Cox, 2011-05-15 From the late nineteenth century through World War II popular culture portrayed the American South as a region ensconced in its antebellum past draped in moonlight and magnolias and represented by such southern icons as the mammy the belle the chivalrous planter white columned mansions and even bolls of cotton In Dreaming of Dixie Karen Cox shows that the chief purveyors of nostalgia for the Old South were outsiders of the region playing to consumers anxiety about modernity by marketing the South as a region still dedicated to America's pastoral traditions In addition Cox examines how southerners themselves embraced the imaginary romance of the region's past

Favorite Old-Time American Songs for Ukulele Mark "Kailana" Nelson, 2016-07-19 This book features over 100 traditional American folk songs newly arranged for the ukulele with chord diagrams and melody lines in tablature and standard notation This extensive collection makes Favorite Old Time American Songs for Ukulele a treasury of the best songs from the American tradition Nothing in this book is out of range for novice ukulele players The songs are in keys that are both easy to sing and that fit the melodic range of the ukulele Of course not every voice sings comfortably in every key so information on transposition and a short discussion for players of the baritone ukulele are included Although you do not need to read music or tablature to use this book short introductions to each are included In putting together this collection the author was inspired by the old American practice of making a sampler an endearing needlework design showing off various stitches and techniques The book presents a sampling of the best American songs for folks working in schools churches hospitals coffeehouses and other public performance spaces or for anyone wishing to expand their repertoire and brush up on a few old chestnuts There's a little of everything here sentimental old hearth songs laments and lullabies ballads and play parties the sacred and profane The overwhelming majority of songs come from pre industrial rural traditions because this is the kind of music that seems to go well with homemade music making in any age Downloadable audio of 18 of the songs is available online
