The Method and Theory of V. Gordon Childe Barbara MacNairn,1980 The Method and Theory of V. Gordon Childe Barbara McNairn,1980 The Method and Theory of V. Gordon Childe B. E. McNairn,1978 Method and Theory of V. Gordon Childe Barbara McNairn,1978 Archäologien Europas / Archaeologies of Europe Alexander Gramsch, Arkadiusz Marciniak, Peter F. Biehl, Peter F. Biehl, Alexander Gramsch, Arkadiusz Marciniak,2002 Archaeology: The Key Concepts Colin Renfrew, Paul Bahn,2013-09-05 An invaluable resource providing an up to date and comprehensive survey of the key terms used in this discipline today The Oxford Companion to Archaeology Neil Asher Silberman,2012-11 The second edition of The Oxford Companion to Archaeology is a thoroughly up to date resource with new entries exploring the many advances in the field since the first edition published in 1996 In 700 entries the second edition provides thorough coverage to historical archaeology the development of archaeology as a field of study and the way the discipline works to explain the past In addition to these theoretical entries other entries describe the major excavations discoveries and innovations from the discovery of the cave paintings at Lascaux to the deciphering of Egyptian hieroglyphics and the use of luminescence dating Recent developments in methods and analytical techniques which have revolutionized the ways excavations are performed are also covered as well as new areas within archeology such as cultural tourism and major new sites which have expanded our understanding of prehistory and human developments through time In addition to significant expansion first edition entries have been thoroughly revised and updated to reflect the progress that has been made in the last decade and a half A History of Anthropological Theory Paul A. Erickson, Liam Donat Murphy,2008-01-01 This overview of the history of anthropological theory provides a comprehensive history from antiquity through to the twenty first century with a focus on the twentieth century and beyond Unlike other volumes it also offers a four field introduction to theory As a stand alone text or used in conjunction with the companion volume Readings for a History of Anthropological Theory Erickson and Murphy offer a comprehensive affordable and contemporary introduction to anthropological theory The third edition has been updated and fully revised throughout to closely parallel the presentation in the companion reader making it easier to use both books in tandem New original essays by contemporary theorists bring theories to life and portraits of important theorists make it a handsome volume Sources and suggested readings have been updated and glossary definitions have been updated streamlined and standardized The Retreat of Scientific Racism Elazar Barkan,1992 This fascinating study in the sociology of knowledge documents the refutation of scientific foundations for racism in Britain and the United States between the two World Wars when racial differences were no longer attributed to cultural factors Professor Barkan considers the social significance of this transformation particularly its effect on race relations in the modern world Discussing the work of the leading biologists and anthropologists who wrote between the wars he argues that the impetus for the shift in ideologies came from the inclusion of outsiders women Jews and leftists who infused greater

egalitarianism into scientific discourse But even though the emerging view of race was constrained by a scientific language he shows that modern theorists were as much influenced by social and political events as were their predecessors

Life-writing in the History of Archaeology Gabriel Moshenska, Clare Lewis, 2023-07-10 Life writing is a vital part of the history of archaeology and a growing field of scholarship within the discipline The lives of archaeologists are entangled with histories of museums and collections developments in science and scholarship and narratives of nationalism and colonialism into the present In recent years life writing has played an important role in the surge of new research in the history of archaeology including ground breaking studies of discipline formation institutionalisation and social and intellectual networks Sources such as diaries wills film and the growing body of digital records are powerful tools for highlighting the contributions of hitherto marginalised archaeological lives including many pioneering women hired labourers and other hidden hands This book brings together critical perspectives on life writing in the history of archaeology from leading figures in the field These include studies of archive formation and use the concept of dig writing as a distinctive genre of archaeological creativity and reviews of new sources for already well known lives Several chapters reflect on the experience of life writing review the historiography of the field and assess the intellectual value and significance of life writing as a genre Together they work to problematise underlying assumptions about this genre foregrounding methodology social theory ethics and other practice focused frameworks in conscious tension with previous practices
