systems adopted perpetual production systems as well extending work into the night and forcing workers to work the night shift normalising it as part of an alternative non capitalist modernity This volume draws attention to the extended work hours and night shift work which have remained underexplored in the history of labour and the social science literature By describing and comparing various political and economic regimes it argues that from the viewpoint of global labour history night labour and the spread of 24 7 production and services should not be seen only and exclusively as an epiphenomenon of capitalist production but rather as one of the outcomes of industrial modernity
