The Practice of Pleasure Brenda Jackson, Penguin Books Staff, Ronald L McDonald, 1976-07-06 The Practice of Pleasure D. Michael J. Harris, 1976 The Practice of Virtue Jennifer Welchman, 2006-03-15 This collection provides readings from five classic thinkers with importantly distinct approaches to virtue theory along with five new essays from contemporary thinkers that apply virtue theories to the resolution of practical moral problems Jennifer Welchman's Introduction discusses the history of virtue theory A short introduction to each reading highlights the distinctive aspects of the view expressed The Ultimatum of Pleasure Arsen Dallakyan, Karlen Dallakyan, 2017-07-11 This book is dedicated to the research of the pleasure phenomenon as the most important factor in individual and socio cultural development In a society of mass consumption pleasure having turned into a commodity and a means of manipulation defines civilizational development The authors theorize that the pursuit of pleasure can destroy one's self culture and environment The recent rapid technological expansion has turned pleasure into a societal challenge This study emphasizes the necessity of intrinsic transformation of marketing in the 21st Century which would shift the focus from seeking pleasure to controlling desires in a way that would benefit self society and the world The Practice of Value Joseph Raz, Christine Marion Korsgaard, Robert B. Pippin, Bernard Arthur Owen Williams, 2005 The Practice of Value is an exploration of a pervasive but puzzling aspect of our world value The starting point is the Berkeley Tanner Lectures delivered in 2001 by the leading moral theorist Joseph Raz His aim is to make sense of the dependence of value on social practice without falling back on cultural relativism The lectures are followed by discussions from three eminent philosophers Christine Korsgaard Robert Pippin and Bernard Williams and a response from Raz The result is a fascinating debate accessible to readers throughout and beyond philosophy about the relations between The Service of the House of God, According to the Practice of the Church of Scotland. (Second Edition.) William Liston, 1858 The Practice of Pleasure Harris, Michael, 1976 The Practice of self-inquiry. P.V.S. SURYANARAYANA RAJU, 2012-02-09 Self inquiry does not demand any faith nor does it depend on any system of thought or belief It demands integrated awareness and right effort which dissolve self centred illusions limitations and thus bring about the revelation of blissful reality If you really want to help others you must discern your own limitation We must note that self inquiry is not a theology A man protecting himself constantly through such knowledge is obviously not a truth seeker When you want to find something new the mind must be quiet If the mind is crowded filled with the facts and borrowed knowledge they act as the impediment to the new The difficulty for most of us is that the mind i.e. thought has become so important so predominantly significant that it interferes constantly with anything that may be new with anything that may exist simultaneously with the known Thus borrowed knowledge and learning are impediments for those who would seek for those who would try to understand that which is beyond thought The Practice of Lacanian Psychoanalysis Raul Moncayo, 2020-11-03 The Practice of Lacanian Psychoanalysis lays out an Aristotelian framework to account for the different types of knowing and not knowing operative in the theory and practice of psychoanalysis The book proposes a new model for diagnosis giving preference to fewer over more diagnoses and seeks to better organize them by distinguishing between structure and surface symptoms It examines many principles of Lacanian clinical practice including different types of frames and evidence the practice of citation and listening the resistance and desire of the analyst transference love as a metaphor the role of negative transference at the end of analysis and the identification with the sinthome as Lacan's last formulation regarding the end of analysis The text also suggests that there are three forms of love and hate based on the works of Lacan and Winnicott Underpinned by extensive practical knowledge of the clinic and case examples for clinicians analysts and practicing Lacanian analysts this book should be of interest to academics scholars and clinicians alike

Producing Pleasure in the Contemporary University Stewart Riddle, Marcus K. Harmes, Patrick Alan Danaher, 2017-10-10
Academics working in contemporary universities are experiencing unprecedented and unsustainable pressure in an environment of hyper performativity metrics and accountability From this perspective the university produces multiple tensions and moments of crises where it seems that there is limited space left for the intrinsic enjoyment arising from scholarly practices This book offers a global perspective on how pleasure is central to the endeavours of academics working in the contemporary university with contributors evaluating the opportunities for the strategic refusal of the quantifying stultifying and stupefying delimiters of what is possible for academic production The aim of this book is to open up spaces for conversation reflection and thought in order to think to be and to do differently pleasurably Contributors rupture the bounds of what is permissible and possible within their daily lives habits and practices As such this book addresses increasingly significant questions What are some of the multiple and different ways that we can reclaim pleasure and enhance the durations and intensities of our passions desires and becomings within the contemporary university How might these aspirations be realised What are the spaces for the pleasurable production of research that might be opened up How might we reconfigure the neoliberal university to be a place of more affect where desire laughter and joy join with the work that we seek to undertake and the communities whom we serve
