The Practice Of Court Interpreting Benjamins Translation Library 6:

The Practice of Court Interpreting Alicia B. Edwards, 1995-07-14 The Practice of Court Interpreting describes how the interpreter works in the court room and other legal settings The book discusses what is involved in court interpreting case preparation ethics and procedure the creation and avoidance of error translation and legal documents tape transcription and translation testifying as an expert witness and continuing education outside the classroom The purpose of the book is to provide the interpreter with a map of the terrain and to suggest methods that will help insure an accurate result The author herself a practicing court interpreter says The structure of the book follows the structure of the work as we do it The book is intended as a basic course book as background reading for practicing court interpreters and for court officials who deal with interpreters

The Translator , 1997 Translation and Interpreting in the 20th Century Wolfram Wilss, 1999-01-01 This book provides a historical survey of the unfolding of translation and interpreting language mediation in the 20th century with special reference to the German speaking area It is based first on extensive archive research in Austria Germany and Switzerland second on a large number of interviews with experts in the field of language mediation and third on the author's observations and experiences in the field of translation practice translation teaching and translation studies between 1950 1995 A specific feature of the book is the description of the social role of the language mediator through the prisms of communicative targets and technological developments and to determine his function as that of an indispensable bridge builder between the members of differing linguistic and cultural communities Historically it distinguishes between three main phases the period from 1900 to 1919 with the dominance of French as lingua franca in international communication the period from 1919 to 1945 which is characterized by English French bilingualism and the period from 1945 to approximately 1990 with its massive trend toward multilingualism and the development of language mediation into a translation industry The book continues with chapters on the implications of globalization specialization and automaticization for international communication and it closes with reflections on future prospects for the profession in a knowledge society both from a practical and a pedagogical viewpoint

Teaching Translation and Interpreting 4 Eva Hung, 2002-01-01 This volume contains selected papers from the 4th Language International Conference on Teaching Translation and Interpreting Building Bridges which was held in Shanghai in December 1998 The collection is an excellent source of ideas and information for teachers and students alike With contributions from five continents the topics discussed cover a wide range including the relevance of translation theories cultural and technical knowledge acquisition literary translation translation and interpreting for the media Internet related training methods and tools for student assessment While complementing the volumes of the previous three conferences in exploring new methods and frontiers this collection is particularly strong on case studies outside of the European and Anglo American spheres

The Practice of Court Interpreting Alicia Betsy Edwards, 1995-01-01 The Practice of Court Interpreting describes how the interpreter works in the court room and other legal settings The book discusses what is involved in court interpreting case preparation ethics and procedure the creation and avoidance of error translation and legal documents tape transcription and translation testifying as an expert witness and continuing education outside the classroom The purpose of the book is to provide the interpreter with a map of the terrain and to suggest methods that will help insure an accurate result The author herself a practicing court interpreter says The structure of the book follows the structure of the work as we do it The book is intended as a basic course book as background reading for practicing court interpreters and for court officials who deal with interpreters Tapping and Mapping the Processes of Translation and Interpreting Sonja Tirkkonen-Condit, Riitta Jääskeläinen, 2000 This volume brings together cognitive psychologists who look at process phenomena from various linguistic vantage points It examines simultaneous interpreting methodology how to glean information from data and particular features of the processes of translation

Interpreting, 1998 Triangulating Translation Fábio Alves dos Santos, 2003-01-01 The articles which appear in this volume stem from papers presented in a sub section of the II Brazilian International Translators Forum dedicated to process oriented research in translation The congress's main theme namely Translating the Millennium Corpora Cognition and Cultures is reflected in the seven contributions which aim at fostering the dialogue among translation researchers interested in process oriented investigations This book highlights one of the main axes focusing on the interfaces between cognition and translation and more precisely on the investigation of translation processes from three main vantage points theoretical perspectives empirical investigations and pedagogical applications Computers and Translation Harold Somers, 2003-05-28 This volume is about computers and translation It is not however a Computer Science book nor does it have much to say about Translation Theory Rather it is a book for translators and other professional linguists technical writers bilingual secretaries language teachers even which aims at clarifying explaining and exemplifying the impact that computers have had and are having on their profession It is about Machine Translation MT but it is also about Computer Aided or Assisted Translation CAT computer based resources for translators the past present and future of translation and the computer The editor and main contributor Harold Somers is Professor of Language Engineering at UMIST Manchester With over 25 years experience in the field both as a researcher and educator Somers is editor of one of the field's premier journals and has written extensively on the subject including the field's most widely quoted textbook on MT now out of print and somewhat out of date The current volume aims to provide an accessible yet not overwhelmingly technical book aimed primarily at translators and other users of CAT software Interpreting in the 21st Century Giuliana Garzone, Maurizio Viezzi, 2002-12-20 This book contains a selection of papers presented at the First Forl Conference on Interpreting Studies held on 9-11 November 2000 which saw the participation of leading researchers in the field The volume offers a comprehensive overview of the current situation and future prospects in interpretation studies and in the interpreting profession at the beginning of a new century Topics addressed include not only theoretical and methodological issues but also applications to training and quality The range of subjects covered is thus broad and comprehensive Particular attention is given to the changing profile of the profession as different modes of interpreting outside the booth i e all forms of dialogue interpreting as well as interpreting for the media give rise to new and stimulating research work The variety of papers in this volume bears witness to the wealth of different perspectives in interpreting studies today It covers topics of interest to scholars of translation and interpretation studies professional interpreters and to anyone interested in language mediation in its theoretical and applied aspects
