

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a landscape. A vibrant rainbow arches across a hazy, overcast sky. Below the rainbow, a line of trees and shrubs stretches across the middle ground. In the foreground, there is a dark, reflective surface, possibly water, which shows a faint reflection of the rainbow and the trees. The overall mood is serene and natural.

The Potato Factory A Novel:

The Potato Factory Bryce Courtenay, 2010 Ikey Solomon is in the business of thieving and he's very good at it Ikey's partner in crime is his mistress the forthright Mary Abacus until misfortune befalls them They are parted and each must make the harsh journey from thriving nineteenth century London to the convict settlement of Van Diemen's Land In the backstreets and dives of Hobart Town Mary learns the art of brewing and builds The Potato Factory where she plans a new future But her ambitions are threatened by Ikey's wife Hannah her old enemy The two women raise their separate families one legitimate and the other bastard As each woman sets out to destroy the other the families are brought to the edge of disaster

After The Celebration Ken Gelder, Paul Salzman, 2009-01-01 After the Celebration explores Australian fiction from 1989 to 2007 after Australia's bicentenary to the end of the Howard government In this literary history Ken Gelder and Paul Salzman combine close attention to Australian novels with a vivid depiction of their contexts cultural social political historical national and transnational From crime fiction to the postmodern colonial novel from Australian grunge to rural apocalypse fiction from the Asian diasporic novel to the action blockbuster Gelder and Salzman show how Australian novelists such as Frank Moorhouse Elizabeth Jolley Peter Carey Kim Scott Steven Carroll Kate Grenville Tim Winton Alexis Wright and many others have used their work to chart our position in the world The literary controversies over history identity feminism and gatekeeping are read against the politics of the day Provocative and compelling After the Celebration captures the key themes and issues in Australian fiction where we have been and what we have become

Whose History? Grant Rodwell, 2013 Somebody once quipped that any work of Australian historical fiction is a burning fuse travelling over decades through Australian culture and society In some manner every newly published Australian historical novel is connected to what it has preceded Each work belongs to a proud history Through multiple examples Grant Rodwell encourages readers to see how a work of historical fiction has evolved Thus under various themes WHOSE HISTORY examines the traditions in Australian historical fiction and ponders how Australian historical novels can engage teachers and student teachers WHOSE HISTORY aims to illustrate how historical novels and their related genres may be used as an engaging teacher learning strategy for student teachers in pre-service teacher education courses It does not argue all teaching of History curriculum in pre-service units should be based on the use of historical novels as a stimulus nor does it argue for a particular percentage of the use of historical novels in such courses It simply seeks to argue the case for this particular approach leaving the extent of the use of historical novels used in History curriculum units to the professional expertise of the lecturers responsible for the units

Tasmania's Convicts Alison Alexander,2010-10 To the convicts arriving in Van Diemen s Land it must have felt as though they d been sent to the very ends of the earth In Tasmania's Convicts Alison Alexander tells the history of the men and women transported to what became one of Britain s most notorious convict colonies Following the lives of dozens of convicts and their families she uncovers stories of success failure and everything in between While some suffered harsh conditions most served their time and were freed becoming ordinary and peaceful citizens Yet over the decades a terrible stigma became associated with the convicts and they and the whole colony went to extraordinary lengths to hide it The majority of Tasmanians today have convict ancestry whether they know it or not While the public stigma of its convict past has given way to a contemporary fascination with colonial history Alison Alexander debates whether the convict past lingers deep in the psyche of white Tasmania
