Breastfeeding and the Pursuit of Happiness Phyllis L.F. Rippey, 2021-10-15 Breastfeeding is a human bodily function that differs in practice across cultural and historical boundaries yet is framed as natural and morally virtuous Breastfeeding and the Pursuit of Happiness rejects the dichotomy of right versus wrong exploring the historical political and symbolic roots of this sacrosanct belief in breast is best from allusions to biblical milk and honey to contemporary claims of parenting and wellness experts Within disparate contexts such as medieval Europe eighteenth century France contemporary Indonesia and the mommy blogosphere Phyllis Rippey finds that infant feeding prescriptions often serve the interests of the powerful rather than meeting the needs of women infants and families Upending some of our most cherished beliefs about the maternal breast Rippey reveals the ways historical and contemporary debates over breast versus bottle feeding distract from the underlying issues of poverty environmental destruction and violence against women Rippey balances science based and historical analysis with the stories of lesbian mothers and trans fathers Black and White breastfeeding advocates and Indonesian mothers among other mothers who express feelings of empowerment pleasure pain and moral failure At turns witty heartbreaking and intellectually compelling Breastfeeding and the Pursuit of Happiness draws on Hannah Arendt Black feminist thought affect theory the ethics of care and theories of political humility to offer a new framework for valuing and affirming the human power of giving and receiving care including through the breast Mother's Embrace:
