Contemporary Research on Intertextuality in Video Games Duret, Christophe, Pons, Christian-Marie, 2016-06-16 Culture is dependent upon intertextuality to fuel the consumption and production of new media The notion of intertextuality has gone through many iterations but what remains constant is its stalwart application to bring to light what audiences value through the marriages of disparate ideology and references Videogames in particular have a longstanding tradition of weaving texts together in multimedia formats that interact directly with players Contemporary Research on Intertextuality in Video Games brings together game scholars to analyze the impact of video games through the lenses of transmediality intermediality hypertextuality architextuality and paratextuality Unique in its endeavor this publication discusses the vast web of interconnected texts that feed into digital games and their players This book is essential reading for game theorists designers sociologists and researchers in the fields of communication sciences literature and media studies Time to Play Katarzyna Zimna, 2014-12-09 Play art or interactive art is becoming a central concept in the contemporary art world disrupting the traditional role of passive observance usually assumed by audiences allowing them active participation The work of play artists from Carsten Holler's Test Site at the Tate Modern to Gabriel Orozco's Ping Pong Table must be touched influenced and experienced the gallery goer is no longer a spectator but a co creator Time to Play explores the role of play as a central but neglected concept in aesthetics and a model for ground breaking modern and postmodern experiments that have intended to blur the boundary between art and life Moving freely between disciplines Katarzyna Zimna links the theory and history of 20th and 21st century art with ideas developed within play game and leisure studies and the philosophical theories of Kant Gadamer and Derrida to critically engage with current discussion on the role of the artist viewers curators and their spaces of encounter She combines a consideration of the philosophical implications of play with the examination of how it is actually used in modern and postmodern art looking at Dada Surrealism Fluxus and Relational Aesthetics Focusing mainly on process based art this bold book proposes a fresh approach reaching beyond classical cultural theories of play

Gutenberg Two Dave Godfrey, Douglas F. Parkhill, 1980 The bestselling author of Tribes and The Dip returns with his most powerful book yet in which he explores why some people make a difference in their fields and others don't Irma Stern and the Racial Paradox of South African Modern Art LaNitra M. Berger, 2020-11-12 South African artist Irma Stern 1894-1966 is one of the nation's most enigmatic modern figures Stern held conservative political positions on race even as her subjects openly challenged racism and later the apartheid regime Using paintings archival research and new interviews this book explores how Stern became South Africa's most prolific painter of Black Jewish and Colored mixed race life while maintaining controversial positions on race Through her art Stern played a crucial role in both the development of modernism in South Africa and in defining modernism as a global movement Spanning the Boer War to Nazi Germany to apartheid South Africa and into the contemporary RhodesMustFall movement Irma Stern's work documents important twentieth century cultural and political moments More than fifty years after her death Stern's legacy challenges assumptions about race gender roles and religious identity and how they are represented in art history
