his writings and earlier books of poetry Vanishing Streets J. M. Tyree, 2016-10-05 Vanishing Streets reveals an American writer's twenty-year love affair with London. Beguiling and idiosyncratic, obsessive and wry, it offers an illustrated travelogue of the peripheries retracing some of London's most curious locations. As J. M. Tyree wanders deliriously in the world's most visited city, he rediscovers and reinvents places that have changed drastically since he was a student at Cambridge in the 1990s. Tyree stumbles into the ghosts of Alfred Hitchcock, Graham Greene, and the pioneers of the British Free Cinema Movement. He offers a new way of seeing familiar landmarks through the lens of film history and reveals strange nooks and tiny oddities in out-of-the-way places from a lost film by John Ford supposedly shot in Wapping to the beehives hidden in Tower Hamlets Cemetery, an area haunted by a translation error in W. G. Sebald's Austerlitz. This book blends deeply personal writing with a foreigner's observations on a world capital experiencing an unsettling moment of transition. Vanishing Streets builds into an astonishing and innovative multi-layered project combining autobiography, movie madness, and postcard-like annotations on the magical properties of a great city. Tyree argues passionately for London as a cinematic dream city of perpetual fascinations and eccentricities bridging the past and the present as well as the real and the imaginary.

Landscape and Subjectivity in the Work of Patrick Keiller, W.G. Sebald, and Iain Sinclair David Anderson, 2020-08-27 This book situates the film maker Patrick Keiller alongside the writers W. G. Sebald and Iain Sinclair as the three leading voices in English psychogeography, offering new insights to key works including London: The Rings of Saturn and Lights Out for the Territory. Excavating social and political contexts while also providing plentiful close analysis, it examines the cultivation of a distinctive affective mode or sensibility especially attuned to the cultural anxieties of the twentieth century's closing decades. Landscape and Subjectivity explores motifs including essayism, the reconciliation of creativity with market forces, and the foregrounding of an often agonised or melancholic. It asks whether the work can collectively be seen to constitute a critical theory of contemporary space and suggests that Keiller, Sebald, and Sinclair's contributions represent a highly significant moment in English culture's engagement with landscape, environment, and itself. The book's analyses are fuelled by archival and topographical research and are responsive to various interdisciplinary contexts, including the tradition of the English Journey, the set of ideas associated with the spatial turn, critical theory, the so-called heritage debate, and more recent theorisation of the Anthropocene.

Thinking History 4-14 Dr Grant Bage, Grant Bage, 2014-01-21 In this book, the author looks at the past, present, and the future of history teaching in primary schools in an attempt to provide a practical framework for teachers. Section one reviews relevant literature with an aim to clarify the dilemmas and advance present thinking and practice in history teaching in primary schools. Section two offers case studies, curriculum materials, and designs, teaching ideas, and methods, teacher development, and curriculum development materials at the same time as tying it in to the existing knowledge base. Section three considers the perennial dilemmas for school history in the 21st century, including how can history survive in an increasingly over-crowded and competitive school curriculum.
