Paul Auster's Writing Machine Evija Trofimova, 2014-08-28 Paul Auster is one of the most acclaimed figures in American literature Known primarily as a novelist Auster's films and various collaborations are now gaining more recognition Evija Trofimova offers a radically different approach to the author's wider body of work unpacking the fascinating web of relationships between his texts and presenting Auster's canon as a rhizomatic fictional network produced by a set of writing tools Exploring Auster's literal and figurative use of these tools the typewriter the cigarette the doppelgänger figure the city Evija Trofimova discovers Auster's writing machine a device that works both as a means to write and as a construct that manifests the emblematic writer figure This is a book about assembling texts and textual networks the writing machines that produce them and the ways such machines invest them with meaning Embarking on a scholarly quest that takes her from between the lines of Auster's work to between the streets of his beloved New York and finally to the man himself Paul Auster's Writing Machine becomes not just a critical investigation but a critical collaboration raising important questions about the ultimate meaning of Auster's work and about the relationship between texts their authors their readers and their critics

The New Atheist Novel Arthur Bradley, Andrew Tate, 2010-02-11 The New Atheist Novel is the first study of a major new genre of contemporary fiction It examines how Richard Dawkins's so-called New Atheism movement has caught the imagination of four eminent modern novelists Ian

McEwan Martin Amis Salman Rushdie and Philip Pullman For McEwan and his contemporaries the contemporary novel represents a new front in the ideological war against religion religious fundamentalism and after 9 11 religious terror the novel apparently stands for everything freedom individuality rationality and even a secular experience of the transcendental that religion seeks to overthrow In this book Bradley and Tate offer a genealogy of the New Atheist Novel where it comes from what needs it serves and most importantly where it may go in the future What is it How does it dramatise the war between belief and non belief To what extent does it represent a genuine ideological alternative to the religious imaginary or does it merely repeat it in secularised form This fascinating study offers an incisive critique of this contemporary testament of literary belief and unbelief
