

The poster features a dark, moody background. In the center, a cityscape is visible, with a large, billowing plume of smoke or ash rising from it, suggesting a volcanic eruption or a major disaster. Two faces, appearing to be of different ethnicities, are shown in profile, looking towards the city. The faces are rendered in a soft, ethereal style, with their features slightly blurred. The overall color palette is dominated by dark blues, greys, and the warm, orange-brown tones of the smoke and city lights.

Posthuman Condition

The Post Human Condition

Žarko Paić

The Post Human Condition:

The Posthuman Rosi Braidotti, 2013-07-11 The Posthuman offers both an introduction and major contribution to contemporary debates on the posthuman Digital second life genetically modified food advanced prosthetics robotics and reproductive technologies are familiar facets of our globally linked and technologically mediated societies This has blurred the traditional distinction between the human and its others exposing the non naturalistic structure of the human The Posthuman starts by exploring the extent to which a post humanist move displaces the traditional humanistic unity of the subject Rather than perceiving this situation as a loss of cognitive and moral self mastery Braidotti argues that the posthuman helps us make sense of our flexible and multiple identities Braidotti then analyzes the escalating effects of post anthropocentric thought which encompass not only other species but also the sustainability of our planet as a whole Because contemporary market economies profit from the control and commodification of all that lives they result in hybridization erasing categorical distinctions between the human and other species seeds plants animals and bacteria These dislocations induced by globalized cultures and economies enable a critique of anthropocentrism but how reliable are they as indicators of a sustainable future The Posthuman concludes by considering the implications of these shifts for the institutional practice of the humanities Braidotti outlines new forms of cosmopolitan neo humanism that emerge from the spectrum of post colonial and race studies as well as gender analysis and environmentalism The challenge of the posthuman condition consists in seizing the opportunities for new social bonding and community building while pursuing sustainability and empowerment

The Posthuman Condition Julian Pepperell, Robert Pepperell, 2009 Where humanists saw themselves as distinct beings in an antagonistic relationship with their surroundings posthumans regard their own being as embodied in an extended technological world Synthetic creativity organic computers genetic modification intelligent machines such ideas are deeply challenging to many of our traditional assumptions about human uniqueness and superiority But ironically it is our very capacity for technological invention that has secured us so dominant a position in the world which may lead ultimately to as some have put it The End of Man If we are really capable of creating entities that exceed our own skills and intellect then the consequences for humanity are almost inconceivable Nevertheless we must now face up to the possibility that attributes like intelligence and consciousness may be synthesised in non human entities perhaps within our lifetime Would such entities have human like emotions would they have a sense of their own being The Posthuman Condition argues that such questions are difficult to tackle given the concepts of human existence that we have inherited from humanism many of which can no longer be sustained New theories about nature and the operation of the universe arising from sophisticated computer modelling are starting to demonstrate the profound interconnections between all things in reality where previously we had seen only separations This has implications for traditional views of the human condition consciousness the way we look at art and for some of the oldest problems in philosophy First published in the 1990s this important text has been completely revised by the author with the addition of new sections and illustrations For further information see www post human net

The Posthuman Condition in 21st Century Literature and Culture María Ferrández-Sanmiguel, Esther Muñoz-González, Carmen Laguarda-Bueno, 2025-06-18 More than a decade after its first definitions critical posthumanism has become consolidated as a key discourse for the understanding of our contemporary state of being within what has been called the paradigm of posthumanity but also crucially as an ideology and a praxis that guides our engagements with the world around us This double dimension characterizes the contributions to this volume They resort to critical posthumanism in its most recent developments as a set of tools for critical and cultural analysis of our posthuman times as posthumanist concerns manifest in our cultural products This volume studies the most recent evolutions in the field of critical posthumanism as represented in key novels and other screened popular cultural products produced in the first and second decades of the twenty first century Resorting to the analytical tools provided by critical posthumanist theory in cross disciplinary dialogue with other fields such as transhumanism feminist gender and queer theory vulnerability studies new materialism critical animal studies and environmental theory the scholars whose work this volume showcases bear witness to how literature and popular culture have been influenced and impressed by posthumanism Chapters 1 5 7 8 and 12 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via Springerlink

Sex and the Posthuman Condition M. Hauskeller, 2014-08-20 This book looks at how sexuality is framed in enhancement scenarios and how descriptions of the resulting posthuman future are informed by mythological historical and literary paradigms It examines the glorious sex life we will allegedly enjoy due to greater control of our emotions improved capacity for pleasure and availability of sex robots

Transhumanism: The Proper Guide to a Posthuman Condition or a Dangerous Idea? Wolfgang Hofkirchner, Hans-Jörg Kreowski, 2020-12-12 This book examines the contributions of the transhumanism approach to technology in particular the contributed chapters are wary of the implications of this popular idea The volume is organized into four parts concerning philosophical military technological and sociological aspects of transhumanism but the reader is free to choose various reading patterns Topics discussed include gene editing the singularity ethical machines metaphors in AI mind uploading and the philosophy of art and some perspectives taken or discussed examine transhumanism within the context of the philosophy of technology transhumanism as a derailed anthropology and critical sociological aspects that consider transhumanism in the context of topical concerns such as whiteness maleness and masculinity The book will be of value to researchers engaged with artificial intelligence and the ethical societal and philosophical impacts of science and technology

The Posthuman Condition Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen, Mads Rosendahl Thomsen, Jacob Wamberg, 2012-05-10 If biotechnology can be used to upgrade humans physically and mentally should it be used at all And if so to what extent How will biotechnology affect societal cohesion Can the development be controlled or is this a Pandora's box that should remain closed These are but a few of the perplex questions facing scientists as a result of the increasing ability of technology to change biology and in turn profoundly change human living conditions This development has created a new posthuman horizon that will influence contemporary life and politics in a number of ways The Posthuman Condition addresses the challenges of Imagining a society where the properties of humans have shifted radically Assessing the scope of deploying technologies that are already underway Basing decisions on an ethical foundation that does not entail a concept of human nature Ascertaining the types of political action that can and should be taken in the face of this situation The anthology brings together researchers from a wide range of disciplines biotechnology medicine ethics politics and aesthetics and among contributors are Francis Fukuyama Julian Savulescu Maxwell Mehlman John Harris and Chris Hables Gray

The Posthuman Imagination Tanmoy Kundu, Saikat Sarkar, 2021-02-08 This volume including an extended interview with noted philosopher of posthumanism Francesca Ferrando explores the contemporary philosophical literary and cultural landscapes that have emerged as a response to the unavoidable crisis faced by humans in the Anthropocene era The essays gathered here map posthumanism both as theoretical posthumanism which primarily seeks to develop new knowledge and as practical posthumanism which emphasizes socio political economic and technological changes Posthumanism which explores how one can address the question of what means to be human today is a burgeoning area of interest among universities across the globe Written in accessible yet scholarly language this volume introduces posthumanism in its diverse ramifications and explicates the subject through various literary and filmic texts in order to cater to the needs of researchers and students in the humanities

The Post-human Condition Robert Pepperell, 1995 This work challenges many of the humanist assumptions of Western philosophy science and art It proposes a view of the human condition building on the findings of quantum theory chaos theory catastrophe theory cybernetics cyberpunk and New Ageism taking into account current scientific and technological developments

Posthuman Personhood Daryl J. Wennemann, 2013-05-02 Posthuman Personhood takes up the ethical challenge posed by Francis Fukuyama's work Our Posthuman Future Daryl J Wennemann argues that the traditional concept of personhood may be fruitfully applied to the ethical challenge we face in a posthuman age He draws upon Wilfrid Sellars' treatment of the concept of a person within the manifest image of man in the world Sellars proposed that we develop a stereoscopic view of reality that includes both a scientific understanding of the world and a meaningful place for persons living and acting in the world Following Mary Anne Warren Wennemann develops a distinction between two meanings of the term human a biological meaning and a moral meaning and maintains that all biologically human beings are persons But it is not necessarily the case that all persons must be biologically human After drawing on a contemporary version of Kant's distinction between a theoretical possibility and a real possibility the book posits that biologically non human persons like robots computers or aliens are a theoretical possibility but that we do not know if they are a real possibility Finally Wennemann describes an ethic of self limitation for the posthuman age

The Superfluity of the Human Žarko Pačić, 2023-09-11 The author claims that concerning the progress and development of the technoscientific mind in the application of artificial intelligence the anthropological definition of man has become not only outdated and ineffective but man has become superfluous for the logic of the digital age He develops his argumentative assumptions critically confronting numerous approaches to this problem from Heidegger Severino G Anders Deleuze Simondon and Wiener By showing how the prospects of future philosophy presuppose technological singularity and extropy the link between posthumanism and transhumanism the author raises the question of the possibility of thinking differently from metaphysics within the labyrinth of language
