The Same Solitude Catherine Ciepiela, 2018-09-05 Still we have the same solitude the same journeys and searching and the same favorite turns in the labyrinth of literature and history Boris Pasternak to Marina Tsvetaeva One of the most compelling episodes of twentieth century Russian literature involves the epistolary romance that blossomed between the modernist poets Marina Tsvetaeva and Boris Pasternak in the 1920s Only weeks after Tsvetaeva emigrated from Russia in 1922 Pasternak discovered her poetry and sent her a letter of praise and admiration Tsvetaeva's enthusiastic response began a decade long affair conducted entirely through letters This correspondence written across the widening divide separating Soviet Russia from Russian migrants in continental Europe offers a view into the overlapping worlds of literary creativity sexual identity and political affiliation Following both sides of their conversation Catherine Ciepiela charts the poets changing relations to each other to the extraordinary political events of the period and to literature itself The Same Solitude presents the first full account of this affair of letters and poems from its beginning in the summer of 1922 to its denouement in the 1930s Drawing on many previously untranslated letters and poems Ciepiela describes the poets mutual influence both in the course of their lives and the development of their art Neither poet saw any separation between a poet's life and work and Ciepiela treats each poet's letters and poems as a single text She discusses the poets famous triangular correspondence with Rainer Maria Rilke in 1926 and she addresses the profound significance of Tsvetaeva for Pasternak who is often perceived mistakenly Ciepiela asserts as the more detached partner Further this book expands our understanding of poetic modernism by showing how the poets worked through ideas about gender and writing in the context of what they themselves called a literary marriage

Literary Biographies in The Lives of Remarkable People Series in Russia, Ludmilla A. Trigos, Carol Ueland, 2022-03-14 The legendary Russian biography

series The Lives of Remarkable People has played a significant role in Russian culture from its inception in 1890 until today. The longest running biography series in world literature it spans three centuries and widely divergent political and cultural epochs: Imperial Soviet and Post Soviet Russia. The authors argue that the treatment of biographical figures in the series is a case study for continuities and changes in Russian national identity over time. Biography in Russia and elsewhere remains a most influential literary genre and the distinctive approach and branding of the series has made it the economic engine of its publisher Molodaia gvardiia. The centrality of biographies of major literary figures in the series reflects their heightened importance in Russian culture. The contributors examine the ways that biographies of Russia's foremost writers shaped the literary canon while mirroring the political and social realities of both the subjects and their biographers' times. Starting with Alexander Pushkin and ending with Joseph Brodsky, the authors analyze the interplay of research and imagination in biographical narrative, the changing perceptions of what constitutes literary greatness and the subversive possibilities of biography during eras of political censorship.
