Building Anglo-Saxon England John Blair, 2021-10-12 Shortlisted for the Wolfson History Prize A radical rethinking of the Anglo Saxon world that draws on the latest archaeological discoveries This beautifully illustrated book draws on the latest archaeological discoveries to present a radical reappraisal of the Anglo Saxon built environment and its inhabitants John Blair one of the world's leading experts on this transformative era in England's early history explains the origins of towns manor houses and castles in a completely new way and sheds new light on the important functions of buildings and settlements in shaping people's lives during the age of the Venerable Bede and King Alfred Building Anglo Saxon England demonstrates how hundreds of recent excavations enable us to grasp for the first time how regionally diverse the built environment of the Anglo Saxons truly was Blair identifies a zone of eastern England with access to the North Sea whose economy prosperity and timber buildings had more in common with the Low Countries and Scandinavia than the rest of England The origins of villages and their field systems emerge with a new clarity as does the royal administrative organization of the kingdom of Mercia which dominated central England for two centuries Featuring a wealth of color illustrations throughout Building Anglo Saxon England explores how the natural landscape was modified to accommodate human activity and how many settlements secular and religious were laid out with geometrical precision by specialist surveyors The book also shows how the Anglo Saxon love of elegant and intricate decoration is reflected in the construction of the living environment which in some ways was more sophisticated than it would become after the Norman Conquest

Newspaper Building Design and Journalism Cultures in Australia and the UK: 1855-2010 Carole O'Reilly, Josie Vine, 2022-11-30 This book examines the micro cultural ideologies of the journalism profession in Britain and Australia by focusing on the design execution and development of newspaper building architecture Concentrating on the main newspaper buildings in some of the major metropolitan areas in Australia Melbourne

Sydney Adelaide and the UK Manchester London Edinburgh and Liverpool from 1855 to 2010 Newspaper Building Design and Journalism Cultures in Australia and the UK 1855 2010 interweaves a rich analysis of spatial characteristics of newspaper offices with compelling anecdotes from journalists working lives to examine the history evolution and precarious future of the physical newsroom and the surrounding interior and exterior space The book argues that newspaper buildings are designed to accommodate and extend journalism's professional values and belief systems over time and that their architecture reflects ideological change and continuity in these value and belief systems such as the evolution from trade to profession Ancillary factors such as the influence of the newspapers owners on the building design and the financing of new structures are also considered As professional practice rapidly shifts out of the newspaper offices this insightful study questions what this may mean for the future of the industry Newspaper Building Design and Journalism Cultures in Australia and the UK 1855 2010 will benefit academics and researchers in the areas of media journalism cultural studies and urban history

Books, Buildings and Social Engineering Alistair Black, Simon Pepper, Kaye Bagshaw, 2017-05-15 Public libraries have strangely never been the subject of an extensive design history Consequently this important and comprehensive book represents a ground breaking socio architectural study of pre 1939 public library buildings A surprisingly high proportion of these urban civic buildings remain intact and present an increasingly difficult architectural problem for many communities The book thus includes a study of what is happening to these historic libraries now and proposes that knowledge of their origins and early development can help build an understanding of how best to handle their future

Building The H Bomb: A Personal History Kenneth W Ford, 2015-03-25 In this engaging scientific memoir Kenneth Ford recounts the time when in his mid twenties he was a member of the team that designed and built the first hydrogen bomb He worked with and relaxed with scientific giants of that time such as Edward Teller Enrico Fermi Stan Ulam John von Neumann and John Wheeler and here offers illuminating insights into the personalities the strengths and the quirks of these men Well known for his ability to explain physics to nonspecialists Ford also brings to life the physics of fission and fusion and provides a brief history of nuclear science from the discovery of radioactivity in 1896 to the ten megaton explosion of Mike that obliterated a Pacific Island in 1952 Ford worked at both Los Alamos and Princeton's Project Matterhorn and brings out Matterhorn's major but previously unheralded contribution to the development of the H bomb Outside the lab he drove a battered Chevrolet around New Mexico a bantam motorcycle across the country and a British roadster around New Jersey Part of the charm of Ford's book is the way in which he leavens his well researched descriptions of the scientific work with brief tales of his life away from weapons
