Inventing the New Negro Daphne Lamothe, 2013-03-01 It is no coincidence Daphne Lamothe writes that so many black writers and intellectuals of the first half of the twentieth century either trained formally as ethnographers or worked as amateur collectors of folklore and folk culture In Inventing the New Negro Lamothe explores the process by which key figures such as Zora Neale Hurston Katherine Dunham W E B Du Bois James Weldon Johnson and Sterling Brown adapted ethnography and folklore in their narratives to create a cohesive collective and modern black identity Lamothe explores how these figures assumed the roles of self reflective translators and explicators of African American and African diasporic cultures to Western largely white audiences Lamothe argues that New

Negro writers ultimately shifted the presuppositions of both literary modernism and modernist anthropology by making their narratives as much about ways of understanding as they were about any quest for objective knowledge In critiquing the ethnographic framework within which they worked they confronted the classist racist and cultural biases of the dominant society and challenged their readers to imagine a different set of relations between the powerful and the oppressed Inventing the New Negro combines an intellectual history of one of the most important eras of African American letters with nuanced and original readings of seminal works of literature It will be of interest not only to Harlem Renaissance scholars but to anyone who is interested in the intersections of culture literature folklore and ethnography Citizen of the World Phillip Luke Sinitiere,2019-08-15 In his 1952 book In Battle for Peace published when W E B Du Bois was eighty three years old the brilliant black scholar announced that he was a citizen of the world Citizen of the World chronicles selected chapters of Du Bois s final three decades between the 1930s and 1960s It maps his extraordinarily active and productive latter years to social cultural and political transformations across the globe From his birth in 1868 until his death in 1963 Du Bois sought the liberation of black people in the United States and across the world through intellectual and political labor His tireless efforts documented and demonstrated connections between freedom for African descended people abroad and black freedom at home In concert with growing scholarship on his twilight years the essays in this volume assert the fundamental importance of considering Du Bois s later decades not as a life in decline that descended into blind ideological allegiance to socialism and communism but as the life of a productive generative intellectual who responded rationally imaginatively and radically to massive mid century changes around the world and who remained committed to freedom s realization until his final hour W.E.B. Du Bois Gerald Horne,2009-11-12 This biography of W E B Du Bois gives full measure to his entire life including his controversial final decades This revealing biography captures the full life of W E B Du Bois historian sociologist author editor a leader in the fight to bring African Americans more fully into the American landscape as well as forceful proponent of them leaving America altogether and returning to Africa Drawing on extensive research Gerald Horne a leading authority on Du Bois and a versatile and prolific scholar in his own right offers a fully rounded portrait of this accomplished and controversial figure including the often overlooked final decades without which no portrait of Du Bois could be complete The book also highlights Du Bois s relationships with and influence upon other leading civil rights activists both during and subsequent to his extraordinarily long life including Booker T Washington Frederick Douglas Marcus Garvey Martin Luther King Malcolm X and Jesse Jackson Photography on the Color Line Shawn Michelle Smith,2004-06-07 An exploration of the visual meaning of the color line and racial politics through the analysis of archival photographs collected by W E B Du Bois and exhibited at the Paris Exposition of 1900 Classical and Contemporary Sociological Theory Scott Appelrouth,Laura Desfor Edles,2020-08-13 Classical and Contemporary Sociological Theory Text and Readings provides students with the best of both worlds carefully edited excerpts from the original works of sociology s key thinkers accompanied by an analytical framework that discusses the lives ideas and historical circumstances of each theorist This unique format enables students to examine compare and contrast each theorist s major themes and concepts

Sounding the Break Jason Frydman, 2014-04-03 The idea of world literature has served as a crucial though underappreciated interlocutor for African diasporic writers informing their involvement in processes of circulation translation and revision that have been identified as the hallmarks of the contemporary era of world literature Yet in spite of their participation in world systems before and after European hegemony Africa and the African diaspora have been excluded from the networks and archives of world literature In Sounding the Break Jason Frydman attempts to redress this exclusion by drawing on historiography ethnography and archival sources to show how writers such as W E B Du Bois Zora Neale Hurston Alejo Carpentier Derek Walcott Maryse Condé and Toni Morrison have complicated both Eurocentric and Afrocentric categories of literary and cultural production Through their engagement with and revision of the European world literature discourse he contends these writers conjure a deep history of literary traffic whose expressions are always already cosmopolitan embedded in the long histories of cultural and economic exchange between Africa Asia and Europe It is precisely the New World American location of these writers Frydman concludes that makes possible this revisionary perspective on the idea of Old World literature Belief Aaron Z. Zimmerman, 2018-04-12 Have you ever called yourself a pragmatist Have you ever wondered what that means Aaron Zimmerman traces the origins of pragmatism to a theory of belief defended by the nineteenth century Scottish philosopher Alexander Bain and defends a novel take on the pragmatic theory in light of contemporary cognitive neuroscience social psychology and evolutionary biology Pragmatists define their beliefs in terms of information poised to guide our more attentive controlled actions Zimmerman describes the consequences of this definition for the reader's thinking on the relation between psychology and philosophy the mind and brain the nature of delusion faith pretence racism and more He employs research on animal cognition to argue against the propositional attitude analysis of belief now popular among Anglo-American philosophers offers pragmatic diagnoses of Capgras syndrome and various forms of racial cognition and defends William James' famous doctrine of the will to believe Zimmerman believes we often have room to believe what we want Indeed the adoption of a theory of belief is an instance of this very phenomenon
