Sonia Delaunay Rhythms And Colours:

Sonia Delaunay Jacques Damase, 1972 Visions of the Human Tom Slevin, 2015-05-28 In what ways do the artistic avant garde's representations of the human body reflect the catastrophe of World War I? The European modernists were inspired by developments in the nineteenth century yielding new forms of knowledge about the nature of reality and repositioning the human body as the new object of knowledge. New visions of the human subject were created within this transformation. However, modernity's reactionary political climate for which World War I provided a catalyst transformed a once liberal ideal between humanity, environment and technology into a tool of disciplinary rationalisation. Visions of the Human considers the consequences of this historical moment for the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. It explores the ways in which the technologies of the self that inspired the avant garde were increasingly instrumentalised by conservative politics, urbanism, consumer capitalism and the society of the spectacle. This is an engaging and powerful study which challenges prior ideas and explores new ways of thinking about modern visual culture. Sonia Delaunay Axel Madsen, 2015-03-17 Sonia Delaunay, wife of painter Robert Delaunay and co-founder of the Orphist school in 1910, was the center of a brilliant circle in Paris. Madsen offers a rich and compelling look at this fascinating and influential woman, the first living female artist to have a retrospective show at the Louvre. Cultures of Colour Chris Horrocks, 2012 Colour permeates contemporary visual and material culture and affects our senses beyond the superficial encounter by infiltrating our perceptions and memories and becoming deeply rooted in thought processes that categorise and divide along culturally constructed lines. Colour exists as a cultural as well as psycho-physical phenomenon and acquires a multitude of meanings within differing historical and cultural contexts. The contributors examine how colour becomes imbued with specific symbolic and material meanings that tint our constructions of race, gender, ideal bodies, the relationship of the self to others and of the self to technology and the built environment. By highlighting the relationship of colour across media and material culture, this volume reveals the complex interplay of cultural connotations, discursive practices and socio-psychological dynamics of colour in an international context. The ^A Philosophy of Rhythm Peter Cheyne, Andy Hamilton, Max Paddison, 2019-10-30 With original essays by philosophers, psychologists, musicians, literary critics and ethno-musicologists, The Philosophy of Rhythm offers a broad perspective on rhythm, the fundamental pulse that animates music, dance and poetry across all cultures. Painting and Sculpture in Europe, 1880-1940 George Heard Hamilton, 1993-01-01 This new edition of a book that offers the best available grounding in its huge subject, as the Sunday Times called it, includes color plates and a revised and expanded bibliography. Professor Hamilton traces the origins and growth of modern art, assessing the intrinsic qualities of individual works and describing the social forces in play. The result is an authoritative guide through the forest of artistic

Resisting Abstraction Gordon Hughes, 2014-11-25 Robert Delaunay was one of the leading artists working in Paris in the early decades of the twentieth century and his paintings have been admired ever since as among the earliest purely abstract works With Resisting Abstraction the first English language study of Delaunay in more than thirty years Gordon Hughes mounts a powerful argument that Delaunay was not only one of the earliest artists to tackle abstraction but the only artist to present his abstraction as a response to new scientific theories of vision The colorful optically driven canvases that Delaunay produced Hughes shows set him apart from the more ethereal abstraction of contemporaries like Kandinsky Mondrian Kazimir Malevich and František Kupka In fact Delaunay emphatically rejected the spiritual motivations and idealism of that group rooting his work instead in contemporary science and optics Thus he set the stage not only for the modern artists who would follow but for the critics who celebrated them as well
