Launched in 2014 Weird Sister proudly staked out a corner of the internet where feminist writers could engage with the literary and popular culture that excited or enraged them. The blog made space amid book websites dominated by white male editors and contributors and also committed to covering literary topics in depth when larger feminist outlets rarely could. Throughout its decade-long run Weird Sister served as an early platform for some of contemporary literature's most striking voices naming itself a website that speaks its mind and snaps its gum and doesn't apologize. Edited by founder Marisa Crawford The Weird Sister Collection brings together the work of longtime contributors such as Morgan Parker Christopher Soto Soleil Ho Juli n Delgado Lopera Virgie Tovar Jennif f er Tamayo and more alongside new original essays. Offering nuanced insight into contemporary and historical literature in conversation with real life and timely social issues these pieces mark a transitional and transformative moment in online and feminist writing. Diving Deep & Surfacing Carol P. Christ, 2015-10-13 Diving Deep and Surfacing reveals how the writings of Kate Chopin Margaret Atwood Doris Lessing Adrienne Rich and Ntozake Shange can inform women's search for spiritual renewal. This volume is a collaboration between Indigenous and settler scholars from both Canada and the United States. The contributors explore the intersections between music modernity and Indigeneity in essays addressing topics that range from hip hop to powwow and television soundtracks of Native Classical and experimental music. Working from the shared premise that multiple modernities exist for Indigenous peoples the authors seek to understand contemporary musical expression from Native perspectives and to decolonize the study of Native American First Nations music. The essays coalesce around four main themes innovative technology identity formation and self-representation political activism and translocal musical exchange.

Related topics include cosmopolitanism hybridity alliance studies code switching and ontologies of sound Featuring the work of both established and emerging scholars the collection demonstrates the centrality of music in communicating the complex diverse lived experience of Indigenous North Americans in the twenty first century Vietnam Fights and Builds ,1964
