

The background of the cover is a painting of a man in a black top hat and a dark green coat, standing on a stone balcony. He is looking out over a vast, hazy landscape under a cloudy sky. The man has a white beard and is holding a thin walking stick.

The Politics Of Property Labor Freedom And Belonging:

The Politics of Property Laura Brace, 2004-09-18 This book offers a theory of property that takes into account current debates about gender slavery and colonialism It introduces property as a contested concept and explores how that contestability is played out in political debates between thinkers across ideologies and in political practice Analyzing the key debates Brace illustrates how private property has been caught up with ideas of labor freedom and belonging and has informed the development of liberalism socialism and conservatism as well as the construction of class gender and race While examining the works of Locke Winstanley Godwin Bentham Hegel and Marx this book focuses on the idea of property as a site of struggle and as a means of connecting individuals to civil society and the state It offers valuable insights into the ways in which ideas about property influence political ideologies thought and practice

The Public Nature of Private Property Michael Diamond, 2016-02-24 What exactly is private property Or to ask the question another way what rights to intrude does the public have in what is generally accepted as private property The answer perhaps surprisingly to some is that the public has not only a significant interest in regulating the use of private property but also in defining it and establishing its contour and texture In The Public Nature of Private Property therefore scholars from the United States and the United Kingdom challenge traditional conceptions of private property while presenting a range of views on both the meaning of private property and on the ability some might say the requirement of the state to regulate it

Property and Dispossession Allan Greer, 2018-01-11 Allan Greer examines the processes by which forms of land tenure emerged and natives were dispossessed from the sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries in New France Canada New Spain Mexico and New England By focusing on land territory and property he deploys the concept of property formation to consider the ways in which Europeans and their Euro American descendants remade New World space as they laid claim to the continent s resources extended the reach of empire and established states and jurisdictions for themselves Challenging long held binary assumptions of property as a single entity which various groups did or did not possess Greer highlights the diversity of indigenous and Euro American property systems in the early modern period The book s geographic scope comparative dimension and placement of indigenous people on an equal plane with Europeans makes it unlike any previous study of early colonization and contact in the Americas

Colonial Lives of Property Brenna Bhandar, 2018-05-03 In Colonial Lives of Property Brenna Bhandar examines how modern property law contributes to the formation of racial subjects in settler colonies and to the development of racial capitalism Examining both historical cases and ongoing processes of settler colonialism in Canada Australia and Israel and Palestine Bhandar shows how the colonial appropriation of indigenous lands depends upon ideologies of European racial superiority as well as upon legal narratives that equate civilized life with English concepts of property In this way property law legitimates and rationalizes settler colonial practices while it racializes those deemed unfit to own property The solution to these enduring racial and economic inequities Bhandar demonstrates requires developing a new political imaginary of property in which freedom is connected to shared practices of use and community rather than individual possession

The Logic of Innovation Johanna Gibson, 2016-03-03 The Logic of Innovation examines not merely the supposed problem of the efficacy and relevance of intellectual property and the nature of innovation and creativity in a digital environment but also the very circumstances of that inquiry itself Social life has itself become a sphere of production but how might that be understood within the cultural and structural transformation of creativity innovation and property Through a highly original interlocutory and therapeutic approach to the issues in play the author addresses the concepts of innovation and the digital by means of an investigation through literature and the imagination of new scenarios for language business and legal reform The book undertakes a complex inquiry into innovation and property through the wonder of Alice's journeys in Wonderland and through the Looking glass The author presents a new theory of familiar production to account for the kinship that has emerged in both informal and commercial modes of innovation and foregrounds the value of use as crucial to the articulation of intellectual property within contemporary models of production and commercialization in the digital

Property in the Body Donna Dickenson, 2017-06-09 We live in an era when all bodies are potentially feminised by being rendered open access for biomedical research and clinical practice Adopting a theoretically sophisticated and practical approach Property in the Body Feminist Perspectives rejects the notion that the sale of bodily tissue enhances the freedom of the individual through an increase in moral agency Combining feminist theory and bioethics it also addresses the omissions which are inherent in policy analysis and academic debate For example whilst women's tissue is particularly central to new biotechnologies the requirement for female labour is largely ignored in subsequent evaluation In its fully revised second edition this book also considers how policies and developments vary between countries and within specific areas of biomedicine itself Most importantly it analyses the new and emerging technologies of this field whilst returning to the core questions and fears which are inextricably linked to the commercialisation of the body

Everything is Police Tia Trafford, 2024-02-06 How institutional and interpersonal policing have been central to worldmaking Policing is constitutive of colonial modernity normalizing internalizing and legalizing anti Black violence as the ongoing condition for white life and freedom The result Tia Trafford argues here is a situation where we cannot practically experience or even imagine worlds free from policing From the plantation to the prison global apartheid and pandemic control this book examines why and how policing has become the most ingrained commonsense and insidious way of managing our world

The Empire at Home James Trafford, 2020-12-20 Modern Britain is forged through the redeployment of structures that facilitated and legitimized slavery exploitation and extermination This is the empire at home and it is inseparable from the strategies of neo colonial extraction and oppression of subjects abroad Here James Trafford develops the notion of internal colonies arguing that methods and structures used in colonial rule are re deployed internally in contemporary Britain in order to recreate and solidify imperial power relations Using examples including housing

segregation targeted surveillance and counter insurgency techniques used in the fight against terrorism Trafford reveals Britain's internal colonialism to be a reactive mechanism to retain British sovereignty As politics appears limited by nationalism and protectionism The Empire at Home issues a powerful challenge to contemporary politics demanding that Britain as an imperial structure must end British Empire and the Literature of Rebellion Sheshalatha Reddy, 2017-10-14 This book examines imperial and nationalist discourses surrounding three contemporaneous and unsuccessful mid nineteenth century colonial uprisings against the British Empire the Sepoy Rebellion 1857 in India the Morant Bay Rebellion 1865 in Jamaica and the Fenian Rebellion 1867 in Ireland In reading these three mid century rebellions as flashpoints for the varying yet parallel attempts by imperialist colonialists nationalists and socialists to transform the oppressed colonized worker the subjected laborer into one whose identity is created and limited by labor a laboring subject this book also tracks varying modes of resistance to those attempts in all three colonies In drawing from a range of historical literary and visual sources outside the borders of the Anglophone literary canon this book contends that these texts not only serve as points of engagements with the rebellions but also constitute an archive of oppression and resistance Citizenship, Migrant Activism and the Politics of Movement Peter Nyers, Kim Rygiel, 2012-02-13 Migration is an inescapable issue in the public debates and political agendas of Western countries with refugees and migrants increasingly viewed through the lens of security This book analyses recent shifts in governing global mobility from the perspective of the politics of citizenship utilising an interdisciplinary approach that employs politics sociology anthropology and history Featuring an international group of leading and emerging researchers working on the intersection of migrant politics and citizenship studies this book investigates how restrictions on mobility are not only generating new forms of inequality and social exclusion but also new forms of political activism and citizenship identities The chapters present and discuss the perspectives experiences knowledge and voices of migrants and migrant rights activists in order to better understand the specific strategies tactics and knowledge that politicized non citizen migrant groups produce in their encounters with border controls and security technologies The book focuses the debate of migration security and mobility rights onto grassroots politics and social movements making an important intervention into the fields of migration studies and critical citizenship studies Citizenship, Migrant Activism and the Politics of Movement will be of interest to students and scholars of migration and security politics globalisation and citizenship studies
