The Problem Of Christ In The Work Of Friedrich Holderlin Text And Dissertations Series:

The Problem of Christ in the Work of Friedrich Hölderlin Mark Ogden, 1991 This study sets out to challenge the usual approach to the question of Holderlin's response to Christ which focuses on no more than two or three late hymns by tracing through each major stage of Holderlin's work a series of latent Christological debates These debates in which philosophy theology and poetry converge represent Holderlin's engagement with the urgent intellectual issues of his day

The Oxford Handbook of European Romanticism Paul Hamilton, 2016-01-14 T The Oxford Handbook to European Romanticism brings together leading scholars in the field to examine the intellectual literary philosophical and political elements of European Romanticism The book focuses on the cultural history of the period extending from the French Revolution to the uprisings of 1848 It begins with a series of chapters examining key texts written by major writers in languages including French German Italian Spanish Russian Hungarian Greek and Polish amongst others A second section then explores the naturally interdisciplinary quality of Romanticism exemplified by the different discourses with which writers of the time set up an internal comparative dynamic These chapters highlight the sense a discourse gives of being written knowledgeably against other pretenders to completeness or comprehensiveness of self understanding of the time Discourses typically advance their own claims to resume European culture collaborating with and at the same time trying to assimilate each other in the process The main examples featured here are history geography drama theology language philosophy political theory the sciences and the media Each chapter offers an original and individual interpretation of an inherently comparative world of individual writers and the discursive idioms to which they are historically subject Together the forty one chapters provide a comprehensive and provocative overview of European Romanticism

Hölderlin and the Golden Chain of Homer Emery Edward George, 1992 Consisting of two essays this book investigates the impact on Holderlin's poetic imagery of the Homeric metaphor of the golden chain of nature It contrasts A O Lovejoy's ideas on the great chain of being with the results of recent research It also announces discovery of an unknown source to which Holderlin was indebted an early seventeenth century Jesuit devotional tract The study considers the full range of the poetic work including the poems Hyperion and Empedokles The book is illustrated with two figures and concludes with two appendices of verbal data a bibliography and indexes of names and of Holderlin's works

Index to Theses with Abstracts Accepted for Higher Degrees by the Universities of Great Britain and Ireland and the Council for National Academic Awards, 2008

The Near and Distant God Ian Cooper, 2008 This book shows that a major strand in the development of modern poetry in German and English can be seen as a protracted response to the religious crises of post Idealist thought It focuses on the hermeneutic dimension of Die Religion Monatshefte, 1946
