Social And Emotional Adjustment And Family Relations In Ethnic Minority Families:

Social and Emotional Adjustment and Family Relations in Ethnic Minority Families Ronald D. Taylor, Margaret C. Wang, Margaret C Wang, 2013-11-26 This collection of essays addresses issues related to the intersection of family relationships and several contexts for the social and emotional development of ethnic minority adolescents The papers are organized in sections under subtitles which reflect three contextual frames through which these issues may be examined The first section focuses on the relationship between economic factors and resources on the one hand and family relations as environments for development on the other The next part focuses on family and peer networks and relations as contexts for the emotional and social development of adolescents The last section takes neighborhood and school as contexts for and determinants of social and emotional adjustment in adolescence Like much of the extant work and current thought concerning development in ethnic minority children and adolescents the authors have highlighted the more stressful and negative aspects of these several contexts There are a few explicit and several implicit references made to supportive and more positive contexts and manifestations of relationships which frame the developmental experiences of ethnic minority adolescents These serve as a reminder that many ethnic minority adolescents do overcome the odds against success and grow into healthy and wholesome adults However in large measure this book is a contribution to our understanding of the problematic circumstances under which a significant segment of the population exists reminding us that life for ethnic minority adolescents is difficult The fact that some of these young people manage to overcome the negative and stressful aspects of their experiences and defy the implicit prediction of failure to thrive is truly remarkable Handbook of Bowen Family Systems Theory and Research Methods Mignonette N. Keller, Robert J. Noone, 2019-12-18 The Handbook of Bowen Family Systems Theory and Research Methods presents innovative approaches on a range of issues inherent in family research and discusses the links between theory data collection and data analysis based on Bowen family systems theory This multi authored volume discusses core issues within family systems theory including anxiety stress emotional cutoff differentiation of self multigenerational transmission process and nuclear family emotional process Chapters also examine related constructs in the research literature such as adaptation resilience social support social networks and intergenerational family relations Readers will be able to view theoretical and methodological issues from the perspective of Bowen theory and develop a clearer knowledge of ways to navigate the challenges faced when studying individual familial and societal problems An essential resource for clinicians and researchers in the social and natural sciences the Handbook of Bowen Family Systems Theory and Research Methods provides a comprehensive framework for understanding the application of Bowen theory to family practice and family research Asian American Parenting and Parent-Adolescent Relationships Stephen T. Russell, Lisa J. Crockett, Ruth K. Chao, 2010-06-25 The relationships between children and their parents are the building blocks for family relationships throughout life The nature of the parent child relationship begins with parenting the practices and strategies that parents engage in as they raise their children Parenting during childhood sets the stage for parent adolescent relationships These relationships make a critical difference during the teenage years we know that when parent adolescent relationships are healthy and strong adolescents are more likely to have high aspirations and achievement and to make healthier choices when it comes to risk taking Most of the research in this field has been based in the United States and has been conducted through studies of European American families Yet a growing body of research suggests important ethnic differences in styles of parenting and the qualities characterizing the parent adolescent relationship In this area of research most existing studies have examined ethnic and cultural group differences using widely accepted measures and concepts of parenting Comparative studies assume that dimensions of parenting such as parental warmth or control have the same meaning across cultures however given that conceptualizations of adolescent parent relationships have been developed and tested on samples comprised largely of European Americans we cannot rule out the possibility that the way we understand parenting has been shaped by the predominantly Western and U S focused research in this field

Discovering Successful Pathways in Children's Development Thomas S. Weisner, 2005-02-15 Discovering Successful Pathways in Children's Development provides a new perspective on the study of childhood and family life Successful development is enhanced when communities provide meaningful life pathways that children can seek out and engage Successful pathways include both a culturally valued direction for development and competence in skills that matter for a child's subsequent success as a person as well as a student parent worker or citizen To understand successful pathways requires a mix of qualitative quantitative and ethnographic methods the state of the art for research practice among developmentalists educators and policymakers alike This volume includes new studies of minority and immigrant families school achievement culture race and gender poverty identity and experiments and interventions meant to improve family and child contexts Discovering Successful Pathways in Children's Development will be of enormous value to everyone interested in the issues of human development education and social welfare and among professionals charged with the task of improving the lives of children in our communities

Socioeconomic Status, Parenting, and Child Development Marc H. Bornstein, Robert H. Bradley, 2014-04-04 This volume presents cutting edge thinking research on linkages among SES parenting child development The authors represent an array of different disciplines they approach the issues of SES parenting child dev from a variety of perspectives

On New Shores Susan S. Chuang, Robert P. Moreno, 2008-01-01 On New Shores focuses on immigrant fathers in North America and provides readers with a richer and more comprehensive approach to how researchers practitioners and social policymakers can examine immigrant fathering among ethnic minority families The chapters focus on the various methodological advances used to explicitly investigate immigrant fathers

The Colors of Poverty Ann Chih Lin, David R. Harris, 2008-08-14 Given the increasing diversity of the nation particularly with respect to its growing Hispanic and Asian populations why does racial and ethnic difference so often lead to disadvantage In

The Colors of Poverty a multidisciplinary group of experts provides a breakthrough analysis of the complex mechanisms that connect poverty and race The Colors of Poverty reframes the debate over the causes of minority poverty by emphasizing the cumulative effects of disadvantage in perpetuating poverty across generations The contributors consider a kaleidoscope of factors that contribute to widening racial gaps including education racial discrimination social capital immigration and incarceration Mich le Lamont and Mario Small grapple with the theoretical ambiguities of existing cultural explanations for poverty disparities They argue that culture and structure are not competing explanations for poverty but rather collaborate to produce disparities Looking at how attitudes and beliefs exacerbate racial stratification social psychologist Heather Bullock links the rise of inequality in the United States to an increase in public tolerance for disparity She suggests that the American ethos of rugged individualism and meritocracy erodes support for antipoverty programs and reinforces the belief that people are responsible for their own poverty Sociologists Darren Wheelock and Christopher Uggen focus on the collateral consequences of incarceration in exacerbating racial disparities and are the first to propose a link between legislation that blocks former drug felons from obtaining federal aid for higher education and the black white educational attainment gap Joe Soss and Sanford Schram argue that the increasingly decentralized and discretionary nature of state welfare programs allows for different treatment of racial groups even when such policies are touted as race neutral They find that states with more blacks and Hispanics on welfare rolls are consistently more likely to impose lifetime limits caps on benefits for mothers with children and stricter sanctions The Colors of Poverty is a comprehensive and evocative introduction to the dynamics of race and inequality The research in this landmark volume moves scholarship on inequality beyond a simple black white paradigm beyond the search for a single cause of poverty and beyond the promise of one magic bullet solution A Volume in the National Poverty Center Series on Poverty and Public Policy

Undercurrents of Divorce Shelley Day Sclater,Christine Piper,2019-07-12 Published in 1999 Despite considerable comment about divorce reform and the post divorce family in the press and in academia by professionals and politicians much has been left unsaid There are undercurrents of divorce which are not visible and are not discussed because they do not fit into the dominant discursive framework for talk about divorce This book brings these undercurrents to the surface and does two things It explains how and why aspects of divorce and the lives of those divorcing have become marginalized in professional and political discussion and it makes visible the practical and legal effects of such exclusion It argues that there are good policy reasons for this particular socio legal critique at this time as the implementation of the Family Law Act 1996 gets underway

Race and Family Roberta L. Coles,2006 The author provided interesting original examples which I found engaging I think the biggest strength is avoiding the one ethnicity per chapter approach found in so many books on family diversity I like the structural approach Hilary A Rose Concordia University A very useful book as a companion text for courses on race and ethnicity The chapters are easy to follow for undergraduate students Renxin Yang Northern Michigan University I think the book is needed

because there are limited choices currently available and this book is moving in the right direction A strength is that it is not an edited book like so many other books on this topic There is a need for detailed study of ethnic minority families and I am excited about making this book my required text for my Ethnic Families Course Cheryl Burgan Evans Miami University I find the emphasis on social structure particularly appealing To date I have used Taylor s edited book which depends on the instructor to provide all of the integration Gretchen Cornwell Pennsylvania State University In Race and Family A Structural Approach author Roberta L Coles looks at ethnic minority families in a novel way through a structural lens Unlike many texts on race and family this book offers an approach that illustrates overarching structural factors affecting all families as opposed to examining each ethnicity in isolation from one another By focusing on various structural factors such as demographic economic and historical aspects this book analyzes various family trends in a cross cutting manner to exemplify the similarities and distinctions among all racial and ethnic groups Key Features Establishes commonalities and differences across various cultures within American society in an approach that enables students to better compare and contrast different ethnic groups Covers multiracial families in addition to traditional ethnic groups such as African American Native American Latino American and Asian American to provide the most contemporary examination of American families Uses the latest research and Census data to present a relevant assessment of trends in family structure gender relations intergenerational relations family violence acculturation interracial marriage and adoption in an increasingly diverse American context Includes an annotated listing of suggested videos autobiographies articles and Web sites students can explore for further information Race and Family is a brief core textbook designed for advanced undergraduate and graduate students studying ethnic minority families and family diversity in the departments of Human Development Family Studies Family Consumer Sciences and Sociology

Nationality and Ethnicity in an Israeli School Dalya Yafa Markovich, 2019-07-31

Nationality and Ethnicity in an Israeli School A Case Study of Jewish Arab Students explores the intersection of ethnicity nationality and social structure which is experienced through schooling and its effects on the performance of disadvantaged students The book sheds light on the ramifications of the multilayered ethnic class identities and explores the role of nationality in the reproduction of a depoliticized ethnic hierarchy in school and society It offers an ethnographic case study of one Israeli high school that adopted critical pedagogy in order to empower underprivileged students that belonged to second and third generation of immigrant Jews from Arab countries It also analyses the ways in which educational gaps are reproduced through the dominant national culture and identity and discusses the educational consequences of multiethnic school settings The book will appeal to students researchers and academics in the fields of sociology of education education policy peace education Israeli studies and critical pedagogy studies

Asian and Pacific Islander Americans Daya Singh Sandhu, 1999 Scholars of psychology education social work and counseling examine such topics as transracial adoption women s issues substance abuse and the racial experiences of 43 different ethnic groups often statistically lumped together

Among the specific topics are Asian Indian women's bicultural experience political ethnic identity versus cultural ethnic identity ethnic variations in the adaptation of recent immigrant Asian adolescents regarding and sexual abuse Parenting George W. Holden, 2019-12-19 George Holden embraces the idea that parenting is a dynamic process children affect parents just as much as parents affect children A multi level ecological approach to parenting and childrearing allows a full range of parenting styles covering topics from co parenting evolutionary views human behavioral genetics to religious influences and addressing challenges to be encountered across parenting courses such as family violence behavior problems and the role of pathology in the family Completely updated in a new third edition Parenting A Dynamic Process presents research in a way that is accessible and interesting but also accurate current and intellectually rich Although written from a psychological perspective views and applications from other disciplines including sociology criminology anthropology and pediatrics are also discussed where appropriate The text discusses contemporary issues such as fertility problems daycare marital conflict whether or not to use physical punishment divorce remarriage and step parents gay parents the effects of poverty risks and benefits of media use among children and family violence Additionally Holden includes selected studies from developing and non western countries as well as recent statistics on such topics as US world birthrate birth problems adolescent pregnancy child injury divorce and remarriage child maltreatment and certain social policy issues Teenage Citizens Constance A. Flanagan, 2013-02-14 Too young to vote or pay taxes teenagers are off the radar of political scientists Yet civic identities form during adolescence and are rooted in experiences as members of families schools and community organizations Flanagan helps us understand how young people come to envisage civic engagement and how their political identities take form

The Handbook of Ethical Research with Ethnocultural Populations and Communities Joseph E. Trimble, Celia B. Fisher, 2005-08-11 What steps can be taken to incorporate a cultural perspective to the evaluation of research risks and benefits How can investigators develop and implement respectful informed consent procedures in diverse cultural and language communities What are ethical pitfalls and successful approaches to engaging in community and participant consultation The Handbook of Ethical Research With Ethnocultural Populations and Communities edited by Joseph E Trimble and Celia B Fisher addresses these and other key questions in the first major work to focus specifically on ethical issues involving work with ethnocultural populations Filling gaps and questions left unanswered by general rules of scientific conduct such as those embodied in federal regulations and professional codes this Handbook will help guide ethical decision making for social and behavioral science research with multicultural groups for years to come Key Features Brings together for the first time a multidisciplinary blend of national leaders who specialize in the area of conducting research with ethnocultural populations Addresses existing issues at methodological procedural and conceptual levels for the responsible conduct of research in the field Incorporates as background a summary of leading research and scholarship on various topics framed within the authors personal successes challenges and failures in the dynamic process of creating a multicultural
