Techno Nationalism And Techno Globalism Conflict And Cooperation:

Techno-nationalism and Techno-globalism Sylvia Ostry, Richard R. Nelson, 1995-01-01 Because governments increasingly believe that long term wealth creation depends on superior technical skills they are inclined to provide direct or indirect assistance to potential technological winners This raises the risk of trade and subsidy wars Techno-Nationalism and Techno-Globalism Sylvia Ostry, Richard R. Nelson, 2000-07-26 We should be grateful to Ostry and Nelson for giving clarity and balance to interrelated subjects too often dominated by passion and muddle Keith Pavitt University of Sussex Sylvia Ostry is chair of the Centre for International Studies University of Toronto Richard R Nelson is professor of international and public affairs business and law at Columbia University This work is part of the Integrating National Economies series As global markets for goods services and financial assets have become increasingly integrated national governments no longer have as much control over economic markets With the completion of the Uruguay Round of the GATT talks the world economy has entered a fresh phase requiring different rules and different levels of international cooperation Policies once thought to be entirely domestic and appropriately determined by national political institutions are now subject to international constraints Cogent analysis of this deeper integration of the world economy and guidelines for government policies are urgent priorities This series aims to meet these needs over a range of 21 books by some of the world's leading economists political scientists foreign policy specialists and government officials Book Review of Ostry, Sylvia ... : Techno-nationalism and Techno-globalism: Conflict and Cooperation, Washington, DC, Brookings Inst., 1995 Henning Klodt, 1996 Conflict and Cooperation in National Competition for High-Technology Industry National Research Council, Kiel Institute for World Economics, Hamburg Institute for Economic Research, Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy, 1996-10-15 This unique volume contains a powerful set of recommendations on issues at the center of international discussions on investment trade and technology policy They take into account the globalization of industrial activity and the special characteristics of high technology industries while recognizing the continued policy role of national governments The book identifies the rationale for promotional measures for high technology industries delineates sources of friction among the leading industrial countries and proposes policies to enhance international cooperation and strengthen the multilateral trading regime This volume also examines the factors driving collaboration among otherwise competing firms and national programs highlights the need to develop principles of equitable public and private international cooperation and emphasizes the linkage between investment government procurement and other trade policies and prospects for enhanced international cooperation Globalization and Economic Nationalism in Asia Anthony P. D'Costa, 2012-06-14 This collection documents the different ways in which Asian governments have been pursuing economic nationalism even as they have been integrating with the world economy The book challenges the popular view that with globalization either the role of the state becomes redundant or that states are unable to purposefully intervene in the economy The book argues that since most states pursue national interests which largely include economic development they work with national business and often intervene on their behalf to create internationally competitive industries States are thus viewed as integral to capitalist development and economic nationalism is neither theoretically nor empirically redundant Contributors from Asia and elsewhere present wide ranging arguments and evidence to counter the view that with globalization economic nationalism is pass Instead they demonstrate that states in Asia are active in shaping trade investment technological industrial and financial outcomes Using interdisciplinary social science approaches that are also historically sensitive this book critically assesses why and how states in select Asian countries continue to intervene in the economy in both familiar and novel ways Countries covered include India China South Korea Singapore Japan and the East Asian region as a whole Together they illustrate why these states practice economic nationalism even as they enthusiastically embrace the generalized process of globalization through domestic reforms and liberalization

American Technology Policy J. D. Kenneth Boutin, 2013 Balancing the requirements of national security and economic competitiveness

European Integration and Global Corporate Strategies François Chesnais, Grazia Ietto-Gillies, Roberto Simonetti, 2003-09-02 This innovative book explores the links between the options of world wide globalisation and European integration which are open to today s corporations A European board of contributors highlight whether there are conflicts or unanimity between the two

Modern Trends Surrounding Information Technology Standards and Standardization within Organizations Jakobs, Kai, 2014-07-31 In fields as diverse as research and development governance and international trade success depends on effective communication However limited research exists on how professionals can express themselves consistently across disciplines Modern Trends Surrounding Information Technology Standards and Standardization within Organizations showcases the far ranging economic and societal ramifications incited by technical standardization between individuals organizations disciplines and nations This publication serves as a valuable model for inter disciplinary scholars IT researchers and professionals interested in the link between technology and social change in an increasingly networked and interconnected global society

Business Schools post-Covid-19 Andreas Kaplan, 2023-06-07 It all began when the world s first business school the European School of Commerce Paris ESCP was established in 1819 Criticism notwithstanding business schools have since continued their path in higher education without facing existential metamorphoses Covid 19 however has accelerated business schools digital transformation calling into question the concept of business school itself Business schools are in a new competitive landscape and profound structural changes seem inevitable This concise text offers insights into how business schools should rethink their approach to management education differentiate themselves from new players in the higher education market and find innovative ways of doing things The book is a survival toolkit for leadership teams across the world It examines the rationale of business school and how it has evolved The purpose of research is explained and the teaching of management is explored Kaplan analyzes the current business model in the digital environment He looks at the business of accreditations and rankings and branding and community building as strategies to address competition The book concludes by looking at change leadership at business schools It will interest both leaders of established academic institutions and alternative educational providers from edtech and big tech planning to enter the management education market

Rising to the Challenge National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy, Committee on Comparative National Innovation Policies: Best Practice for the 21st Century, 2012-08-06

America's position as the source of much of the world's global innovation has been the foundation of its economic vitality and military power in the post war No longer is U S pre eminence assured as a place to turn laboratory discoveries into new commercial products companies industries and high paying jobs As the pillars of the U S innovation system erode through wavering financial and policy support the rest of the world is racing to improve its capacity to generate new technologies and products attract and grow existing industries and build positions in the high technology industries of tomorrow

Rising to the Challenge U S Innovation Policy for Global Economy emphasizes the importance of sustaining global leadership in the commercialization of innovation which is vital to America's security its role as a world power and the welfare of its people The second decade of the 21st century is witnessing the rise of a global competition that is based on innovative advantage To this end both advanced as well as emerging nations are developing and pursuing policies and programs that are in many cases less constrained by ideological limitations on the role of government and the concept of free market economics The rapid transformation of the global innovation landscape presents tremendous challenges as well as important opportunities for the United States This report argues that far more vigorous attention be paid to capturing the outputs of innovation the commercial products the industries and particularly high quality jobs to restore full employment America's economic and national security future depends on our succeeding in this endeavor
