Studio International ,1974 Vision, the Gaze, and the Function of the Senses in “Celestina” James F. Burke,2015-08-10 The plot of the late medieval Spanish work Celestina 1499 centers on the ill fated love of Calisto and

Melibeia and the fascinating character of their intermediary Celestina In this ground breaking rereading of the play James F Burke offers a new interpretation of the characters actions by analyzing medieval theories of perception that would have influenced the composition of Celestina Drawing upon a variety of texts and thinkers including the medieval theories of Thomas Aquinas the Renaissance treatises of Marsilio Ficino the classical philosophy of Aristotle and the modern psychology of Jacques Lacan Burke relates ancient and medieval theories of sensory functions to modern understandings He demonstrates that modern concepts of the gaze have their premodern analogy in the idea of an all encompassing sensory field both visual and auditory that surrounded and enveloped each individual Touching on medieval theories of the evil eye the sonic sphere and the banquet of the senses Burke offers a new perspective on the use and manipulation of sensory input by the characters of Celestina This book will be welcomed not only by students of Spanish literature but also by those interested in new ways of approaching medieval and Renaissance texts      Scientifica Hermetica Albert Sidney

Raleigh,1916      The National Union Catalog, Pre-1956 Imprints ,1976      Psychoanalytic Perspectives on Art, V. 3 Mary M. Gedo,2013-05-13 This new hardcover annual offers a unique scholarly format an interdisciplinary dialogue that it is hoped will foster the development of a sound useful methodology for applying psychoanalytic insight to art and artists The series provides a medium for those who study art those who interpret it and occasionally those who create it formally to explore the meaning of an artistic work as the direct reflection of the inner world of its creator Within each volume individual topics are addressed by either an art historian or a psychoanalyst with a response frequently tendered by an expert from the other field Reviews of important books of cross disciplinary interest are treated in a similar manner and include rebuttals by the authors themselves It is precisely this exchange of ideas among scholars with difference perspectives on the meaning of a work of art that sets PPA apart from the standard art history publication Its depth of scholarship coupled with its innovative format make it a fascinating addition to the burgeoning field of psychoanalytic studies of art history      Reading Emptiness

Windows of the Soul Martin Porter,2005-09-29 In late fifteenth century Florence Renaissance humanists rediscovered a secret natural language hidden in the visual wisdom of the proverb the eyes are the windows of the soul Through its magical prism the language of eyes faces voices laughs walks even stones plants and animals all became windows into the souls of other people of oneself of nature and ultimately of God Some saw in its words the perfect hieroglyphic language by which Adam had first named nature which when combined with the art of memory could bring about a form of inner writing or mystical self transformation Yet many others dismissed it as a collection of arbitrary conventions superstitious enigmas or gypsy riddles Embroiled in the religious persecution of the Reformation rejected as a science during the Scientific Revolution in the age of Enlightenment physiognomy came to be seen as nothing more than an amusing entertainment But with the dawn of Romanticism be it in the realms of science religion or poetry some began to see that physiognomy was no game and the flame of serious interest in physiognomy was once again rekindled Combining book history and visual history Dr Porter reconstructs this physiognomical eye interprets the way in which books on physiognomy were read and traces the wider intellectual social and cultural changes that contributed to the metamorphosis of this way of beholding oneself and the natural world from the Renaissance to the dawn of Romanticism
