significance of Howard's work as an Irish comic and satirical writer. Addressing both the style and the substance of his work, this text locates him in a tradition of Irish satirical writing that dates back to the Gaelic bards and it includes writers like Swift, Wilde, Flann O'Brien and Joyce. Through textual and contextual analysis, this book makes the case for Howard as a significant and original voice in Irish writing whose fusion of the three traditional types of satire: Horatian, Juvenalian and Menippean, has created a parallel Ireland that shines a satirical light on its real counterpart. As Freud suggests, humour is a way of accessing aspects of the psyche that normative discourses cannot enunciate, and Howard, through the confessional voice of Ross, offers a fictive truth on 20 years of Irish society, a truth that is not accessed by discourse in the public sphere or by what could be termed literary or high cultural fiction.

Intersections of Sport and Society in Creative Writing Lee McGowan, Kasey Symons, 2023-11-18. This edited collection is positioned at the nexus of sports, society and creative writing. In its explorations of the intersections of sports writing, analysis of literary contributions and examinations of craft, it offers rare consideration of a rich diversity of form in narratives that occur in and as creative practice. Included in the collection are dynamic academic investigations into football writing and poetry focused on community sporting activities in Afghanistan to those addressing the intersections of writing and boxing in the reflexive reclamation of the post-trauma self, the absence of women in the rodeo and who and what is represented in our sports shelves. This book breaks new ground in approaches to sport's role in creative writing and what creative writing can provide in furthering our understanding of sport in society. The works in this edited book draw on a diverse range of methods to interrogate the processes, concepts and liminal spaces through an intersectional array of voices, offering analysis and insight into the application of creative writing knowledge and practice in relation to sport and its impact on wider discipline discussion and research. It is relevant to students and scholars studying and researching creative writing, sports writing, sports studies, cultural studies and sports media studies.

Ireland and Cinema Barry Monahan, 2015-08-25. The volume offers a broad range of academic approaches to contemporary and historical Irish filmmaking and representations of nationality, national identity and theoretical questions around the construction of Ireland and Irishness on the screen.

Passages Maria Beville, Marita Ryan, Maeve Tynan, 2020-07-13. The multiplicity of interpretations available in the word passages is engaged with in this collection of essays that perceptively navigate the ideas of literal and metaphorical crossings, sites of liminality and interstitial zones, the traversal of boundaries and the complex notion of rites and rights of passage. This passage's topic is elucidated through discussions on writers as diverse as James Joyce and the Palestinian poet Tawfiq Saghieh and genres that include the novel, short story, poetry and drama. The diversity of texts is matched by a diversity of theoretical readings that stimulate debate around central ideas such as how are old texts revisited and reimagined in the context of new theories? How do contemporary texts reappropriate the past to critically appraise the present? How is identity renegotiated in cross-cultural texts and in translations? The combination of close textual readings with broader philosophical and cultural deliberations allows for a vigorous examination of texts and theories The authors in capturing the cultural moment of their work while acknowledging the ongoing movement of the texts and theory allow the reader to both contextualise the work and recognise the creative evolution of ideas that are simultaneously at play Academically orientated this collection is essential reading for anyone interested in changing theoretical ideas and how they are re invigorating a reading of literature It will be of interest especially to students and scholars of English literature philosophy and cultural studies Its close textual analysis and multiple perspectives will also make it a very useful classroom text in the aforementioned areas The Undecidable Clare Gorman, 2015-09-18 This book offers a detailed engagement between the French philosopher Jacques Derrida and the contemporary Irish author Paul Howard aka Ross O Carroll Kelly The book offers insightful analyses of Derrida's deconstructive theory with all its concepts non concepts and neologisms thus showing how they can be used in order to provide a critique of the socio linguistic realm of Howard's fictional series Through his work Howard set in ink a depiction of Ireland and specifically Dublin throughout the Celtic Tiger era and its aftermath The book promotes a dialogue between Derrida and Howard in order to cultivate a succinct and accessible overview of critical theory
