The Encyclopedia of Film Composers Thomas S. Hischak,2015-04-16 For more than a century original music has been composed for the cinema From the early days when live music accompanied silent films to the present in which a composer can draw upon a full orchestra or a lone synthesizer to embody a composition music has been an integral element of most films By the late 1930s movie studios had established music departments and some of the greatest names in film music emerged during Hollywood's Golden Age including Alfred Newman Max Steiner Dimitri Tiomkin and Bernard Herrmann Over the decades other creators of screen music offered additional memorable scores and some composers such as Henry Mancini Randy Newman and John Williams have become household names The Encyclopedia of Film Composers features entries on more than 250 movie composers from around the world It not only provides facts about these artists but also explains what makes each composer notable and discusses his or her music in detail Each entry includes Biographical material Important dates Career highlights Analysis of the composer's musical style Complete list of movie credits This book brings recognition to the many men and women who have written music for movies over the past one hundred years In addition to composers from the United States and Great Britain artists from dozens of other countries are also represented A rich resource of movie music history The Encyclopedia of Film Composers will be of interest to fans of cinema in general as well as those who want to learn more about the many talented individuals who have created memorable scores

, On the Waterfront Joanna E. Rapf, 2003-06-30 Table of contents Hollywood Film Music Miguel Ángel Pérez Pérez, 2004 Hollywood Theory, Non-Hollywood Practice Annette Davison, 2017-07-05 Relatively little has been written about film scores and soundtracks outside of Hollywood cinema Hollywood Theory Non Hollywood Practice addresses this gap by looking at the practices of film soundtrack composition for non Hollywood films made after 1980 Annette Davison argues that since the mid 1970s the model of the classical Hollywood score has functioned as a form of dominant ideology in relation to which alternative scoring and soundtrack practices may assert themselves The first part of the book explores some of the key theoretical issues and debates in film studies and film music studies The second part comprises a series of case studies of non Hollywood scores Starting with Jean Luc Godard's Pr m Carmen 1983 Davison argues that the film's score offers a deconstruction of the relationship between sound and image proposed by classical Hollywood film Derek Jarman's The Garden 1990 takes the debate a step further in its exploration of the possibility that a film's soundtrack may be liberated from slavery to the image track. Wings of Desire 1987 directed by Wim Wenders offers Davison believes a negotiation between classical and alternative scoring and soundtrack practices while David Lynch's Wild at Heart 1990 actually fully integrates scoring and soundtrack practices so that sounds and dialogue are used in musical ways. Seeking to stimulate debate about the aesthetics and interpretation of film scores and soundtracks in general, this book develops an important synthesis of film studies and musicology.

Elmer Bernstein, Film Composer Peter M. Bernstein, 2023-11-15. Consider this new book the standard Bernstein biography. Booklist Starred Review. A behind-the-scenes look at the life and music of legendary Hollywood composer Elmer Bernstein, the only person to be nominated for an Academy Award in every decade from the 1950s to the 2000s. Over a career spanning 54 years, he composed landmark scores in every available genre: epics, jazz, westerns, dramas, and comedies, and his credits read like a list of the greatest films of his time: The Ten Commandments, The Magnificent Seven, To Kill a Mockingbird, The Man With the Golden Arm, The Great Escape, Ghostbusters, to name just a few. This biography, written by Elmer's son Peter, interweaves exclusive interviews, oral histories, not otherwise available estate archival materials, and personal experiences. Elmer Bernstein lived a colorful life; he was a first-generation American, he was blacklisted, and he was a fearless advocate for film music, not afraid to take on anyone in pages of trade papers. The book looks at many of his landmark scores in depth, collaborations with various producers and directors, and his success in navigating the rough and tumble of Hollywood. There is much to his story: a cycle of struggle, success, frustration, failure, and reinvention repeated many times over his career, which connected the Old Hollywood with the modern era.

The Music of Counterculture Cinema Mathew J. Bartkowiak, Yuya Kiuchi, 2015-06-29. Films produced in late 1960s and early 1970s America, along with later films focusing on that period, continue to frame our understanding of the counterculture era. The popular and experimental music of the day is central to the counterculture narrative on film, from the utopian Monterey Pop 1968 to the disenchantment of Gimme Shelter 1970. But the musical side of the movement was not monolithic, and a study of contemporary film soundtracks reveals a great deal of complexity. The coinciding struggles to define collective and individual identities based on race, class, gender, and generation are well documented in the music of counterculture cinema.
