The Hidden Power of the Blood of Jesus Mahesh Chavda, 2011-07-28 In this pop Christian culture many believers have never been exposed to the great truths upon which the Church of Jesus Christ has been built One of those forgotten truths is the purpose and power of the blood of Jesus We sing about it in our hymns there is power in the blood but few of us have experienced the reality of those words Chavda carefully lays the foundation as he presents a refreshing look at the importance of the blood of Jesus in the life of the believer The Hidden Power of the Blood of Jesus is theologically sound but passionately written in a way that the reader will gasp for air as he discovers each new truth Chavda will transform your thinking on the blood of Jesus as he lifts it out of its stuffy theological setting and makes it practical in your life

The Making and Unmaking of the Haya Lived World Brad Weiss, 1996 At the center of this subtle ethnographic account of the Haya communities of Northwest Tanzania is the idea of a lived world as both the product and the producer of everyday practices Drawing on his experience living with the Haya Brad Weiss explores Haya ways of constructing and inhabiting their community and examines the forces that shape and transform these practices over time In particular he shows how the Haya a group at the fringe of the global economy have responded to the processes and material aspects of money markets and commodities as they make and remake their place in a changing world Grounded in a richly detailed ethnography of Haya practice Weiss's analysis considers the symbolic qualities and values embedded in goods and transactions across a wide range of cultural activity agricultural practice and food preparation the body's experience of epidemic disease from AIDS to the infant affliction of plastic teeth and long standing forms of social movement and migration Weiss emphasizes how Haya images of consumption describe the relationship between their local community and the global economy Throughout he demonstrates that particular commodities and more general market processes are always material and meaningful forces with the potential for creativity as well as disruption in Haya social life By calling attention to the productive dimensions of this spatial and temporal world his work highlights the importance of human agency in not only the Haya but any sociocultural order Offering a significant contribution to the anthropological theories of practice embodiment and agency and enriching our understanding of the lives of a rural African people The Making and Unmaking of the Haya Lived World will interest historians anthropologists ethnographers and scholars of cultural studies Blood of the Dragon David T. Bodies and Persons Michael Lambek,Andrew Strathern,1998-03-28 Large scale comparisons are out of fashion in anthropology but this book suggests a bold comparative approach to broad cultural differences between Africa and Melanesia Its theme is personhood which is understood in terms of what anthropologists call embodiment These concepts are applied to questions ranging from the meanings of spirit possession to the logics of witchcraft and kinship relations the use of rituals to heal the sick electric vampires and even the impact of capitalism There are detailed ethnographic analyses and suggestive comparisons of classic African and Melanesian ethnographic cases such as the Nuer and the Melpa The contributors debate alternative strategies for cross cultural comparison and demonstrate that there is a surprising range of continuities putting in question common assumptions about the huge differences between these two parts of the world
