguistic underdetermination of the proposition expressed and the speaker's communicated attitude to it higher level explicatures in the relevance theoretic sense the explicit implicit distinction as well as processes of grammaticalization and negotiation of propositional attitude in spoken interaction

The Cambridge Handbook of Pragmatics Keith Allan, Kasia M. Jaszczolt, 2012-01-12 Pragmatics is the study of human communication the choices speakers make to express their intended meaning and the kinds of inferences that hearers draw from an utterance in the context of its use This Handbook surveys pragmatics from different perspectives presenting the main theories in pragmatic research incorporating seminal research as well as cutting edge solutions It addresses questions of rational and empirical research methods what counts as an adequate and successful pragmatic theory and how to go about answering problems raised in pragmatic theory In the fast developing field of pragmatics this Handbook fills the gap in the market for a one stop resource to the wide scope of today's research and the intricacy of the many theoretical debates It is an authoritative guide for graduate students and researchers with its focus on the areas and theories that will mark progress in pragmatic research in the future

Utterance Interpretation and Cognitive Models Philippe de Brabanter, Mikhail Kissine, 2009 Reconciles armchair theorising about the semantics pragmatics interface with hypotheses about cognitive architecture This book concerns with the cognitive counterparts of lexical meanings It also explores the links between moods and forces It looks at the epistemological status of semantic theory from the point of view of human psychology

Presuppositions and Discourse Rainer Bäuerle, U. Reyle, Thomas Ede Zimmermann, 2010 Undoubtedly presupposition theory is a major chapter in the success story of dynamic semantics This book features papers on this topic based on a conference on Presupposition convened in Stuttgart in October 2000

Shifting the Focus Daniel Wedgwood, 2021-10-01 How direct is the mapping between linguistic constructions and their interpretations Much less direct than we commonly assume according to Daniel Wedgwood Extending current ideas from frameworks like Relevance Theory and Dynamic Syntax Wedgwood upholds a radical position on modelling linguistic competence the idea of interfacing static syntactic and semantic representations must be abandoned in favour of models of the incremental construction of meaning during parsing which may involve significant pragmatic enrichment In illustration Wedgwood presents a detailed study of a key meeting point of grammar and pragmatics focus in particular its syntactic expression in Hungarian The result is a strikingly simple explanation of a complex set of syntactico semantic phenomena touching on information structure negation quantification and complex predication For its clear and bold theoretical argumentation and its novel analysis of some notorious data this book will be of interest to all linguists philosophers and computational linguists concerned with the relationships between syntax semantics pragmatics and information structure This book features a broad theoretical perspective It offers a coherent overall picture of syntax semantics and pragmatics and how they inter relate It combines a bold new approach with the insights of existing theory thorough novel analysis of linguistic phenomena that historically occupy an important place in the literature as illustration of a carefully laid out theoretical position It extends and integrates research from a variety of linguistic domains and frameworks It also includes a comprehensive informal discussion as well as a formalised analysis
