General international law is part and parcel of investor state arbitration This is the case not only regarding treaty law and state responsibility but also with respect to matters such as state succession the international minimum standard and state immunity all of which feature regularly in investor state arbitration Yet although general international law issues arise in almost every investment case and often require extensive research no systematic exploration of the relationship between the two exists This Commentary is the first to fill this gap providing a comprehensive treatment of the role of general international law in international investment law It engages in detail with central matters of general international law including in the practice of investment arbitration tribunals moving beyond existing works which focus solely on procedural and institutional provisions The Commentary's forty six chapters do not focus on a single source or subject Instead each concentrates on a specific relevant article from a particular source of public law such as the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties 1969 or the International Law Commission's Articles on the Responsibility of States for Internationally Wrongful Acts 2001 among others The entries combine detailed analysis with an examination of procedural and substantive aspects such as nationality and unjust enrichment and respond to the following questions how have investment tribunals interpreted and applied the specific rule of general international law To what extent and why does such interpretation and application align with or deviate from the practice by other international courts or tribunals How could and should investment tribunals interpret and apply rules that have yet to feature in investment arbitration This unique format means this commentary will serve as a central guide for all relevant case law and scholarship on international investment law International Law in Comparative Perspective William E. Butler, 2024-11-04

The Function of Equity in International Law Catharine Titi, 2021 Drawing on a large and varied body of judicial and arbitral case law this book provides a comprehensive original and up to date account of the role of equity in international law International Law: New Actors, New Concepts - Continuing Dilemmas Budislav Vukas, Trpimir Susic, 2010-04-06 The Liber Amicorum is published on the occasion of the retirement of Professor Bo idar Bakoti from the University of Zagreb Faculty of Law after an impressive career that started in 1961 His colleagues and former students have contributed to this collection of essays dealing with a variety of topics in the fields of international law which Professor Bakoti himself has been most active in Therefore the majority of essays deal with the subjects of international law the various international r gimes of spaces the international protection of human rights and humanitarian law the settlement of international disputes and the law of armed conflicts Notwithstanding the specific international developments over the last twenty years in the geographic area where Professor Bakoti has served

Southeastern Europe all the authors of the contributions to this Liber Amicorum have dealt with their topics at the level of general international law The book comprises 32 essays from scholars who had close relations with Professor Bakoti in the course of his career at the Zagreb Faculty of Law in various other law schools and international organisations in the International Law Association in the Croatian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and its Diplomatic Academy The majority of essays are in English and six are in French
