The Arya Samaj Movement In South Africa:

The Arya Samaj Movement in South Africa Thillayvel Naidoo, 1992 The Arya Samaj movement is essentially a religious institution but became a significant force in India's religious and secular struggle for social and cultural self-determination. Its founding in 1875 presaged the creation of independent India in 1947. This work does not attempt a detailed examination of the movement but provides an outline of its growth and philosophy in the light of the work of its founder Swami Dayanand Saraswati, the complex of institutions and upliftment programmes initiated by the Samaj, and the major historical forces which acted to shape the movement. It is a cause for considerable pride. The Arya Samaj was one of several socio-religious movements which were founded in the nineteenth century. It was however responsible for constructing some of the best known educational institutions in north India. The repercussions of this were felt by emigrant Indian communities in such places as Mauritius, South Africa, and Guyana. What started then as a small religious sect has now grown into a religious denomination of considerable influence. In South Africa, the Arya Pratinidhi Sabha is one of the best known Hindu organisations wielding influence among the north Indian segment of the Hindu population.

Religious Awakening in South Africa Nardev Vedralankar, 196? Religious Awakening in South Africa Nardev Vedralankar, 1950* South Africa's Top Sites Philip Harrison, 2004 Spiritual travel is an area of growth as more and more people seek refuge from the materialism and superficiality of life in the post-modern world. Spiritual travel includes pilgrimage to sacred sites, religious retreats, or simply visits to places associated with the great religions of the world.

Religion and Identity in the South Asian Diaspora Rajesh Rai, Chitra Sankaran, 2017-07-05 Religious identity constitutes a key element in the formation, development, and sustenance of South Asian diasporic communities. Through studies of South Asian communities situated in multiple locales, this book explores the role of religious identity in the social and political organization of the diaspora. It accounts for the factors that underlie the modification of ritual practice in the process of resettlement and considers how multicultural policies in the adopted state, trans-generational changes, and the proliferation of transnational media have impacted the development of these identities in the diaspora. Also crucial is the gender dimension in terms of how religion and caste affect women's roles in the South Asian diaspora. What emerges then from the way separate communities in the diaspora negotiate religion are diverse patterns that are strategic and contingent. Yet paradoxically, the dynamic and evolving relationship between religion and diaspora becomes necessary even imperative for sustaining a cohesive collective identity in these communities. This book was published as a special issue of South Asian Diaspora.

Global Hindu Diaspora Kalpana Hiralal, 2017-08-22 This book examines Hinduism from both a historical and contemporary perspective. It provides some interesting insights into factors that shaped and defined Hinduism in the diaspora. It also examines the challenges facing Hinduism in the twenty-first century. In recent years, the growing conversions of Hindus to other religions, the complexities of caste, the impact of AIDS, and the need to reinvigorate the youth in Hindu teachings are just some of the issues that it faces.

What shape and form will Hinduism take in the twenty first century What will Hinduism look like in the future These relevant questions are the subject of debate and deliberations amongst religious scholars academics and politicians This edited collection addresses some of these questions as well as the relationship between religion and diaspora within historical and contemporary perspectives Social Movements and the Indian Diaspora Movindri Reddy,2015-11-19 With the elevation of Islam and Muslim transnational networks in international affairs from the rise of Al Qaeda to the revolutions in North Africa and the Middle East the study of Diasporas and transnational identities has become more relevant Using case studies from Fiji Mauritius Trinidad and South Africa this book explores the diaspora identities and impact of social movements on politics and nationalism among indentured Indian diaspora It analyses the way in which diasporas are defined by themselves and others and the types of social movements they participate in showing how these are critical indicators of the threat they are perceived to pose The book examines the notions of national and transnational identity and how they are determined by the placement of Diasporas in the transnational locality It argues that the transnationality intrinsic to diaspora identities mark them as others in the nation state and simultaneously separates them from the perceived motherland thus displacing them from both states and situating them in a transnational locality It is from this placement that social movements among Diasporas gain salience As outsiders and insiders they are well placed to offer a formidable challenge to the host state but these challenges are limited by their hybrid identities and perceived divided loyalties Providing an in depth analysis of Indian Diasporas the book will be of interest to those studying South Asian Studies Migration and Diaspora Studies The History of Indians in Zanzibar from the 1870s to 1963 Saada Wahab,2022 This research examines the social political and economic history of Indians in Zanzibar in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries specifically between 1870s and 1963 Based on evidence collected from oral interviews and written archival documents this research work argues that the Indian migration history in Zanzibar during this period was impacted by their religious diversity economic factors and social factors as well as the British colonial interest This research analysis yielded a number of the following key findings First there were heterogeneous migration patterns among the Indian migrants in East Africa influenced by various factors including religion caste and the historical contexts in which particular migrants arrived Second numerous different social physical economic and political processes in India and East Africa motivated Indians to leave their homeland and form a migration community in Zanzibar from 1800 to 1963 Third the desire to pass on their religion traditions and customs to their descendants was a significant motivation for Indians to open their own private schools in Zanzibar Fourth the change of administration in 1890 had a major impact on the Indians in Zanzibar especially investors who had already invested heavily in the local economy Finally despite their minority status compared to other communities such as Africans and Arabs Indians participated in the politics of Zanzibar that led towards independence Socio-Religious Reform Movements in British India Kenneth W. 'Sisters in the Struggle' Kalpana Hiralal,2023-02-10 Sisters in the struggle Women of Indian Origin in South Africa's Liberation Struggle 1900-1994 unveils an uncharted historical terrain highlighting the contributions of Indian women towards non racialism and equality and their experiences within diverse political parties therefore shifting the post apartheid liberation stories which have been dominated by the journey of the ANC to other political organisations who collectively played a significant role in South Africa's road to democracy In this book Hiralal presents a refreshing perspective of Indians particularly women as contributors and activists in the struggle The book elucidates that the struggle against apartheid was a collective endeavour among the oppressed races and not a one sided endeavour by the ANC The book thus examines the participation of Indian women against apartheid and colonialism within gendered and political frameworks Localization and Globalization of Religions Maurits S.
